

Every CHILD Ready to READ

 Talking |  Singing |  Reading |  Writing |  Playing

TALK

Talk, talk and talk some more to your baby and keep on sharing words, asking questions as your child grows. If you speak two languages in your home, speak them both. Little ones understand words before they can speak them. Explain what you are doing, ask and answer questions.

SING

You don't sing as well as Judy Garland? No one does! But your voice DOES MAKE MAGICAL MUSIC! Songs often have rhyming words which can help children hear individual parts of each word. Do you remember the names of the 50 states because of a song you learned as a child? Bet you do!

READ

Reading to and with your child is the most powerful way to prime them for a life-long love of reading. Choose books you both love and read them again and again. Point to the words on the page as you say them. Ask open-ended questions. Keep books in every room in your home.

WRITE

Your child learns reading skills through scribbling and drawing. Writing also helps them understand that written words represent ideas, things, places and events. Using crayons, markers and pencils helps children develop motor skills.

PLAY

Play helps little ones express themselves. Children learn through all of their senses. Exploring with play dough, puzzles, and movement will help them learn shapes and prepare them to recognize letters. Play has so many benefits for the mind and body of your little one and it is great fun.

YOU'VE GOT THIS!

Your library is here to help. We want to provide you with the tools you seek as you raise your little reader. Just ask. Visit shalerlibrarykids.org for more information.

Diversity Programming for Digital Youth Jamie Campbell Naidoo, 2014-06-24 Combining information about outreach to diverse populations, selection of culturally diverse children's print and digital media, and library programming, this book is the tool librarians need to promote cultural understanding through engaging children's programs designed for today's culturally diverse youth. Today's children live in a culturally diverse and constantly changing digital world. New digital media is created every day, but librarians and other educators need help in evaluating cultural content in digital apps, determining whether they send appropriate social messages to children, and learning how to use them in library programs that promote cultural competence. Diversity Programming for Digital Youth: Promoting Cultural Competence in the Children's Library provides just the help that is needed. This resource is the only one to examine the role of culturally diverse digital media and how it can be used with children's books to promote cultural competence in the library. It provides annotated lists of digital media paired with culturally diverse literature to offer librarians and educators a springboard for creating enriching, engaging, and culturally relevant programs for children from diverse backgrounds. The sample digital storytime programs celebrating diverse cultures will benefit busy librarians looking for ways to engage reluctant readers in library storytimes. Asian American Librarians and Library Services Janet Hyunju Clarke, Raymond Pun, Monnee Tong, 2017-12-08 What are the library services and resources that Asian Pacific Americans need? What does it mean to be an Asian Pacific American librarian in the 21st century? In Asian American Librarians and Library Services: Activism, Collaborations, and Strategies, library professionals and scholars share reflections, best practices, and strategies and convey the critical need for diversity in the LIS field. Library programming and resources to better reflect the rich and varied experiences and information needs of Asian Americans in the US and beyond. The contributors show that they care deeply about diversity; that they acknowledge that it is painfully lacking in so many aspects of libraries and librarianship; and that libraries and the LIS profession must systematically integrate diversity and inclusion into their strategic priorities and practices, indeed in their very mission, such that the rich diversity of experiences and histories of Asian Americans in library and archival collections, services, and programming are not only validated and recognized but also valued and celebrated as vital components of the shared American experience. The volume recognizes and honors the creative and intentional work librarians do for their constituent Asian American communities in promoting resources, services, and outreach. Partnering with Parents Mary Schreiber, 2019-04-01 Caregiver involvement is key to a child's reading success story, and libraries are in the perfect position to provide the guidance needed for parents and caregivers to embrace their role as their children's first and most enduring teachers Libraries offer many programs and services for children but sometimes caregivers are left out of the equation especially once children start school Nevertheless parents and caregivers are an integral part of literacy development and libraries are a great place for them to witness modeling practices and participate in engaging family programs that encourage early literacy Mary Schreiber combines personal experience and professional research with the programming expertise of youth librarians from across the country in this guide for libraries looking to make an even greater impact on the level of literacy attained by the children they serve In Partnering with Parents readers will find a wealth of information on how to talk to caregivers about the different stages of a child s reading life what books to recommend to excite both caregivers and children about reading and ways to encourage parent and caregiver participation in library programming with additional information on working with and providing programming for diverse families Whether you are a veteran in the profession or brand new to working with families you will find something in this book that will help you to make your library a more integral part of the education community Inspired Collaboration Dorothy Stoltz, 2016-01-28 A book that will inspire effective communication and accountability within your organization and among community allies
