European Studies in Development Jacques de Bandt, Péter Mándi, Dudley Seers, 1980      European Studies in Development J. De Bandt, 1980-06-18      European Studies in Development Jacques de Bandt, Péter Mándi, Dudley Seers, 1980      European Research on Sustainable Development Carlo C. Jaeger, J. David Tàbara, Julia Jaeger, 2011-06-28

This book provides the reader with a state of the art view of research on sustainable development Its emphasis lies on the transformative dimension of this research sustainable development can only be realized through a far reaching transformation of the situation humankind finds itself in at the beginning of the third millennium The contributions are written by leading world experts in the conceptualisation and actual practice of sustainable development The book provides a timely overview of ideas and methods as well as a variety of original learning examples on the most innovative approaches on sustainability science

British Qualifications Kogan Page, 2004 In a single volume the new edition of this guide gives comprehensive coverage of the developments within the fast changing field of professional academic and vocational qualifications career fields their professional and accrediting bodies levels of membership and qualifications and is a one stop guide for careers advisors students and parents It should also enable human resource managers to verify the qualifications of potential employees

The European Union and Global Development S. Gänzle, S. Grimm, D. Makhan, 2012-04-17 An assessment of the capacity of the EU to coordinate actors and policies with regards to global development The authors argue that the EU and its member states have the potential to act for global development when they are able to improve policy and actor coherence such as through better linking of bilateral and community programmes

The European Union and Global Development Johanne Døhlle Saltnes, 2021-08-19 This book systematically analyses the EU s commitment to a human rights based approach to development through the lens of global justice theory It identifies limits to the EU s approach and discusses how standardised policies particularly in the case of human rights sanctions may be perceived as neo colonially intrusive and can come at the cost of recognizing the experiences and interests of vulnerable groups and allowing for partner countries democratic ownership of their own development trajectory Engaging with primary sources including official documents reports and 45 semi structured interviews with EU and member state officials the book also presents a novel explanation for why the EU at times steps out of its commitment to rights based development and chooses differentiated foreign policy responses to similar situations This book will be of key interest to scholars and students of EU foreign policy EU development policy human rights and international relations as well as policy practitioners working in the fields of development human rights and democracy promotion

Parliamentary Cooperation and Diplomacy in EU External Relations Kolja Raube, Meltem Müftüler-Baç, Jan Wouters, In today s increasingly complex and interdependent world the role of parliaments in external affairs remains a relatively under explored topic of research The multiple patterns of global governance are mostly dominated by the executive branches of government with parliaments relegated to the sidelines This insightful book aims to challenge this dominant perspective and demonstrate the increased networking of parliaments both within the EU and with external actors outside the EU. It not only sheds light on EU parliamentary cooperation and networking but also reveals the growing scope and role of parliamentary scrutiny control and conflict mediation.

Development Cooperation of the 'New' EU Member States Ondřej Horký-Hlucháň, 2015-08-03 The book provides a comprehensive analysis of the international development policies of ten Central and Eastern European countries that joined the EU between 2004 and 2007. The contributors offer the first thorough overview of the new EU member states development cooperation programmes placing them in a larger political and societal context.

The Economic Sources of Social Order Development in Post-socialist Eastern Europe Richard Connolly, 2013 Nearly twenty years after the collapse of socialism the countries of post socialist Eastern Europe have experienced divergent trajectories of political development. This book looks at why this is the case based on the assumption that societies or social orders can be distinguished by the extent to which competitive tendencies contained within them economic political social and cultural are resolved according to open rule based processes. The book explores which economic conditions allow for increased levels of political competition and it tests the hypothesis that the nature of a country's ties with the international economy and the level of competition within a country's economic system will shape the trajectory of political competition within that society. The book goes on to argue that after several decades of relative bloc autarky during the socialist period the ongoing process of reintegration with the international economy across the post socialist region has resulted in distinct patterns of structural economic development and that these patterns are of crucial importance in explaining the variation in social order type across the post socialist region. By offering a more precise analysis of the causal mechanisms that link economic and political competition the book makes a useful contribution to research on the different patterns of political behaviour that have been observed across the post socialist region since the collapse of the socialist regimes.

The European Union and International Development Maurizio Carbone, 2007-12-12 Using development policy this book provides a systematic analysis of the interaction between the European Commission and Member States by exploring the conditions in which the European Commission influences outcomes in EU decision making.

and Rural Development Michael Kull, 2016-04-22 To understand fully the process of European integration it is necessary to consider developments at the sub national and local level EU integration scholars have been examining the local level using the concept of multi level governance MLG since the 1990s While MLG was the first concept to scrutinize the position of local levels of public administration and other actors within the EU polity it overestimates the degree of influence it ascribes to local levels particularly as far as the rural is concerned Focusing on Germany and Finland with country specific information from all EU member states this book combines MLG with the concept of structural constructivism in order to reveal some of the hidden aspects of EU integration Bringing together these concepts and methodologies and replacing mainstream theories of integration with this new approach offers a more accurate picture of multi level interaction in rural policy and of the impacts of European integration at the local level By examining the Community Initiative LEADER and setting this within a discussion of the state and structure of rural development policy this book looks at the challenges opportunities and policy options which are available and have been implemented in rural development It shows that these are often context dependent and that the future of rural development policies their shape and institutional configuration depend on reforms put in place at all levels of governance Finally it argues that the MLG of rural development policy must be built with people who have the know how and the local knowledge to implement development projects and who have made LEADER a success in the past

Towards Non-Unidisciplinary Research in European Studies Andreas Moberg, 2025-07-21 This book not only defines what European Studies actually mean but also considers how non unidisciplinary research could be conceptualized in this field As an alternative concept for inter cross trans and multi disciplinary studies non unidisciplinary European Studies as defined in this volume represent a conscious choice to look beyond what is normal From various disciplinary starting points the contributors step out of their discipline giving perspective to pervasive norms and actively incorporating different approaches Through this the volume analyzes the motivations to engage in non unidisciplinarity and develops new methods for European Studies

Decentralization and Local Development in South East Europe W. Bartlett, S. Malekovic, V. Monastiriotis, 2013-02-21 Decentralisation is changing the face of South East Europe This book provides practical analysis of the devolutionary measures reshaping post Communist economies Using case studies from Croatia the former Yugoslavia Albania and more this collection offers valuable insights into political and fiscal redistribution
