Every Fifth Child:

Every Fifth Child Leo A. Orleans, 2023-10-02 Originally published in 1972 this book illustrates why China's population problems are complex. It discusses at an introductory level 20th Century phenomena such as the decline in China's death rate as a result of improved public health and medicine and the possible effects of density pressure on migration on China's ethnic minorities and on foreign policy. It examines these issues in areas where policy and daily life cross over education, farming, manufacturing output in a country that faces huge challenges of urbanization, technological education and manpower.

Food Review, 1992 National Food Review, 1991 Retired at Eighteen: Political Economy of Child Labour in the Textiles and Allied Industries in India Abhijit Mukhopadhyay, Shoba Suri, Mihir Sharma, Oommen C. Kurian, 2020-11-05 This report analyses the use of child labour in the textiles and allied industries in India and the drivers that lead to its prevalence. India, home to one fifth of the world's children, has the highest rates of child labour: an estimated 33 million children under the age of 18 are engaged in work in various sectors across the country, from domestic service and agriculture to textiles and mining. The textiles and allied industries are the second largest employers in India, after agriculture, with 40 million direct and 60 million indirect employees. As a traditionally labour-intensive industry where flexible and low-cost labour has driven growth and pushed India's global competitiveness in the sector, the textiles sector is enabled by the massive use of child labour. The continuing practice of child labour has the potential to jeopardise India's push for incentivising foreign investments into the sector and integrating into global supply chains. This report seeks to address key facets of the issue and provide holistic policy solutions. It is divided into three sections. Chapter 1 reviews key literature about child labour in India, particularly its causes and impacts. The second chapter provides an analysis of child labour in India.

within the garment and textile industry using data from 88 sub state regions a collection of districts covered by the National Sample Survey NSS of 2011 2012 The final chapter tests the hypothesis that labour costs are the main drivers of global competitiveness in the textiles and allied industries This is done through an analysis of NSSO unit level data from the Enterprises Survey 2015 16 of ten sub state regions a Well-being, Poverty and Justice from a Child's Perspective Sabine Andresen, Susann Fegter, Klaus Hurrelmann, Ulrich Schneekloth, 2017-07-21 This book presents evidence that children are the real experts of their lives 2600 boys and girls in Germany between the ages of 6 of 11 years with and without a migration background were interviewed Next to established topics of family friends leisure time and school the focus of this study was on the topic of justice Children were asked what justice in their opinion was and whether they felt treated justly or not The 3rd World Vision Study puts the subjective well being of children into the focus and shows that children are able to report competently and authentically about their lives This volume is of great important to researchers policy makers and professionals interested in children s well being from children s own perspectives Children in Court Susan Gluck Mezey, 1996-07-03 Through an analysis of Supreme Court and lower court decisions over the last several decades this book determines the extent to which the federal courts have affected the legal political economic and social status of children in the U S Agriculture, Rural Development, and Related Agencies Appropriations for Fiscal Year 1993 United States. Myers, 2008-10-01 DIV For Americans entering the twenty first century it is the best of times and the worst of times Material wealth is at record levels yet disturbing social problems reflect a deep spiritual poverty In this compelling book well known social psychologist David G Myers asks how this paradox has come to be and more important how we can spark social renewal and dream a new American dream Myers explores the research on social ills from the 1960s through the 1990s and concludes that the materialism and radical individualism of this period have cost us dearly imperiling our children corroding general civility and diminishing our happiness However in the voices of public figures and ordinary citizens he now hears a spirit of optimism The national dialogue is shifting away from the expansion of personal rights and toward enhancement of communal civility away from efforts to raise self esteem and toward attempts to arouse social responsibility away from whose values and toward our values Myers analyzes in detail the research on educational and other programs that deal with social problems explaining which seem to work and why He then offers positive and well reasoned advice suggesting that a renewed social ecology for America will rest on policies that balance me thinking with we thinking div Hardness of Heart/hardness of Life Larry Stephen Milner, 2000 Infanticide is one of the most common yet least understood of all human crimes Although academic articles document isolated aspects of this problem a single unified analysis of infanticide has not been completed until now In Hardness of Heart Hardness of Life Larry Milner provides the first exhaustive survey of infanticide drawing on historical data from around the world He then uses this survey as a basis for investigating why infanticide has been present in every form of human society throughout history Both comprehensive and compelling this important study will intrigue students of human psychology social welfare and child abuse and will promote further research on this alarmingly overlooked atrocity Congressional Record United States.
