Thinking God Alan Brill, 2002 This work is the first study in any language of the thought and writings of Rabbi Zadok HaKohen of Lublin 1823 1900 who created a blend of ecstatic Hasidism and intellectual Talmud study With extensive citations of his writings it will be an entry point to his thought for many American readers To illuminate

R Zadok's innovative spiritual path in which one attains mystical experience through intellectual study of Torah Brill explores the realm of spiritual psychology with particular attention to individual growth in determinism and pluralism He shows that R Zadok's thought combined mystical Aristotelian and psychological elements This work also sheds important light on Lithuanian talmudic intellectualism and Polish Hasidism It is the first book to present a critical analytical portrait of hasidic theology Particular attention is paid to R Zadok's teacher Rabbi Mordekhai Leiner of Izbica whose individualistic philosophy undergirds R Zadok's teachings on the subject of free will Finally this superb study addresses the question of how a Jewish thinker in a traditional milieu was able to derive a theology with many elements we would consider modern even though he was largely insulated from and in theory opposed to contemporary Western non religious thinkers Published in association with Yeshiva University Press

The Antiquities of the Christian Church, 2 Volumes Joseph Bingham, 2006-02-10 The design which I have formed to myself is to give such a methodical account of the Antiquities of the Christian Church as others have done of the Greek and Roman and Jewish antiquities not by writing an historical or continued chronological account of all transactions as they happened in the church but by reducing the ancient customs usages and practices of the church under certain proper heads whereby the reader may take a view at once of any particular usage or custom of Christians for four or five of the first centuries to which I have generally confined my inquiries in this discourse from the Preface
