Evaluating Literacy:

Evaluating Literacy Instruction Rachael E. Gabriel, Richard L. Allington, 2017-09-19 This must read book for all literacy educators illuminates the intersection of research on literacy instruction and teacher evaluation Since 2009 46 states have changed or revised policies related to evaluating teachers and school leaders In order for these new policies to be used to support and develop effective literacy instruction resources are needed that connect the best of what is known about teaching literacy with current evaluation policies and support practices A major contribution to meeting this need the volume brings together a range of perspectives on tools systems and policies for the evaluation of teaching organized into two sections Crafting Systems and Policies for Evaluating Literacy Instruction Examples of Alternative Systems Approaches for Evaluating Literacy Instruction Across the text expert scholars in the field emphasize the need for literacy professionals to do more than merely apply generic observation instruments for teacher evaluation but also to consider how these tools reflect professional values how elements of effective literacy instruction can be unearthed or included within them and how teacher evaluation systems and policies can be used to increase students opportunities to develop literacy Evaluating Literacy

Assessment to Support Learning and Teaching Dennis Alonzo, 2024-04-01 This book outlines the key problems associated with the intersections of assessment learning and teaching and presents guiding principles to effective assessment that schools can follow in order to optimise student outcomes Addressing challenges such as competing conceptualisations of assessment the burden of responsibility on teachers and conflicting views of what effective assessment actually is this book provides an in depth analysis of these problems how they are explored what factors influence them and their implications for learning and teaching It proposes practical solutions to address these challenges supported by 29 case studies that capture examples of practice from Asia Europe the USA and Australia The book concludes with the key features of the effective implementation of assessment reform based on findings from a variety of scenarios across different contexts and levels of education Providing critical insights and practical guidance this book is an essential reference for teachers school leaders and postgraduate students of education Literacy Assessment and Metacognitive Strategies Stephanie L. McAndrews, 2020-07-27 Introduction to literacy assessment and instruction Building relationships learning from students families and community Language development Word analysis Reading fluency Reading listening and viewing comprehension Writing composition and visual representation Classroom Writing Assessment and Feedback in L2 School Contexts Icy Lee, 2017-03-28 While assessment and feedback tend to be treated separately in the L2 writing literature this book brings together these two essential topics and examines how effective classroom assessment and feedback can provide a solid foundation for the successful teaching and learning of writing Drawing upon current educational and L2 writing theories and research the book is the first to address writing assessment and feedback in L2 primary and secondary classrooms providing a comprehensive up to date review of key issues such as assessment for learning assessment as learning teacher feedback peer feedback portfolio assessment and technology enhanced classroom writing assessment and feedback The book concludes with a chapter on classroom assessment literacy for L2 writing teachers outlines its critical components and underscores the importance of teachers undertaking continuing professional development to enhance their classroom assessment literacy Written in an accessible style the book provides a practical and valuable resource for L2 writing teachers to promote student writing and for teacher educators to deliver effective classroom writing assessment and feedback training

Though the target audience is school teachers L2 writing instructors in any context will benefit from the thorough and useful treatment of classroom assessment and feedback in the book Learning to Assess Christopher DeLuca, Jill Willis, Bronwen Cowie, Christine Harrison, Andrew Coombs, 2024-01-01 This book presents a new framework for how teachers develop their assessment capacity based on a multi year study conducted in four countries Australia Canada England and New Zealand which focused on student teacher learning in assessment throughout their initial teacher education programs It examines how teacher learning is shaped by the complex dynamics of assessment capacity within larger teacher education contexts The framework proposed here identifies four domains involved in cultivating assessment capacity and characterizes assessment learning as always integrating cognitive philosophical and moral dimensions with assessment's social emotional and physical dimensions while recognizing that each capacity is continually shaped by the learning context The book draws on the survey of teacher education programs in each of the four focal countries and data from student teachers to shed light on how the various pedagogies program structures and policies encountered provide beginning teachers with codes for classifying and framing assessment capacity and form a template for developing this capacity throughout their careers Offering suggestions for future research and teacher education practice the book concludes with an outlook on future steps to cultivate teachers assessment capacity

Learning through assessment Anita Lubbe, 2021-12-31 This book aims to contribute to the discourse of learning through assessment within a self directed learning environment It adds to the scholarship of assessment and self directed learning within a face to face and online learning environment As part of the NWU Self Directed Learning Book Series this book is devoted to scholarship in the field of self directed learning focusing on ongoing and envisaged assessment practices for self directed learning through which learning within the 21st century can take place This book acknowledges and emphasises the role of assessment as a pedagogical tool to foster self directed learning during face to face and online learning situations The way in which higher education conceptualises teaching learning and assessment has been inevitably changed due to the COVID 19 pandemic and now more than ever we need learners to be self directed in their learning Assessment plays a key role in learning and therefore we have to identify innovative ways in which learning can be assessed and which are likely to become the new norm even after the pandemic has been brought under control The goal of this book consisting of original research is to assist with the paradigm shift regarding the purpose of assessment as well as providing new ideas on assessment strategies methods and tools appropriate to foster self directed learning in all modes of delivery
