Redefining Heresy and Tolerance Hung Tak Wai, 2024-08-21 In Redefining Heresy and Tolerance Hung Tak Wai examines how the Qing empire governed Muslims and Christians under its rule with a non interventionist policy Manchu emperors adopted a tolerant attitude towards Islam and Christianity as long as political stability and loyalty remained unthreatened However Hung argues that such tolerance had its limitations Since the mid eighteenth century the Qing court intentionally minimised the importance of the Islamic identity Restrictions were imposed on the Muslims external connections with Western Asia The Christian minority was kept distant from politics and the Han majority At the same time Confucian scholars began to acquire a new understanding of religion but they were not encouraged to get in touch with the Muslims and Christians This book demonstrates how from the late eighteenth to the early nineteenth century the Qing government prevented Confucian scholar bureaucrats from interfering in the religious life of Christians and Muslims and how the Confucians understanding of religion was reshaped during the implementation of such policy in the period This book reveals that a different kind of religious tolerance had already emerged among Sinophone intellectuals before their contact with the West This book goes beyond the assumption of a homogeneous Han society and pays attention to the religious groups that emerged after the seventeenth century which differed from or even contradicted Confucianism and other Chinese religions and it is concerned with how such alien communities influenced the development of Confucianism itself

Wang Fan sen Academia Sinica This book significantly enriches our comprehension of how early modern Confucians as adherents of a state public religion engaged with Abrahamic religions By delving into the dynamics of interreligious interaction Redefining Heresy and Tolerance sheds new light on the encounters between Confucianism and the Abrahamic faiths offering fresh insights into the complex religious landscape of Asian culture Huang Chin shing Academia Sinica
