Research in Communication Sciences and Disorders Lauren K. Nelson, Jaimie L. Gilbert, 2020-08-26. Research in Communication Sciences and Disorders: Methods for Systematic Inquiry, Fourth Edition, is a comprehensive yet comprehensible text meant for instructors and students of research methods in the field of communication sciences and disorders. This forward-thinking book reflects the movement toward evidence-based practice in speech language pathology and audiology. The authors ensure that the concepts associated with evidence-based practice are integrated throughout the chapters. Rather than treating empirical research and searching for clinical evidence as separate topics, this text presents both as different applications of a process of scientific inquiry. The order of the chapters reflects the steps a researcher or clinician might complete when conducting an investigation. Also included are features that help students be more active in learning the material. Each chapter has a set of review questions or case scenarios that can be used as homework, as probe questions in class, or as a basis for group activities. In addition, the authors provide lists of supplemental readings from the research literature in the field. New to the Fourth Edition: New author Jaimie L. Gilbert for an enhanced audiology perspective; New chapter Writing a Literature Review, reorganized for better flow of information; Various new and updated references to reflect the current state of research; Additional illustrations and tables; Expanded material on critical appraisal.

Consuming and Producing Research in Communication Sciences and Disorders Robert Goldfarb, 2019-06-21. Consuming and Producing Research in Communication Sciences and Disorders is an exciting new textbook designed for undergraduate research methods in communication sciences and disorders (CSD) programs. It is also appropriate for first-year graduate students taking research methods courses in speech language pathology and audiology. The text guides students in attaining the competencies required to consume, produce, and disseminate research, and students will have the knowledge and skills that are necessary and sufficient to conduct research as is consistent with the duties of an academic professor. The text reviews what obligations an individual professor or not has before being permitted to do research. The emphasis is on clinically oriented professionals who can perform the research associated with professors. Part I on Consuming Research in CSD includes academic clinical integration of research as well as information required for consumption of research such as research ethics, the scientific method, types of research, and how to critique a journal article and a diagnostic test. Part II on Producing Research in CSD helps guide the undergraduate student in producing a capstone project or senior thesis, and the master's student in producing a graduate thesis or research project. Part II also addresses mentoring the Institutional Review Board and conducting academic and clinical research. Part III addresses Disseminating Research in CSD from the traditional presenting and publishing academic and clinical research to the non-traditional marketing, social media, and new technologies. Key Features Each chapter begins with an Introduction and Learning Objectives to set the scene and prepare the student for what is covered Advanced Study Questions end each chapter and allow the student to review their skills Boxes throughout the text highlight key points and explore topics in more depth Disclaimer Please note that ancillary content such as documents audio and video etc may not be included as published in the original print version of this book Handbook of Qualitative Research in Communication Disorders Martin J.
