Evaluating International Humanitarian Action Reflections From Practitioners:

Evaluating International Humanitarian Action Adrian Wood, Adrian P. Wood, Raymond Apthorpe, John Borton, 2001-08-31 Humanitarian intervention has become a much more frequent form of development assistance and there has been a corresponding need to evaluate the effectiveness of such interventions This is the first compilation of the experiences of practitioners engaged in humanitarian programme evaluations and the lessons they have learned The case studies cover the different kinds of humanitarian emergency characteristic of the past decade The contributors address the context in which evaluations of humanitarian assistance take place the actual process of doing evaluations and the lessons for improving how such evaluations might be better undertaken in future This pioneering volume should be of practical value to agencies and individuals engaged in both the delivery of humanitarian assistance in complex emergencies and its evaluation

Evaluating International Humanitarian Action Adrian P. Wood, Raymond J. Apthorpe, John Borton, 2001

Humanitarianism and the Quantification of Human Needs Joël Glasman, 2019-12-06 This book provides a historical inquiry into the quantification of needs in humanitarian assistance Needs are increasingly seen as the lowest common denominator of humanity Standard definitions of basic needs however set a minimalist version of humanity both in the sense that they are narrow in what they compare and that they set a low bar for satisfaction The book argues that we cannot understand humanitarian governance if we do not understand how humanitarian agencies made human suffering commensurable across borders in the first place The book identifies four basic elements of needs As a concept as a system of classification and triage as a material apparatus and as a set of standards Drawing on a range of archival sources including the United Nations Refugee Agency UNHCR Médecins Sans Frontières MSF and the Sphere Project the book traces the concept of needs from its emergence in the 1960s right through to the present day and United Nations Secretary General Ban Ki-moon's call for evidence based humanitarianism Finally the book assesses how the international governmentality of needs has played out in a recent humanitarian crisis drawing on field research on Central African refugees in the Cameroonian borderland in 2014-2016 This important historical inquiry into the universal nature of human suffering will be an important read for humanitarian researchers and practitioners as well as readers with an interest in international history and development The Introduction Conclusion and Chapters 1 4 5 and 6 of this book are freely available as downloadable Open Access PDFs at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY-NC-ND 4.0 license

The SAGE Handbook of Evaluation Ian Shaw, Jennifer C. Greene, Melvin M. The Humanitarians David P. Forsythe, 2005-08-11 The International Committee of the Red Cross ICRC coordinates the world's largest private relief system for conflict situations Its staff operates throughout the world and in recent years the ICRC has mounted large operations in the Balkans and Somalia Yet despite its very important role its internal workings are mysterious and often secretive This book examines the ICRC from its origins in the mid nineteenth century up to the present day and provides a comprehensive overview of a unique private organisation whose governing body remains all Swiss but which is recognized in international law as if it were an inter governmental organization David Forsythe focuses on the policy making and field work of the ICRC while not ignoring international humanitarian law He explores how it exercises its independence impartiality and neutrality to try to protect prisoners in Iraq displaced and starving civilians in Somalia and families separated by conflict in the Israeli Palestinian conflict David Forsythe received the Distinguished Scholar Award for 2007 from the Human Rights Section of the American Political Science Association

The Paradoxes of Aid Work Silke Roth, 2015-03-24 This book explores what attracts people to aidwork and to what extent the promises of aidwork are fulfilled Aidland is a highly complex and heterogeneous context which includes many different occupations forms of employment and organizations Analysing the processes that lead to the involvement in development cooperation emergency relief and human rights work and tracing the pathways into and through Aidland the book addresses working and living conditions in Aidland gender relations and inequality among aid personnel and what impact aidwork has on the life courses of aidworkers In order to capture the trajectories that lead to Aidland a biographical perspective is employed which reveals that boundary crossing between development cooperation emergency relief and human rights is not unusual and that considering these fields as separate spheres might overlook important connections Rich reflexive data is used to theorize about the often contradictory experiences of people working in aid whose careers are shaped by geo politics changing priorities of donors and a changing composition of the aid sector Exploring the life worlds of people working in aid this book contributes to the emerging sociology and anthropology of aidwork and will be of interest to professionals and researchers in humanitarian and development studies sociology anthropology political science and international relations international social work and social psychology Humanitarianism and Challenges of Cooperation Volker Heins, Kai Koddenbrock, Christine Unrau, 2016-02-05 Humanitarianism as a moral concept and an organized practice has become a major factor in world society It channels an enormous amount of resources and serves as an argument for different kinds of interference into the internal affairs of countries and regions At the same time and for these very reasons it is an ideal testing ground for successful and unsuccessful cooperation across borders Humanitarianism and the Challenges of Cooperation examines the multiple humanitarianisms of today as a testing ground for new ways of global cooperation General trends in the contemporary transformation of humanitarianism are studied and individual cases of how humanitarian actors cooperate with others on the ground are investigated This book offers a highly innovative empirically informed account of global humanitarianism from the point of view of cooperation research in which internationally renowned contributors analyse broad trends and present case studies based on meticulous fieldwork This book will be of great interest to students and researchers in the areas of political science international relations and humanitarianism It is also a valuable resource for humanitarian aid workers The Humanitarian Enterprise Larry Minear, 2002 Epilogue discussing the international response to the terrorist attacks of 2001 and the war in Afghanistan A fundamental text about the future of humanitarianism in the twenty first century International humanitarian activities have grown enormously in scale over the past decade and the complex links between humanitarian work and the worlds of politics and military engagement have become increasingly contested Larry Minear uncovers what international humanitarians including the UN national governments the Red Cross and many private relief and development agencies have learned about performing humanitarian work well and the arguments that remain unresolved The Humanitarian Conscience W. R. Smyser, 2025-08-22 Humanitarian action long dismissed as a realm apart from major foreign policy concerns has become an omnipresent element in international affairs It now shapes the world in which we live and it will have increasingly important impact on the way decisions are made in international crises W R Smyser looks at the history of humanitarian activity and its growth since the horrors of WWII were made public tracing its early stages connected to the creation of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights to the present day when human rights groups such as Human Rights Watch are as influential as modern nation states in influencing the course of international events This is a monumental portrait of the way in which individuals who are not officially part of any government work to alleviate human suffering and physical destruction around the world Adventures in Aidland David Mosse, 2011-04-01 Anthropological interest in new subjects of research and contemporary knowledge practices has turned ethnographic attention to a wide ranging variety of professional fields Among these the encounter with international development has perhaps been longer and more intimate than any of the others Anthropologists have drawn critical attention to the interfaces and social effects of development's discursive regimes but oddly enough have paid scant attention to knowledge producers themselves despite anthropologists being among them This is the focus of this volume It concerns the construction and transmission of knowledge about global poverty and its reduction but is equally interested in the social life of development professionals in the capacity of ideas to mediate relationships in networks of experts and communities of aid workers and in the dilemmas of maintaining professional identities Going well beyond obsolete debates about pure and applied anthropology the book examines the transformations that occur as social scientific concepts and practices cross and re cross the boundary between anthropological and policy making knowledge

Yearbook of International Humanitarian Law - 2002 Horst Fischer,Avril McDonald,2011-03-04 The world s only annual publication devoted to the study of the laws of armed conflict the Yearbook of International Humanitarian Law provides a truly international forum for high quality peer reviewed academic articles focusing on this highly topical branch of international law The Yearbook also includes a selection of documents from the reporting period many of which are not accessible elsewhere and a comprehensive bibliography of all recent publications in humanitarian law and other relevant fields Ease of use of the Yearbook is guaranteed by the inclusion of a detailed index Distinguished by its topicality and contemporary relevance the Yearbook of International Humanitarian Law bridges the gap between theory and practice and serves as a useful reference tool for scholars practitioners military personnel civil servants diplomats human rights workers and students

The Impact of History? Pedro Ramos Pinto,Bertrand Taithe,2015-03-24 Driven by the increasing importance of discussions around impact and its meaning and implications for history The Impact of History brings together established and new voices to raise relevant questions issues and controversies for debate The chapters are articulated around the themes of public history the politics of history the role of history in the shaping of learning and the situation of history in the changing world of education While this subject is driven differently by the research bodies and councils of different countries similar debates about the value and place of the academy in society are taking place in the UK the USA and Europe as well as in other parts of the world Chapters cover diverse areas of history from this perspective including public history national histories new technologies and the natural sciences campaigning histories the impact agenda This collection is a political and intellectual intervention at a time when scholars and readers of history are being asked to explain why history matters and it seeks to intervene in the debates on impact on education and on the role of the past in the shaping of our future Bringing together leading authors from a wide range of fields The Impact of History is an accessible and engaging yet polemical and thought provoking overview of the role of history in contemporary society

Humanitarian aid, genocide and mass killings Jean-Hervé Bradol,Marc Le Pape,2017-01-06 Throughout the 1990s M decins Sans Fronti res MSF faced challenges posed by the genocide of Rwandan Tutsis and a succession of outbreaks of political violence in Rwanda and in its neighbours This book recounts the experiences of the MSF teams working in the field

Sword & Salve Peter J. Hoffman,Thomas G. Weiss,2006-03-03 Arguing forcefully that changing times are a clarion call for new thinking this book convincingly shows that if humanitarian organizations continue to operate as they have in the past they will fail to help the very victims whom they try to save Focusing especially on the emergence of new wars Hoffman and Weiss insist that humanitarian organizations must recognize that they live in a political world and that their actions and goals are invariably affected by military action The brand of warfare that erupted in the 1990s marked by civil or transnational armed conflicts featuring potent non state actors altered political economies a high proportion of civilian casualties and a globalized media produced horrors that shocked consciences and led humanitarian agencies to question their unyielding stance of neutrality and impartiality Indeed in a departure from earlier norms and practices some have reinvented their policies and tools and created new humanitarianisms This authoritative book traces the evolution of the international humanitarian system from its inception in the 1860s parses the dynamics of war and emergency response from the 1980s through the current disasters in Afghanistan and Iraq and provides a strategic roadmap for practitioners By bringing historical perspective to bear this volume provides an invaluable analytical framework for grasping the nature of humanitarian crises and how agencies can respond strategically rather than reactively to change Students will find its blend of clearly presented theory and case studies a powerful tool for understanding the roles of state and non state actors in international relations By charting the tides of continuity and change this book will prepare agencies to dodge both figurative and actual bullets that threaten humanitarian action at the outset of the millennium

Climate Change, Disasters, Sustainability Transition and Peace in the Anthropocene Hans Günter Brauch,Úrsula Oswald Spring,Andrew E. Collins,Serena Eréndira Serrano Oswald,2018-09-14

This book provides insight into Anthropocene related studies by IPRA s Ecology and Peace Commission The first three chapters discuss the linkage between disasters and conflict risk reduction responses to socio environmental disasters in high intensity conflict scenarios and the fragile state of disaster response with a special focus on aid state society relations in post conflict settings The two following chapters analyse climate smart agriculture and a sustainable food system for a sustainable engendered peace and the ethnology of select indigenous cultural resources for climate change adaptation focusing on the responses of the Abagusii in Kenya A specific case study focuses on social representations and the family as a social institution in transition in Mexico while the last chapter deals with sustainable peace through sustainability transition as transformative science concluding with a peace ecology perspective for the Anthropocene

HIV in World Cultures Gustavo Subero,2016-04-22 This book analyses the way that HIV AIDS is often narrativised and represented in contemporary world cultures as well as the different strategies of remembrance deployed by different sub cultural groups affected by the illness Through a close study of a variety of cultural texts including cinema literature theatre art and photography amongst others it demonstrates the trajectory that such narratives and representations have undergone since the advent of the discovery of the disease in the 1980s Acknowledging the central yet often overlooked role that cultural products have played in the construction of public opinion towards the condition itself and those who suffer it this ground breaking volume focuses on a variety of narratives as well as strategies of coping with HIV AIDS that have emerged across the globe Bringing together research on the UK North and South America Africa and China it provides rich textual analyses of the ways in which the HIV positive body has been portrayed in contemporary culture with attention to the differences between specific national contexts whilst keeping in view a space of commonality amongst the different experiences reflected in such texts As such it will be of interest to social scientists and scholars of cultural and media studies concerned with cultural production and representations of the body and sickness

The Moral Demands of Affluence Garrett Cullity, 2006-09-21 Given that there is a forceful case for thinking that the affluent are morally required to devote a substantial proportion of what they have to helping the poor Garrett Cullity examines refines and defends an argument of this form He then identifies its limits

Internal Displacement Thomas G. Weiss, David A. Korn, 2006-09-27 This new volume traces the normative legal institutional and political responses to the challenges of assisting and protecting internally displaced persons IDPs The crisis of IDPs was first confronted in the 1980s and the problems of those suffering from this type of forced migration has grown continually since then Drawing on official and confidential documents as well as interviews with leading personalities Internal Displacement provides an unparalleled analysis of this important issue and includes an exploration of the phenomenon of internal displacement and of policy research about it a review of efforts to increase awareness about the plight of IDPs and the development of a legal framework to protect them a behind the scenes look at the creation and evolution of the mandate of the Representative of the Secretary General on IDPs a variety of case studies illustrating the difficulties in overcoming the operational shortcomings within the UN system a foreword by former UN high commissioner for refugees Sadako Ogata Internal Displacement will appeal to students and scholars with interests in war and peace forced migration human rights and global governance

International Development Studies Andrew Sumner, Michael A Tribe, 2008-04-11 A sure footed and self confident book ambitious in scope authoritative in execution and practical in its implications Simon Maxwell Director Overseas Development Institute London At last a development studies text that encourages self reflection from within the discipline Highly recommended Professor Ray Kiely Chair in International Politics Queen Mary University of London This is the book that academics development researchers and practitioners have been seeking for a long time It addresses the most important issues which development researchers and practitioners cope with each and every day Dr Tran Tuan Director Research and Training Centre for Community Development Hanoi Vietnam An insightful book for both development practitioners and researchers alike Professor K N Nair Director Centre for Development Studies Kerala India This book is about working professionally in Development Studies as a student researcher or practitioner It introduces and addresses the fundamental questions that everyone engaged with development must ask What is development and why do we wish to study it How do the many theoretical methodological and epistemological approaches relate to research and practical studies in development How are development research and practice linked Accessibly written with extensive use of case study material this book is an essential primer for students of development studies who require a concise penetrating overview of its foundations It is also core reading for students and practitioners concerned with the design of studies in the course of policy analysis sector reviews or project formulation management and evaluation

Complex Systems Theory and Development Practice Samir Rihani, 2002 Ranging over a wide terrain of social political and economic thinking and specific country experiences the author explains the key concepts in complex systems theory and their possible applications in development practice He examines various development issues and institutions in the light of what he sees as the limitations of rigid linear thinking in an essentially fluid non linear world Little wonder he concludes that the results of half a century of development effort have been so disappointing BOOK JACKET
