Wagner, 2013-10-08 Accountability in Education discusses the debate surrounding the accountability of teachers and questions the responsibility that parents other groups and even children themselves have for their experience at school In this book Robert Wagner examines the assumptions underlying criticisms of major institutions for their lack of attention to the ethical and practical ramifications of their policies Wagner questions the validity of this assumption by analyzing accountability relationships in schools discussing the responsibility students have for the quality of their own experiences as well as the potential accountability of parents and other groups and relating the issue of accountability in education to questions of moral and legal obligation in areas such as business government and law His book provides a cogent philosophical analysis of accountability and is invaluable to an understanding of a major issue in the contemporary discussion of education The Business of Education Joel Spring, John Eric Frankson, Corie A. Larson, 2011-06-16 At any time public schools labor under great economic political and social pressures that make it difficult to create large scale whole school change But current top down mandates require that schools close achievement gaps while teaching more problem solving inquiry and research skills_ with fewer resources Failure to meet test based standards can produce consequences such as school closure or staff replacement With this real world challenge to education foremost this book presents pertinent research and instructive case studies of two good high schools It advocates a proven strategy of small scale incremental change_ small wins_ which increases the likelihood that schools will improve despite a climate of do more with less Chapters describe the current societal context the history of major change projects since the 1970s the organizational and social characteristics of schools and classrooms human factors that encourage and support improvement the effects of technology forces affecting teachers and principals commonplace components of and vehicles for change and practical levers and footings for change that can have a high positive payoff Information Series - ERIC Clearinghouse on Vocational and Technical Education, the Center for Vocational and Technical Education, the Ohio State University Ohio State University. 50 Myths and Lies That Threaten America's Public Schools David C. Berliner, Gene V Glass, 2014 Two of the most respected voices in education and a team of young education scholars identify 50 myths and lies that threaten America's public schools. With hard hitting information and a touch of comic relief, Berliner, Glass and their Associates separate fact from fiction in this comprehensive look at modern education reform. They explain how the mythical failure of public education has been created and perpetuated in large part by political and economic interests that stand to gain from its destruction. They also expose a rapidly expanding variety of organizations and media that intentionally misrepresent facts. Many of these organizations also suggest that their goal is unbiased service in the public interest when in fact they represent narrow political and financial interests. Where appropriate the authors name the promoters of these deceptions and point out how they are served by encouraging false beliefs. This provocative book features short essays on important topics to provide every elected representative, school administrator, school board member, teacher, parent and concerned citizen with much food for thought as well as reliable knowledge from authoritative sources. Berliner and Glass are long time critics of wrong headed education reforms. 50 Myths and Lies continues their record of evidence based truth telling. Joined by 19 young scholars in identifying 50 of the worst ideas for changing our nation's schools, they are able to sort through the cacophony of today's all too often ill informed debate. Anyone involved in making decisions about today's schools should read this book. Linda Darling Hammond, Charles E. Ducommun, Professor of Education, Stanford University. This book is true grit. It's the gritty reality of hard data. It's the irritating grit that makes you shift in your seat. And it's the grit that sometimes makes you want to weep. Well argued, well written, whether you agree or disagree with this book, if you care about the future of public education, you mustn't ignore it. Andy Hargreaves, professor, Thomas More Brennan Chair in Education, Lynch School of Education, Boston College. 50 Myths and Lies is a powerful defense of public education and a discerning refutation of the reckless misimpressions propagated by a juggernaut of private sector forces and right wing intellectuals who would gladly rip apart the legacy of democratic schooling in America. It is a timely and hard hitting book of scholarly but passionate polemic. The teachers of our children will be grateful. Jonathan Kozol, educator, author of Fire in the Ashes. What do you get when two world class scholars and a team of talented analysts take a hard look at 50 widely held yet unsound beliefs about U.S. public schools? Well, in this instance, you get a flat out masterpiece that by persuasively blending argument and evidence, blasts those beliefs into oblivion. Required reading. You bet. W. James Popham, professor emeritus, UCLA. David C. Berliner is an educational psychologist and bestselling author. He was professor and dean of the Mary Lou Fulton Institute and Graduate School of Education at Arizona State University. Gene V. Glass is a senior researcher at the National Education Policy Center and a research professor in the School of Education at the University of Colorado Boulder. Their Associates are the hand picked leading PhDs and PhDs in training from their respective institutions. Teaching in Japan Nobuo K. Shimahara, 2013-10-11. This collection of essays explores teaching in Japan as it relates to contemporary social change in the past two decades. The collection explores day to day teaching in Japan from the teacher's perspective, relying on first hand accounts by those within the system.
