Evaluating Health Projects Lessons From The Literature:

Evaluating Health Projects Susan Stout, 1997-01-01 This book explores the wave of decentralization that has swept through Latin America and the projected institutional changes within the governments in the region Although it notes the ways in which decentralization implies a critique of past governing patterns the emphasis is on such potential consequences of governmental change as the strengthening of democratic participation in government and the improvement of local public service The book draws upon institutional experiments carried out at the state level to examine which decentralization strategies work best in Latin America It is organized around three major requirements for the success of decentralization Establishing the national fiscal framework Moving government closer to the people Improving municipal service delivery Tables illustrate the shift of revenues and expenditures from central authorities to intermediate levels of government

Evaluation Advisory Groups Ross VeLure Roholt, Michael L. Baizerman, 2012-12-18 Advisory committees are used often in evaluation studies yet this practice is little discussed or reported This issue is the first full length text devoted to the purpose practice and scholarship about this type of formal structured advice It includes case studies and analyses of these to answer such basic topics as What is an evaluation advisory group EAG Why not use an EAG How to organize an EAG and how to evaluate it The reader will learn how to view the EAG as a structure of expertise its use for political legitimacy and as a response to a variety of constituencies Guidelines on how to recruit select orient train monitor assess and evaluate EAG members are also included This is the 136th volume of the Jossey Bass quarterly report series New Directions for Evaluation an official publication of the American Evaluation Association Financing of Private Hydropower Projects Chris R.

Head, 2000-01-01 Concerns about global warming and the availability of clean renewable sources of energy are increasing However as private companies take over state power utilities the demand for profit has stifled those concerns Currently the private sector is building over 40 megawatts of fossil fuel thermal plants for each new megawatt of hydropower This report examines the reasons for building fewer hydropower plants and looks at ways to eliminate some of the drawbacks It studies ten privately financed hydro schemes which represent all but the smaller projects likely to be considered for private financing in the future The projects are located in five countries where the power sector is at different stages of maturity and deregulation They include multi and single purpose projects intended for both domestic supply and export Building Capacities to Evaluate Health Inequities: Some Lessons Learned from Evaluation Experiments in China, India and Chile

Sanjeev Sridharan, Kun Zhao, April Nakaima, 2017-06-21 The World Health Organization defines health inequities as differences in health outcomes that are systematic avoidable and unjust and the result of poor social policies unfair economic arrangements and bad politics This volume describes the role that evaluations can play in addressing health inequities A key focus is on the types of capacities that need to be built to evaluate inequities Bringing alive these questions around evaluation capacities are theory and practice studies from China Chile and India This volume Focuses on inequities in evaluation capacity building initiatives Argues evaluations can be interventions themselves Explores how evaluations can have influence in addressing inequities Recognizes that innovations in evaluation capacity experiments are occurring in diverse countries and we have the opportunity to learn from such initiatives This is the 154th issue in the New Directions for Evaluation series from Jossey Bass It is an official publication of the American Evaluation Association Measuring and Apportioning Rents from Hydroelectric Power Developments Mitchell P. Rothman,2000-01-01 Hydro resources are provided by nature The exploitation of such resources can generate significant economic rent to the owners In the past governments have usually claimed ownership of hydroelectric resources and passed on the rents to their state owned utilities which have used them to expand their systems or provide lower tariffs to their consumers With the restructuring of the electric power sector in many countries a more explicit consideration of hydroelectric rents is required Moreover hydropower resources are often owned by more than one party or at least require cooperation between parties to develop them In this context the measurement and apportionment of hydropower rents between cooperating parties becomes important This paper addresses some of the issues involved in cooperative development of water resources especially for hydroelectric generation It promotes a better understanding of the sources of the benefits and attempts to derive an analytical basis for discussions between cooperating parties This volume will be of interest to hydropower resource earning countries hydropower developers and Bank staff Investing in Health Timothy A. Johnston,Susan Stout,1999-01-01 World Bank lending for health nutrition and population HNP activities is accelerating The Bank s emphasis has evolved from expanding HNP service delivery capacity to encouraging systemic reform The Bank is now the major source of external finance for the sector in the developing world The policy influence of its nonlending services is potentially significant With the current generation of projects the Bank and its partners are attempting to address underlying constraints to sector performance while remaining cognizant of the difficulty of improving health sector effectiveness and efficiency even in developed countries This volume recommends that the Bank seek to do better not more in the HNP sector improve project monitoring and evaluation and strengthen its ties with the World Health Organization and other interested organizations World Bank HIV/AIDS Interventions Julia Dayton,1998-01-01 The AIDS epidemic is one of the greatest development challenges of the 20th century Since 1986 the World Bank has supported member countries efforts to fight the epidemic in many ways including committing over US 550 million to HIV AIDS prevention and mitigation efforts This paper the first comprehensive study of all World Bank HIV AIDS related activities assesses the appropriateness of Bank interventions from the perspective of public economies and reviews the economic evaluation and implementation of projects Easing Barriers to Movement of Plant Varieties for Agricultural Development David Gisselquist,Jitendra Srivastava,1997-01-01 World Bank Technical Paper No 364 The trade policies of the countries of the Andean Group Bolivia Colombia Ecuador Peru and Venezuela are in the midst of rapid change particularly in agriculture where trade policies are being overhauled and trade rules rewritten on domestic regional and global levels This paper highlights the trade options open to each country by looking at agricultural policy in light of general trade policy The report also discusses the particular role the Andean Group is playing and how the trade pact may influence the liberalization of agricultural markets

The Private Sector and Power Generation in China, 2000-01-01 the Chinese government remains aware of the potential threats to the economy foreign capital flight loss of competitiveness drop in consumers confidence etc and is striving to continue to provide a stable environment for domestic investment and household consumption to maintain growth Since the early 1980s the Chinese Government has eased restrictions on the power industry and ensured private participation in power sector development In the aftermath of the Asian economic and financial crisis concerns are being raised about Chinese currency Renminbi devaluation and the impact of the slowdown of electricity growth on the implementation of past contracts and new investment opportunities To address these concerns China's Ministry of Finance and the World Bank sponsored a two day conference held in Beijing June 22-23 1999 The conference aimed to improve understanding and narrow the gap in perceptions of risks related to project development among government officials representatives of provincial power companies and financial institutions and private investors The first part of this publication is dedicated to the narrative summary of the conference The second part presents a background paper prepared for the conference to take stock of the progress achieved and identify issues and problems that still need to be addressed to create an environment conducive to further private involvement in power sector development This publication will be useful to the international community that is interested in past and future development of private sector involvement in China's power sector such as Chinese government officials power companies private financial institutions and private investors

Making the Transition Work for Women in Europe and Central Asia Marnia Lazreg, 2000 Women in the Europe and Central Asia region complain about loss of employment sexual harassment violence poor enforcement of the law poor political representation and poor health care Many greet these complaints with skepticism or dismissal Is it economic expedience due to the sheer magnitude of the changes taking place under the transition Did the Soviet legacy delude observers into believing that there is gender equality in the region While budgets shrink how can gender be integrated into country department work programs To answer these and other pressing questions regarding the gender issue the World Bank held a conference in June 1999 Women from the ECA region Western Europe and the United States gathered to address the lack of Bank knowledge of gender issues in the Eastern Europe and Central Asia Region The papers from the conference included in this volume describe the present conditions for women emphasize the need to debunk the myth of gender equality in the Soviet era and propose urgent legislative measures to address gender disparity This publication gives women the opportunity to voice their concerns regarding this issue It will be of interest to regional gender experts ministries and think tanks

Advancing Sustainable Development, 1997-01-01 This book is the first systematic analysis of Russia's poverty and living standards since the country's independence Its primary goal is to quantify the nature and extent of changes in the welfare of Russians during the course of transition and beyond Part 1 establishes the economic and methodological framework within which poverty in the Russian Federation is studied Part 2 comprises a series of chapters that analyze poverty profiles and trends ranging across monetary and non monetary indicators Part 3 addresses selected critical aspects of the system of social support in the impact of public transfers the extent of private interhousehold transfers and public opinion about social problems

Macroeconomic Reform in China Jiwei Lou,1997-01-01 China is in the throes of two transitions from a command economy to a market based one and from a rural agricultural society to an urban industrial one So far both transitions have been spectacularly successful China is the fastest growing economy in the world with per capita incomes more than quadrupling since 1978 achieving in two generations what took other countries centuries Although swift growth and structural change have resolved many problems they also have created new challenges employment insecurity growing inequality stubborn poverty mounting environmental pressures rising costs of food self sufficiency and periods of macroeconomic instability stemming from incomplete reforms Unmet these challenges could undermine the sustainability of growth and Chinas promise could fade China 2020 a seven volume set examines China s recent history where it is today and the path it should follow during the first two decades of the 21st century The volume in the set entitled Clear Water Blue Skies Chinas Environment in the New Century explores the relationship between economic growth and the environment Chapters review the harmful effects of all forms of pollution and discuss ways of securing higher environmental living standards Particular attention is given to urban areas and the impact of pollution on health conditions

Structural Adjustment in the Transition Paul Siegelbaum,2002-01-01 Annotation The study reviews the transition efforts of four countries Albania Azerbaijan Kyrgyz Republic and Moldova to develop recommendations which may benefit countries in future transition efforts These countries have been unable to overcome obstacles to achieve any sustainable success in terms of growth or poverty reduction

Intensified Systems of Farming in the Tropics and Subtropics J. A. N. Wallis,1997-01-01 Environmentally Sustainable Development Studies and Monographs Series No 19 Five years have passed since the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development better known as the Rio Earth Summit Almost all the countries of the world attended the conference and committed themselves to the policies and programs laid out in Agenda 21 the action plan of the summit The World Bank and other international agencies have sought to be active partners in implementing the agenda This report is part of the Bank s current efforts to review the progress made over the past five years and to make plans for improved effectiveness for the future The paper is divided into two parts Part I looks at the broad picture assessing some of the large challenges for the future and outlining thematic principles Part II provides concise reviews of the majority of the chapters of Agenda 21 and relates them to the standpoint of Bank activities

China Shiwei Shao,1997 Based on a report by a World Bank task force this book provides a candid assessment of the Bank s operations in Sub Saharan Africa The book examines how the Bank can strengthen its operational response to poverty and improve food security recommends improvements and innovative approaches to poverty reduction and discusses ways of strengthening and making further use of regional initiatives Although the report identifies improvements in the work on poverty reduction that have taken place since 1995 it finds that much remains to be done On average 45 to 50 percent of Sub Saharan Africans live below the poverty line a much higher proportion than any other region of the world except South Asia The commitment of governments to poverty reduction is usually weak only about 12 African governments have such a commitment Economic growth rates are generally far too low to reduce poverty significantly growth rates of 6.5 percent per year are required for countries in this region to reduce poverty at an acceptable rate The World Bank's lending has emphasized growth focusing almost 58 percent of its assistance to the region on creating the mechanisms for growth through policy change and large scale investments The World Bank's focus on poverty reduction in programming and lending must intensify in all its operational work All development partners should establish stronger collaboration in planning their assistance programs

Trade, Global Policy, and the Environment Per Fredriksson, 1999-01-01 QUOTE We live in an increasingly interconnected world Trade flows worldwide are growing rapidly and global production patterns are shifting as countries follow their comparative advantage in production via trade At the same time however there is growing concern about potential adverse environmental impacts from increasing trade QUOTE John A Dixon Lead Economist The Environment Department World Bank Interest in the trade and environment debate has intensified as a result of international trade agreements and because many proposed solutions to the climate change problem have potential implications for the global trading system Clearly more empirical work is needed to inform the debate guide policymakers toward solutions and help set priorities This volume is an attempt to further our understanding of the empirical links between trade and the environment Thirteen chapters which were presented as papers at a World Bank conference in April 1998 focus on three main themes 1 Effects of trade liberalization and growth on the environment 2 The QUOTE pollution haven QUOTE hypothesis 3 Economic instruments for resolving global environmental problems The papers address a number of different issues within each of the themes offering new data or new questions and approaches They are devoted to deepening our understanding and empirical knowledge of the various effects of trade liberalization Only through a firm understanding of the linkages involved can well founded policy advice be formulated

A Commercial Bank's Microfinance Program Bikki K. Randhawa, Orlando J. Sacay, 1997-01-01 Banking Design of Social Funds Deepa Narayan-Parker, Katrinka Ebbe, 1997-01-01 Annotation World Bank Discussion Paper No 375 Social funds have proved to be important instruments for reaching the poor using community based strategies Yet while there have been innovations in the design of these funds the projects are much less participatory and demand oriented than is commonly believed This paper examines the extent to which social fund subprojects are designed to support community participation demand orientation and investment in local organizational capacity to achieve sustainability at the community level Evolution of Agricultural Services in Sub-Saharan Africa Venkatachalam

Venkatesan, Jacob Kampen, 1998-01-01 This paper traces the evolution of World Bank support to agricultural services particularly agricultural extension and research in Sub Saharan Africa It describes the Bank s experience with the implementation of national programs in agricultural extension and research and how these are evolving to face the problems of the future The paper concludes that participation of the beneficiaries in the design and implementation of programs is critical and will ensure the programs convergence towards rural development

Gender and Development ,2010-01-01 In 2001 the World Bank adopted a gender equality policy as a means to help reduce poverty This policy was outlined in Integrating Gender into the World Bank s Work A Strategy for Action referred as the 2001 Gender Strategy Through this evaluation IEG finds that the World Bank made progress in gender integration between 2002 and 2008 integrating gender concerns in more than half of the relevant projects These signs of progress are qualified by findings that implementation of this policy weakened in the latter half of the review period and that there was no built in results framework in the strategy
