Europe. Directorate General of Political Affairs, 2005-01-01 This publication contains papers presented at a conference held in November 2004 in Barcelona and organised by the Council of Europe The purpose of the conference held to mark the end of the three year integrated project Making democratic institutions work was to discuss issues relating to the challenges and opportunities facing governments in Europe to strengthen democratic reform and encourage greater public participation Topics covered include promoting inclusive elections financing of political parties popular initiatives and referendums and how modern communication technologies can affect the democratic process Democracy in Transition Kyriakos N.

Demetriou, 2012-12-22 The papers in this collection written by a cross regional group of experts provide insights into the causes of declining levels of citizen participation and other distinct forms of civic activism in Europe and explore a range of factors contributing to apathy and eventually disengagement from vital political processes and institutions At the same time this volume examines informal or unconventional types of civic engagement and political participation corresponding to the rapid advances in culture technology and social networking The volume is divided into three interrelated parts Part I consists of critical essays in the form of theoretical approaches to analysing weakening political participation and citizen estrangement Part II is dedicated to an exploration of the role and deployment of technologically advanced media such as the internet as determinants of changing patterns of political participationist behaviour Finally Part III presents findings of empirical research on the issue of political participation Combining theoretical and empirical perspectives the book contributes towards a better understanding of the disquieting trend of voter apathy and disenchantment with politics in the context of the ongoing process of European integration and offers a variety of analytical tools for decoding both the emergence of alternative conceptualizations of citizenship and other forms of meaningful civic and political engagement

Advancing Democracy, Government and Governance Andrea Kö, Christine Leitner, Herbert Leitold, Alexander Prosser, 2012-08-29 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the Joint International Conference on Electronic Government and the Information Systems Perspective and Electronic Democracy EGOVIS EDEM 2012 held in Vienna Austria in September 2012 in conjunction with DEXA 2012 The 27 revised full papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected from numerous submissions They cover topics from recent research fields such as open data cloud applications interoperability and e government architectures Web 2 0 and Web 3 0 solutions and public dialogues The papers are organized in the following topical sections e government country studies e government processes identity management in e government e government process management e participation social networks and open data Referendums and the European Union Fernando Mendez, Mario Mendez, Vasiliki Triga, 2014-06-12 Why have referendums on European integration proliferated since the 1970s How are referendums accommodated within member states constitutional orders and with what impact on the European integration process What is the likely institutional impact of referendums on the future of the European integration process Drawing on an interdisciplinary approach these are just some of the fundamental questions addressed in this book The central thesis is that the EU is faced with a direct democratic dilemma which is compounded by the EU s rigid constitutional structure and a growing politicisation of the referendum device on matters related to European integration Referendums and the European Union discusses how this dilemma has emerged to impact on the course of integration and how it can be addressed The European Union and Occupied Palestinian Territories Dimitris Bouris, 2014-02-03 This book analyses the present European Union EU approach to state building both in policy and operation It offers a review of the literature on peace building EU state building and conflict resolution before examining in detail the EU s role as a state builder in the case of the Occupied Palestinian Territories following the 1993 Oslo Accords Drawing on extensive fieldwork and over 140 interviews carried out in Brussels London Jerusalem and Ramallah with EU Palestinian and Israeli officials as well as academics members of NGOs and civil society the author evaluates the present approach of state building and offers a framework to test the effectiveness of the EU as a state builder Examining security sector reform judiciary sector reform and the rule of law the book brings the voices from the field to the forefront and measures the contribution of the EU to state building against a backdrop of on going conflict and a polarised social setting This book will be of interest to students and scholars of international relations EU politics Middle Eastern politics conflict resolution and state building E-government in Europe Paul G.
