Evaluating Social Development Projects Development Guidelines:

Evaluating social development projects David Marsden,1990 A Basic Guide to Evaluation for Development Workers Frances Rubin,1995 Focuses on the principles underlying evaluation and deals with issues to be considered at the planning stage the steps involved in carrying out evaluations and the importance of involving people in the evaluation process throughout The Oxfam Handbook of Development and Relief Deborah Eade,Suzanne Williams,1995 This slipcase of three volumes offers an expression of Oxfam s fundamental principles that everyone has the right to an equitable share in the world s resources It analyzes policy procedure and practice in health human rights emergency relief and agricultural production Evaluating Social Development Projects David Marsden,Peter Oakley,1990 The goals of many social development programmes include the promotion of participation the awakening of political consciousness the encouragement of self reliant strategies How are these achievements to be measured Are evaluations of such projects essentially different from those of more conventional infrastructural projects This book offers some guidelines to NGO planners Toolkits Louisa Gosling,Mike Edwards,2003 Toolkits is divided into three sections underlying principles practical questions and tools This new edition brings these up to date and discusses the implications of adopting a human rights approach to development and the increased emphasis on partnership There are new chapters on impact assessment and monitoring and evaluating advocacy as well as two new tools one for improving your planning evaluation and impact assessment and one for stakeholder analysis Monitoring and Evaluation of Soil Conservation and Watershed Development Projects Jan de Graaff,2019-04-29 This book provides diverse information and critical know how to implement appropriate methodology and cost efficient monitoring and evaluation systems better suited to assess the impacts of soil conservation and watershed multi sectoral development activities It draws on a worldwide experience of specialists and a large array of ground truthing projects and programmes This book will meet its objective if it contributes to convince financing institutions and project managers that integrated watershed management activities have the potential to generate highly desirable impacts for the society at large which have to be accurately measured by adequate M E systems

Assessing the Social Impact of Development Projects Hari Mohan Mathur,2015-12-16 This book shows how social impact assessment SIA which emerged barely five decades ago as a way to anticipate and manage potentially negative social impacts of building dams power stations urban infrastructure highways industries mining and other development projects is now widely in use as a planning tool especially in developed countries Although SIA has still not gained much acceptance among development planners in Asia the situation is gradually changing In India SIA initially mandated as a policy guideline in 2007 is now a legal requirement SIA in China has also recently become obligatory for certain types of development projects Bangladesh Laos Nepal Pakistan and Sri Lanka are other Asian countries that provide examples from a variety of externally funded projects illustrating the use of social impact analysis in project planning to improve development outcomes

With contributions from an array of leading experts this book is a valuable resource on SIA indispensable for policymakers planners and practitioners in government international development agencies private sector industry private banks consultants teachers researchers and students of social sciences and development studies also NGOs everywhere not in Asia alone Evaluation and Social Work Practice Ian Shaw, Joyce Lishman, 1999-05-19 Evaluation and Social Work Practice offers a comprehensive treatment of the central issues confronting evaluation in social work that links theory and method to practical applications Evaluation is an integral part of social work and social care provision for both practice and service delivery Evaluation can improve effectiveness and increase accountability and help develop new models of practice and service delivery The authors argue that evaluation should not just be applied to practice but should be a direct dimension of practice Appealing to the student researcher and practitioner Evaluation and Social Work Practice will become the standard reference source on evaluation in social work XX The Program Evaluation Standards Donald B. Yarbrough, Joint Committee on Standards for Educational Evaluation, 2011 Includes a new section on evaluation accountability this Third Edition details 30 standards which give advice to those interested in planning implementing and using program evaluations

Learning from Change International Development Research Centre (Canada), 2000 Learning from Change provides an overview of the common themes and experiences in participatory approaches to monitoring and evaluation across different institutions and sectors It is a compilation of selected case studies and discussions between practitioners academics donors and policymakers in participatory monitoring and evaluation PM E It explores conceptual methodological institutional and policy issues that need to be addressed to enrich our understanding and practice of PM E The book is in three sections The first provides a general overview of PM E synthesizing literature surveys and regional reviews of PM E practice around the world The second presents case studies that illustrate the diverse range of settings and contexts in which PM E is being applied The third raises the key issues and challenges arising from the case studies and discussions and proposes areas for future research and action Learning from Change will be an important reference for development professionals worldwide as well as for anyone interested in the process of participatory development including researchers academics fieldworkers development practitioners and policymakers Measuring the Process, 1994 Sustainable Rural Development A. Shepherd, 1998-01-19 This book examines the paradigm shift in rural development from an industrial to an holistic approach to technology development from a technocratic to a participatory approach to management and from resource control by big organisations to local resource management It provides a broad ranging assessment of agriculture and local level institutional development and sets out a range of agendas for development practice management and policy into the twenty first century Evaluation Cultures Jean-Claude Barbier, Penny Hawkins, 2017-09-08 Evaluation Cultures draws upon a sample of reflections drawn from organizational practices nationally centered political cultures and ethnic cultures as a framework for understanding how culture influences the work of evaluation Two main conclusions seem to emerge first that there exists no single uniform and homogenous national evaluation culture second that the idea of a unified transnational culture of evaluation is an illusion The evaluation community includes a diverse group of professionals a diversity that is not just represented in national or ethnic culture but also in academic backgrounds public and private sector allegiances and personal character The contributors to this book represent in part this diversity by reflecting a range of views Evaluation Cultures draws upon the experience of senior evaluation practitioners who share their reflections on their practice and experience in order to put forth challenges to purely academic analysis Evaluation Cultures presents a consistent if not exhaustive attempt to give analytical and empirical sense to all of the cultures of the evaluation community Human Development Report 1993 United Nations Development Programme,1993 Since its headline making debut the Human Development Report has become an essential resource for development specialists economists and political scientists around the world While previous Human Development Reports focused on investment in people the 1993 Report not only updates the findings of the earlier volumes but shifts the focus towards the other side of human development mobilizing and utilizing human potential The Report surveys the instruments for enhancing and encouraging participatory patterns of development including privatization and participatory market structures vertical and horizontal decentralization of government functions devolution of government powers enterprise decentralization involvement of NGOs and other grass roots organizations and empowerment of people It probes the vital connections between employment and development and offers a global framework for employment that takes into account the growing pressure for international migration In addition it examines links between human development and international markets for ucts capital and labor and presents updated human development indicators for more than 160 countries Non-Governmental Organisations - Performance and Accountability Michael

Edwards,David Hulme,2014-03-18 The last decade has seen some significant changes in international development and in the status of non governmental organisations operating in the field Not only has the number of NGOs virtually doubled many of them have seen a considerable growth in their budgets and have grown closer to governments and official aid agencies NGOs are acknowledged by many to be more effective agents of development than governments or commercial interests even as a magic bullet for development problems Despite these positive trends the real impact of the NGO sector is not well documented This is partly because NGO performance assessment and accountability methods are weak and partly because NGOs are caught up increasingly in the world of official aid which pushes them towards certain forms of evaluation at the expense of others This unique book takes a hard and critical look at these issues and describes how NGOs can and must improve the way they measure and account for their performance if they are to be truly effective Metropolitan Plan

Evaluation Methodology David E. Boyce,Norman D. Day,1969 A.I.D. Research and Development Abstracts ,1977

Protecting and Promoting Good Nutrition in Crisis and Recovery Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2005 Every year natural disasters armed conflicts and other forms of crisis adversely affect the lives of millions of people in the developing world In many countries families are forced to abandon their homes farms and villages access to adequate food becomes difficult and hardship contributes to high rates of malnutrition This book offers guidance to program planners and technicians in the fields of nutrition food security agriculture and community development in adopting a longer term perspective to addressing problems of household food insecurity and malnutrition during periods of crisis and recovery It provides a framework for an implementation strategy that focuses on both saving lives in the short term and strengthening livelihood to ensure that households are less vulnerable to food and nutrition insecurity in the future

Compendium of HEW Evaluation Studies HEW Evaluation Documentation Center,1980

Disability and Development in Burkina Faso Lara Bezzina,2019-11-04 This book builds upon critiques of development in the disability domain by investigating the necessity and implications of theorising disability from the Global South and how development policies and practices pertaining to disabled people in such contexts might be improved by engaging with their voices and agency The author focuses on the lived experiences of disabled people in Burkina Faso while situating these experiences where necessary in the wider national and regional contexts She explores development agencies interventions with disabled people and the need to re think these practices and ideologies which are often framed within western contexts This work will appeal to policy makers NGOs academics students and researchers in the fields of development and disability studies
