The European Union and Conflict Prevention Emma J. Stewart, 2006 The book examines the evolution of EU conflict prevention as an internal EU process and as an area of external cooperation with the UN OSCE and NATO Conflict prevention has emerged as a prominent EU policy in the post Cold War era Yet how suited is the organisation to practice conflict prevention and what does the record of cooperation with other key European organisations tell us about the EU's external priorities The book critically analyses the EU's policy and outcomes to date concluding that conflict prevention is underdeveloped by the EU and is in danger of being marginalised in favour of shorter term crisis management Moreover EU external cooperation reinforces this the priority is cooperation in crisis management with the UN and NATO rather than longer term cooperation with the OSCE

Europe After the Cold War Wojciech Kostecki,1996

European Security and Hybrid Threats Zeynep Arkan,2025-03-21 Hybrid threats have been defined in various ways by different security actors with their scope continuously expanding to encompass emerging insecurities within the evolving security environment As an umbrella term encompassing a wide spectrum of threats with complex and multidimensional features the notion of hybrid threats remains inherently vague and amorphous This lack of clarity presents significant challenges for policymakers who must constantly identify potential dangers anticipate risks and formulate effective responses to safeguard their polities and populations Consequently a persistent sense of insecurity has become a defining characteristic of the current European security landscape This new normal of European security is characterised by a series of un known unknowns that fall under the elusive concept of hybrid threats However rather than accepting this evolving security paradigm at face value this study calls for a critical examination of its underlying assumptions core concepts and broader political implications It argues that the hybrid threat narrative demands a re evaluation of what security means in contemporary Europe and how it is operationalised Moreover the study underscores the expansive nature of the hybrid threat framework which has the potential to include virtually any domain ranging from education and technology to research and public infrastructure thereby contributing to the securitisation of all aspects of social and political life This expansive and ambiguous framing raises important questions about the limits of security and allocation of resources carrying considerable implications for democratic governance in Europe Dr Zeynep Arkan is an Associate Professor of International Relations at Hacettepe University Ankara and a Visiting Fellow at the sterreichisches Institut f r Internationale Politik Vienna She holds a BSc from Middle East Technical University Ankara an MA from Exeter University Exeter and a PhD from the University of Kent Canterbury

New Security Challenges in Postcommunist Europe Andrew Cottey, Derek Averre, 2002 Cubism was the most influential artistic movement that emerged in the twentieth century The hallmarks of its style were stamped on the art design and architecture and its aesthetic principles governed the representation of modernity across all the arts Yet just what cubism was or stood for at the time of its emergence is still in dispute while the explanations offered for its importance for twentieth century art and its legacy for the present are bewildering in their variety This fascinating book offers a way beyond this confusion a narrative of its beginnings consolidation and dissemination that takes into account not only what the style and the movement signified at the time of its emergence but also the principal writings through which cubism's significance for modernism has been established Visually stunning with over 100 illustrations this is an essential work for all students and teachers of modern art history

Herranz-Surrallés,2013-09-13 The tension between the aim of creating sustainable multilateral region building dynamics and the need to find more differentiated and flexible forms of cooperation has been ever present in Euro Mediterranean relations The proliferation of different and partially overlapping initiatives in recent years the Euro Mediterranean Partnership the European Neighbourhood Policy and the Union for the Mediterranean is a plain expression of this tension The 2011 episodes of regime change in the Arab world have once again placed the debate about differentiation in EU s relations with Southern and Eastern Mediterranean Countries at the top of the Union s foreign policy agenda This book contributes to theoretical and practical debates on whether differentiation processes can aid or hinder policy convergence processes and region building efforts more widely The contributions to this collection assess the actual significance and consequences of differentiation in Euro Mediterranean relations through sector specific in depth analyses covering issue areas as varied as environmental policy migration foreign and defence policy trade energy civil protection and democracy promotion The particular angle and comprehensive analysis of this book will make it of great interest for both scholars and policy makers alike in a moment when Euro Mediterranean are in need of a thorough rethink This book was based on a special issue of Mediterranean Politics
