Harris, 1996 As Africans and descendants of slaves have sought to expand an understanding of their history focus on the African diaspora the global dispersal of a people and their culture has increased African studies have assumed a prominent place in historical scholarship and a growing number of non African scholars has helped revise a discipline established over several decades The six contributions in this volume were compiled as a result of the thirtieth Walter Prescott Webb Memorial Lecture held at the University of Texas at Arlington The contributors nationally recognized in the field represent a collaborative analysis of the African diaspora from African and non African perspectives Joseph E Harris discusses how the African diaspora influences the economies politics and social dynamics of both the homeland and the host country Alusine Jalloh reconstructs the mercantile activities of the Fula in colonial Sierra Leone Joseph E Inikori argues that slavery and serfdom in medieval Europe provide greater insights into precolonial Africa than do standard New World comparisons Colin A Palmer examines the power relationships that undergirded American slavery in order to better understand the enslaved Douglas B Chambers reveals the enduring influence of Africanisms in the historical development of Afro Virginian slave culture And Dale T Graden looks at African slavery in Salvador Bahia Brazil between 1848 and 1856 focusing on the Bahian elite and their response to slave resistance The African Diaspora in the Indian Ocean Shihan de S. Jayasuriya, Richard Pankhurst, 2003 Although much has been written about the African Diaspora in the Atlantic Ocean the Diaspora in the Indian Ocean is virtually unrecognised Concerned with Africans who lived south of the Sahara and were dispersed by free will or forcefully to the non African lands in the Indian Ocean region this book deals with a topic that has been overlooked for too long Eight scholars researching in distinct geographical areas and with interdisciplinary expertise offer a comprehensive and informative account of the Diaspora in the Indian Ocean New Frontiers in the Study of the Global African Diaspora Rita Kiki Edozie, Glenn A. Chambers, Tama Hamilton-Wray, 2018-10-01 This anthology presents a new study of the worldwide African diaspora by bringing together diverse multidisciplinary scholarship to address the connectedness of Black subject identities experiences issues themes and topics applying them dynamically to diverse locations of the Blackworld Latin America the Caribbean Africa and the United States The book underscores three dimensions of African diaspora study First is a global approach to the African diaspora showing how globalism underscores the distinctive role that Africa plays in contributing to world history Second is the extension of African diaspora study in a geographical scope to more robust inclusions of not only the African continent but also to uncharted paths and discoveries of lesser known diaspora experiences and identities in Latin America and the Caribbean Third is the illustration of universal unwritten cultural representations of humanities in the African diasporas that show the distinctive humanities disciplinary representations of Black diaspora imaginaries and subjectivities The contributing authors inductively apply these themes to focus the reader's attention on contemporary localized issues and historical arenas of the African diaspora They engage their findings to critically analyze the broader norms and dimensions that characterize a given set of interrelated criteria that have come to establish parameters that increasingly standardize African diaspora studies

Global Diasporas Robin Cohen, 2008-03-17 In a perceptive and arresting analysis Robin Cohen introduces his distinctive approach to the study of the world's diasporas This book investigates the changing meanings of the concept and the contemporary diasporic condition including case studies of Jewish Armenian African Chinese British Indian Lebanese and Caribbean people The first edition of this book had a major impact on diaspora studies and was the foundational text in an emerging research and teaching field This second edition extends and clarifies Robin Cohen's argument addresses some critiques and outlines new perspectives for the study of diasporas It has also been made more student friendly with illustrations guided readings and suggested essay questions

The Black Diaspora of the Americas Christine Chivallon, 2011 The forced migration of Africans to the Americas through the transatlantic slave trade created primary centres of settlement in the Caribbean Brazil and the United States the cornerstones of the New World and the black Americas However unlike Brazil and the US the Caribbean did not and still does not have the uniformity of a national framework Instead the region presents differing situations and social experiences born of the varying colonial systems from which they were developed Using the Caribbean experience as the focus Christine Chivallon examines the transatlantic slave trade and slavery as founding events in the identification of a black diaspora experience The exploration is extended to include the United States to exemplify contrasting situations in slavery based systems and identifies the links between the expressions of culture emanating from the black populations of the New World and the diversity of interpretations of the cultural identities of the black Americas Divided into three main parts The Black Diaspora of the Americas firstly examines the foundation of the black experiences of the New World by considering the slave trade The second part takes a more theoretical examination of black diaspora using Rastafarianism Garveyism and Pan Africanism while referencing the work of a range of thinkers including Stuart Hall Paul Gilroy Richard Price douard Glissant Melville Herskovits and Sidney Mintz The work is concluded in the third part with the proposition of an a centred community of persons of African descent a culture devoid of centrality The Black Diaspora of the Americas brings together the key arguments about creolisation and the concept of a black diaspora and presents an outstanding contribution to understanding the dynamics of diaspora routes that brought Africans and people of African descent into contact with one another and with Europe Asia and the Americas In joining these stories he shows how the waters of the Atlantic Ocean the Mediterranean Sea and the Indian Ocean fueled dynamic interactions among black communities and cultures and how these patterns resembled those of a number of connected diasporas concurrently taking shaping across the globe Manning begins in 1400 and traces the connections that enabled Africans to mutually identify and hold together as a global community He tracks discourses on race changes in economic circumstance the evolving character of family life and the growth of popular culture He underscores the profound influence that the African diaspora had on world history and demonstrates the inextricable link between black migration and the rise of modernity Inclusive and far reaching The African Diaspora proves that the advent of modernity cannot be fully understood without taking the African peoples and the African continent into account The Study of Africa Volume 2: Global and Transnational Engagements Paul Tiyambe Zeleza, 2006 This is the second of a two volume work taking stock of the study of Africa in the twenty first century its status research agenda and approaches and place It is divided into two parts the first entitled Globalisation Studies and African Studies and the second African Studies in Regional Contexts Topics addressed in part one include trans boundary formations and the study of Africa global economic liberalisation and development in Africa African diasporas academics and the struggle for a global epistemic presence and the problem of translation in African studies Part two considers African and area studies in France the US the UK Australia Germany and Sweden anti colonialism and Russian soviet African studies African studies in the Caribbean in historical perspective the teaching of African history and the history of Africa in Brazil African studies in India African studies and historiography in China in the twenty first century and African studies and contemporary scholarship in Japan The African Diaspora and the Disciplines Tejumola Olaniyan, James Hoke Sweet, 2010 Focusing on the problems and conflicts of doing African diaspora research from various disciplinary perspectives these essays situate describe and reflect on the current practice of diaspora scholarship Tejumola Olaniyan James H Sweet and the international group of contributors assembled here seek to enlarge understanding of how the diaspora is conceived and explore possibilities for the future of its study With the aim of initiating interdisciplinary dialogue on the practice of African diaspora studies they emphasize learning from new perspectives that take advantage of intersections between disciplines Ultimately they advocate a fuller sense of what it means to study the African diaspora in a truly global way African Diasporas in the New and Old Worlds, 2021-11-01 In the humanities the term diaspora recently emerged as a promising and powerful heuristic concept It challenged traditional ways of thinking and invited reconsiderations of theoretical assumptions about the unfolding of cross cultural and multi ethnic societies about power relations frontiers and boundaries about cultural transmission communication and translation The present collection of essays by renowned writers and scholars addresses these issues and helps to ground the ongoing debate about the African diaspora in a more solid theoretical framework Part I is dedicated to a general discussion of the concept of African diaspora its origins and historical development Part II examines the complex cultural dimensions of African diasporas in relation to significant sites and figures including the modes and modalities of creative expression from the perspective of both artists writers and their audiences finally Part III focusses on the resources collections and archives and iconographies that are available today As most authors argue the African diaspora should not be seen merely as a historical phenomenon but also as an idea or ideology and an object of representation By exploring this new ground the essays assembled here provide important new insights for scholars in American and African American Studies Cultural Studies Ethnic Studies and African Studies The collection is rounded off by an annotated listing of black autobiographies
