European Textile Printers in the Eighteenth Century Stanley D. Chapman, Serge Chassagne, 1981      European Textile Printers in the 18th Century. A Study of Peel and Oberkamp S. D. Chapman, S. Chassagne, 1981      Society and Economy in Early Modern Europe, 1450-1789 Barry Taylor, 1989      Colouring Textiles A. Nieto-Galan, 2013-04-17

Colouring Textiles is an attempt to provide a new cross cultural comparative approach to the art of dyeing and printing with natural dyestuffs in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Divided into thematic chapters it uncovers new data from the vast historical heritage of natural dyestuffs from a range of European cities to present new historiographic insights for the understanding of this technology Through a sort of anatomic dissection the book explores the study and cultivation of dye plants in botanical gardens and plantations and the tacit values hidden in dyeing workshops factories laboratories or national and international exhibitions It metaphorically submits the natural dyestuffs of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries to a series of systematic historical tests and traces back the circulation of those sources of colours through colonial spaces dye works cross cultural networks schools of artistic design and science based industries for the making of synthetic colorants Colouring Textiles contributes to a better understanding of the role of natural dyestuffs in the processes of industrialization in Western Europe Audience Historians of science and technology historians of chemistry philosophers economic historians professional chemists arts and crafts historians and cultural anthropologists      Vicarious Consumers Manuel Perez-Garcia, 2016-03-03 The birth of a mass consumer society in western Europe has been the subject of much scholarly debate in recent years In order to come to a further understanding of the issue this book adopts an analytical approach paying special attention to the socio cultural and economic transfers which occur when different commodities are introduced to territories with diverse values and identities In particular it examines the role of merchants and their important influence on consumer decisions describing how they created demand for new necessities in local national and international markets of the western Mediterranean area Through a systematic analysis of probate inventories from southern Spain the study reveals shifts in the patterns of consumption of new goods in urban and rural families underlining a growing interest in new exotic and foreign goods By connecting these local desires aspirations and choices to a global movement in which human and material capital circulated trans continentally broader patterns of consumption are revealed By observing a southern European society such as Spain where the industrialization process was slower than that in Anglo Saxon territories the book contributes to the on going debates about industrious revolution and trickle down theories and whether both occurred simultaneously or separately The book also helps identify the socio economic forces and agents that prompted the stimulus for new consumer aspirations as well as the cultural consequences that the new modern consumerism brought about      A Foot in the Past Giorgio Riello, 2006 During the Enlightenment in a society that was increasingly urbanised and mobile footwear was an essential item of apparel This book considers not only the practical but also the symbolic meaning of

footwear in France and England during the period from the end of the seventeenth to the mid nineteenth century The Sun King's Atlantic Jutta Wimmmler,2017-02-06 In The Sun King's Atlantic Jutta Wimmmler reveals the many surprising ways in which the Atlantic world channeled cultural developments during the age of the Sun King Although hardly visible for contemporaries at the time Africa and America were omnipresent throughout early modern France in the textile industry pharmaceuticals medicine scientific methods religious discourse and court theatre The book moves beyond typical plantation crops and the slave trade to illustrate how a focus on Europe challenges us to rethink the place of Africa in the early modern world Printed Textiles Linda Eaton,2014-09-23 The Winterthur Museum's richly illustrated history of British and American fabrics made or used from 1700 1850 is a visual reference for designers and a definitive contribution to textile studies From slipcovers that belonged to George Washington to bedhangings described by Harriet Beecher Stowe Delaware's Winterthur Museum holds some of the finest cotton and linen textiles made or used in America and Britain between 1700 and 1850 One of the fastest growing and potentially most lucrative trades in the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries on the forefront of developments in science and engineering chemistry and technology the textile industry is a fascinating lens into international trade relations and cultural exchange over nearly two centuries Printed Textiles is a major update to the classic text published by Winterthur in 1970 a sourcebook compiled by celebrated curator Florence Montgomery that detailed all aspects of the fabrics lifespan from their design and method of manufacture to their use and exchange value Linda Eaton Director of Collections and Senior Curator of Textiles updates the classic with a particular focus on furnishing fabrics referred to as furnitures Building on research that has come to light since 1970 and benefiting from the technical and scientific expertise of the conservators and scientists at Winterthur Eaton presents a thorough and sweeping study enriched by the diverse approaches to material culture today With hundreds of beautifully photographed samples engagingly contextualized with iconic figures in American history including Betsy Ross and Benjamin Franklin this significant addition to textile scholarship allows for a full appreciation of these fascinating fabrics Printed Textiles is destined to become an essential reference for interior designers fashion and textile design students conservators collectors and anyone with an interest in the textile industry The Imagined Empire Mi Gyung Kim,2016-12-23 The hot air balloon invented by the Montgolfier brothers in 1783 launched for the second time just days before the Treaty of Paris would end the American Revolutionary War The ascent in Paris a technological marvel witnessed by a diverse crowd that included Benjamin Franklin highlighted celebrations of French military victory against Britain and ignited a balloon mania that swept across Europe at the end of the Enlightenment This popular frenzy for balloon experiments which attracted hundreds of thousands of spectators fundamentally altered the once elite audience for science by bringing aristocrats and commoners together The Imagined Empire explores how this material artifact the flying machine not only expanded the public for science and spectacle but inspired utopian dreams of a republican monarchy that would obliterate social boundaries The balloon Mi

Gyung Kim argues that the balloon was a people machine, a cultural performance that unified and mobilized the people of France who imagined an aerial empire that would bring glory to the French nation. This critical history of ballooning considers how a relatively simple mechanical gadget became an explosive cultural and political phenomenon on the eve of the French Revolution. Global Trade, Smuggling, and the Making of Economic Liberalism Felicia Gottmann, 2016-05-19 Imported from India, China, the Levant, and Persia and appreciated for their diversity, designs, fast, bright colours, and fine weave, Asian textiles became so popular in France that in 1686 the state banned their import, consumption, and imitation. A fateful decision. This book tells the story of smuggling on a vast scale, savvy retailers, and rebellious consumers. It also reveals how reformers in the French administration itself sponsored a global effort to acquire the technological know-how necessary to produce such textiles and how the vitriolic debates surrounding the eventual abolition of the ban were one of the decisive moments in the development of Enlightenment economic liberalism. The Cambridge Economic History of Modern Britain: Volume 1, Industrialisation, 1700-1860 Roderick Floud, Paul Johnson, 2004-01-15 The Cambridge Economic History of Modern Britain provides a readable and comprehensive survey of the economic history of Britain since industrialisation based on the most up-to-date research into the subject. Roderick Floud and Paul Johnson have assembled a team of fifty leading scholars from around the world to produce a set of volumes which are both a lucid textbook for students and an authoritative guide to the subject. The text pays particular attention to the explanation of quantitative and theory-based enquiry but all forms of historical research are used to provide a comprehensive account of the development of the British economy. Volume I covers the period 1700-1860 when Britain led the world in the process of industrialisation. It will be an invaluable guide for undergraduate and postgraduate students in history, economics, and other social sciences. The Oxford Handbook of the History of Consumption Frank Trentmann, 2012-03-22 The term consumption covers the desire for goods and services, their acquisition, use, and disposal. The study of consumption has grown enormously in recent years and it has been the subject of major historiographical debates. Did the eighteenth century bring a consumer revolution? Was there a great divergence between East and West? Did the twentieth century see the triumph of global consumerism? Questions of consumption have become defining topics in all branches of history, from gender and labour history to political history and cultural studies. The Oxford Handbook of the History of Consumption offers a timely overview of how our understanding of consumption in history has changed in the last generation, taking the reader from the ancient period to the twenty-first century. It includes chapters on Asia, Europe, Africa, and North America, brings together new perspectives, highlights cutting-edge areas of research, and offers a guide through the main historiographical developments. Contributions from leading historians examine the spaces of consumption, consumer politics, luxury and waste, nationalism and empire, the body, well-being, youth cultures, and fashion. The Handbook also showcases the different ways in which recent historians have approached the subject, from cultural and economic history to political history and technology studies, including areas where multidisciplinary approaches have been

Cotton in Context Kim Siebenhüner,2019-09-16 While cotton was a world changing good in the early modern period for producers merchants and consumers it was but one of many different fabrics This volume explores this dichotomy by contextualizing cotton within its contemporary culture of textiles In doing it focuses on a long under researched region the German speaking world particularly Switzerland which transformed into one of the most prolific European regions for the production of printed cottons in the eighteenth century Sixteen contributions investigate the globally entangled history of Indiennes silk wool and embroideries giving new insights into the manufacturing marketing and consumption of textiles between 1500 and 1900      Selling Empire Jonathan Eacott,2016-02-02 2017 Bentley Book Prize World History Association

Linking four continents over three centuries Selling Empire demonstrates the centrality of India both as an idea and a place to the making of a global British imperial system In the seventeenth century Britain was economically politically and militarily weaker than India but Britons increasingly made use of India s strengths to build their own empire in both America and Asia Early English colonial promoters first envisioned America as a potential India hoping that the nascent Atlantic colonies could produce Asian raw materials When this vision failed to materialize Britain s circulation of Indian manufactured goods from umbrellas to cottons to Africa Europe and America then established an empire of goods and the supposed good of empire Eacott recasts the British empire s chronology and geography by situating the development of consumer culture the American Revolution and British industrialization in the commercial intersections linking the Atlantic and Indian Oceans From the seventeenth into the nineteenth century and beyond the evolving networks ideas and fashions that bound India Britain and America shaped persisting global structures of economic and cultural interdependence      The Economic History of Britain Since 1700 Roderick Floud,D. N. McCloskey,1994-08-18 The most up to date and comprehensive survey of recent British economic history currently available      Encounters on the Opposite Coast: The Dutch East India Company and the Nayaka State of Madurai in the Seventeenth Century Markus Vink,2015-10-14 In Encounters of the Opposite Coast Markus Vink provides a narrative of the first half century of cross cultural interaction between the Dutch East India Company VOC one of the great northern European chartered companies and Madurai one of the great southern Nayakas and successor states of the Vijayanagara empire in southeast India c 1645 1690 A shared interest in trade and at times converging political objectives formed the unstable foundations for a complex relationship fraught with tensions a mixture of conflict and coexistence typical of the age of contained conflict Drawing extensively on archival materials Markus Vink covers a topic neglected by both Company historians and their Indian counterparts and sheds important light on a black hole in South Indian history      The Cambridge Economic History of Modern Britain Roderick Floud,Paul Johnson,2003

Publisher Description      Organizational Entrepreneurship, Politics and the Political Carine Farias,Pablo Fernandez,Daniel Hjorth,Robin Holt,2020-12-17 Entrepreneurship as the creation of new organizations has globally become an appealing call for individuals and governments alike Too often still it is simply associated with the idea of enterprise thus sustaining a pervasive politics of homo economicus agents living a measured life in competition based individuality Organizational Entrepreneurship Politics and the Political disconnects entrepreneurship from the politics of enterprise to more fully explore its potential to resist the economic and ethical demand of the enterprise to be instrumentally innovative and instead to disrupt and disturb the established order As such entrepreneurship is seen as inevitably political it is a constant attempt at declassifying existing structures and institutions de normalizing practices and sensemaking to make room for and initiate the new The chapters invite the readers to revisit key concepts in entrepreneurship studies opportunity motivation identity experimentation creative destruction and experimentation by approaching them through a political process lens This book offers a new conceptual repertoire and vocabulary that reconnects entrepreneurship studies with the socio political dimensions of organization creation opening up multiple possibilities for understanding and questioning the meanings and effects of entrepreneurship in society Combining philosophical reflections with organizational and processual perspectives this book will be of interest to academics students and researchers in the areas of business social and political entrepreneurship organization studies and management The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Entrepreneurship and Regional Development Rethinking the Industrial Revolution Michael Andrew Žmolek, 2013-08-19 In Rethinking the Industrial Revolution Five Centuries of Transition from Agrarian to Industrial Capitalism in England Michael Andrew molek offers the first in depth study of the evolution of English manufacturing from the feudal and early modern periods within the context of the development of agrarian capitalism With an emphasis on the relationship between Parliament and working Britons this work challenges readers to rethink the common perception of the role of the state in the first industrial revolution as essentially passive The work chronicles how a long train of struggles led by artisans resisting efforts by employers to transform production along capitalist lines prompted employers to appeal to the state to suppress this resistance by coercion
