The Core-Periphery Divide in the European Union Rudy Weissenbacher, 2020-01-29 This book revisits the forgotten history of the European Dependency School in the 1970s and 1980s explores core periphery relations in the European integration process and the crises of the contemporary European Union from a dependency perspective and draws lessons for alternative development paths Was disintegration of the European Union foretold With the benefit of hindsight the critical analysis of the European integration process by researchers from the European Dependency School is most timely The current framework of the European Union seems to be haunted by issues that had been very familiar to the researchers of the European Dependency School such as a lack of a common and balanced industrial policy How do the situations compare What lessons can be learnt for alternative development policies in contemporary Europe Weissenbacher tackles these issues which are of relevance to all interested in political economy political science development studies and regional development
Dar Al Islam--the Mediterranean, the World System, and the Wider Europe Peter Herrmann, Arno Tausch, 2005 With the process of a wider Europe EU Commission President Romano Prodi's ring of friends that extends from Marrakech in Morocco to St Petersburg in Russia gathering speed the growing rift between Europe and America also is about how to deal politically with the countries of the Mediterranean Muslim world The house of Islam Dar al Islam was pivotal to the European path to the Renaissance and to the re-discovery of classic Greek philosophy The Mediterranean policy of the European Union aims at a positive and co-operative relationship with the region A successful integration of the Mediterranean South would have tremendous and positive repercussions for regional and world peace World wide leading experts from the field of world systems analysis economics integration theory political science theology and area studies agnostics Christians Jews and Muslims alike discuss the issue with European decision makers The outcome is an interdisciplinary evaluation of this projected export of peace co-operation dialogue and stability in the framework of world centre periphery relationships

The Web of Power Kōzō Katō, 2002-01-01 The Web of Power illustrates the central importance of international development policy to national economic and strategic security Kozo Kato's meticulous analysis of Japanese and German international cooperation policy overturns the myth of Japan and Germany's convergent development strategies revealing that each state's policy for fostering interdependence has been shaped by markedly different domestic political agendas Japanese development policy moved to embrace international cooperation as a means of pursuing national interests while Germany fearing the economic risks and political costs of a global scope approach restricted its development strategy to Europe This work will be of great interest to political scientists economists and scholars of international relations who wish to better understand using Japanese multinationalism and German regionalism as case studies the fluctuating dynamics of modern economic forces Globalization Gernot Kohler, Emilio José Chaves, 2003 The majority of people around the world are experiencing oppressive and destructive forces which manifest themselves in starvation income polarisation joblessness stress violence and so on What is the nature of these forces If we call them globalisation can there be good globalisation as well as bad globalisation Is this a new phenomenon or just a continuation of history as it has always been This book brings together a wide range of expertise addressing these problems from a world systems perspective Global Keynesianism Gernot Kohler, Arno Tausch, 2002 Global Keynesianism Unequal Exchange Global Exploration The City on the Hill? Arno Tausch, 2007 Alliance Richard J. Barnet, 1983 Includes material on Konrad Adenauer Douglas MacArthur in Japan Dean Acheson Jean Monnet Marshall Plan John Foster Dulles John F Kennedy Charles de Gaulle Lyndon Johnson Richard Nixon Willy Brandt detente Henry Kissinger trilateralism Jimmy Carter Ronald Reagan Oil Wealth and the Fate of the Forest Sven Wunder, 2005-08-16 Reduction in the size of the world's remaining rainforests is an issue of huge importance for all societies This new book an analysis of the impact of oil wealth on tropical deforestation in South America Africa and Asia takes a much more analytical approach than the usual fare of environmental studies The focus on economies as a whole leads to a more balanced view than those that are often put forward and therefore vitally a view that is more valid Of use to those who study environmental issues and economics this book is potentially an indispensable tool for policy makers the world over

Adapting to Drought Michael Mortimore, 1989-03-30 This book embodies the results of thirteen years of research in drought prone rural areas in the semi arid zone of northern Nigeria It describes the patterns of adaptive behaviour observed among Hausa Ful be and Manga communities in response to recurrent drought in the 1970s and 1980s The question of desertification is explored in an area where the visible evidence of moving sand dunes is dramatic blame are examined in relation to the field evidence A critique is offered of deterministic theories and authoritarian solutions Professor Mortimore demonstrates a parallel between the observable resilience of semi arid ecosystems and the adaptive strategies of the human communities that inhabit them and suggests policy directions for strengthening that resilience China - Europe Relations Zhou Hong, 2012-03-01 A detailed examination of the hugely significant relationship between China and the countries of Europe excluding Eastern European countries Western from a Chinese perspective The Political Economy of Soil Erosion in Developing Countries Piers Blaikie, 2016-05-20 First published in 1985 This book examines wide variety of ways in which environmental deterioration in particular soil erosion can be viewed and the implicit political judgements that often inform them Using the context of developing countries where the effects tend to be more acute due to underdevelopment and climatic factors this work aims to examine this source of uncertainty and make explicit the underlying assumptions in the debate about soil erosion It also rejects the notion that soil erosion is a politically neutral issue and argues that conservation requires fundamental social change This title will be of interest to students of environmental and developmental studies

The Crises of the European Regions Kjell Ostrom, Dudley Seers, 1983-10-06 Research papers on regional development in Finland Portugal Spain Sweden and Yugoslavia presents case studies of government policy to reduce regional disparities in employment income distribution housing infrastructure etc discusses the possible impact of social movements on regional development in Southern Europe comments on development theories related to peripheral areas Maps references statistical tables e

Economic and Social Cohesion in Europe Achille Hannequart, 1992-10-01 With discussions of a full internal market within the EC finally reaching fruition and regular intergovernmental talks advancing the ideas of economic monetary and perhaps eventually political union economic and social cohesion has become a major objective of Community policy Regional disparities remain a hard fact of Community life Although th

Historical Dictionary of Mauritania Anthony G. Pazzanita, 2008-10-23 Mauritania is bordered by Senegal in the south Mali in the east Algeria in the far northeast and the disputed territory of Western Sahara to the north Comprised mostly of vast stretches of desert this young country has escaped the ravages of the violent interstate and civil conflicts that have so bedeviled Africa Mauritanian society possesses ancient antecedents and a universal religious faith that has been practiced over several centuries These characteristics have given the country a sometimes fragile but relatively resilient sense of national identity which has survived into the 21st century in the face of powerful political regional ethnic racial and tribal rivalries since its independence in 1960 An economy largely centered on the export of raw materials a weak agricultural sector and a harsh climate in most areas further add to the challenges confronting all Mauritians The third edition of the Historical Dictionary of Mauritania through its chronology introductory essay maps bibliography and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries on important persons places events institutions and significant political economic social and cultural aspects provides an important reference on Mauritania

A New Deal for an Effective European Research Policy Ugur Muldur,Fabienne Corvers, Henri Delanghe, Jim Dratwa, Daniela Heimberger, Brian Sloan, Sandrijn Vanslebrouck, 2007-05-06 More than a century ago Louis Pasteur observed that Science knows no country because knowledge belongs to humanity and is the torch which illuminates the world His remark has all the more resonance today with the increasing globalisation of science technology and commerce But it also underlines an important truth that science has always advanced most rapidly when it is a collective endeavour with a strong circulation of knowledge When it comes to forging cooperation in research Europe has an impressive track record This year the European Union's Framework Programme for Research and Technological Development celebrates its 20th birthday It is the world's largest programme in support of transnational research promoting cooperation coordination and mobility across borders The year 2007 will see the launch of the 7th Framework Programme the biggest and most ambitious so far This book will show how the new Framework Programme was put together and explain why it took the shape it did It will also set out its potential impacts and the conditions necessary for it to be a success In the challenging new global economy knowledge is Europe's most valuable resource and I am convinced that with its unprecedented scale and scope the 7th Framework Programme is the right strategy for a Europe that wants to progress towards a knowledge based economy However the Framework Programme is only a very modest part of total public R D spending in Europe the bulk of which is carried out by national governments
