Ecology Control And Economic Development In East African History:

Ecology Control and Economic Development in East African History Helge Kjekshus, 2023-11-15 Ecology Control and Economic Development in East African History The Case of Tanganyika 1850 1950 explores a significant shift in East African historiography particularly with the move toward political independence This change has prompted a re examination of the African past with an emphasis on reclaiming African agency rejecting colonial era interpretations that focused predominantly on European actions Scholars like Oliver Mathew Kimambo and Temu have led the way in this new wave of historiography arguing that the African past was dynamic and that Africans were active agents in shaping their history particularly in the face of crises such as intertribal warfare and colonial incursions However this study seeks to go beyond political history and traditional frameworks shifting the focus to the ecological and economic systems that shaped African life in the 19th century The book argues that pre colonial East Africans were not merely responding defensively to external crises but were actively engaged in managing their environment and developing their economy Through ecological control such as agricultural and pastoral practices East Africans maintained a sustainable relationship with their land even in the face of challenges like the tsetse fly and the disruptions caused by intertribal conflict This study challenges the prevailing notion that East Africa was economically underdeveloped due to shifting cultivation and warfare Instead it highlights the prosperous agricultural and cattle economies that were able to thrive despite these challenges By examining the economic activities such as agriculture iron smelting and trade the study demonstrates the region s economic vibrancy and the agency of its people in controlling their environment and developing a complex economic system Through this approach the study calls for a reimagined understanding of East African history that emphasizes the active role of its peoples in shaping their destiny This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1977 Ecology Control and Economic Development in East African History Helge Kjekshus, 1977

Ecology Control & Economic Development in East African History Helge Kjekshus, 1996 Ecology Control and Economic Development in East African History H. Kjekshus, 1996 Africanizing Knowledge Toyin Falola, Christian Jennings, Nearly four decades ago Terence Ranger questioned to what extent African history was actually African and whether methods and concerns derived from Western historiography were really sufficient tools for researching and narrating African history Despite a blossoming and branching out of Africanist scholarship in the last twenty years that question is still haunting The most prestigious locations for production of African studies are outside Africa itself and scholars still seek a solution to this paradox They agree that the ideal solution would be a flowering of institutions of higher learning within Africa which would draw not only Africanist scholars but also financial resources to the continent While the focus of this volume is on historical knowledge the effort to make African scholarship more African is fundamentally interdisciplinary The essays in this volume employ several innovative methods in an effort to study Africa on its own terms The book is divided into four parts Part 1 Africanizing African History offers several diverse methods for bringing distinctly African modes of historical discourse to the foreground in academic historical research Part 2 African Creative Expression in Context presents case studies of African art literature music and poetry It attempts to strip away the exotic or primitivist aura such topics often accumulate when presented in a foreign setting in order to illuminate the social historical and aesthetic contexts in which these works of art were originally produced Part 3 Writing about Colonialism demonstrates that the study of imperialism in Africa remains a springboard for innovative work which takes familiar ideas about Africa and considers them within new contexts Part 4 Scholars and Their Work critically examines the process of African studies itself including the roles of scholars in the production of knowledge about Africa This timely and thoughtful volume will be of interest to African studies scholars and students who are concerned about the ways in which Africanist scholarship might become more African Toyin Falola a leading historian of Nigeria and a distinguished Africanist is the Frances Higginbotham Nalle Centennial Professor of History at the University of Texas at Austin His numerous publications include Yoruba Historiography African Historiography and Nationalism and African Intellectuals Christian Jennings is completing his Ph D at the University of Texas at Austin He has contributed chapters on environmental history to the five volume series on Africa published by Carolina Academic Press and is co editing a forthcoming book on historical methods

Environment and Empire William Beinart, Lotte Hughes, 2007-10-11 European imperialism was extraordinarily far reaching a key global historical process of the last 500 years It locked disparate human societies together over a wider area than any previous imperial expansion it underpinned the repopulation of the Americas and Australasia it was the precursor of globalization as we now understand it Imperialism was inseparable from the history of global environmental change Metropolitan countries sought raw materials of all kinds from timber and furs to rubber and oil They established sugar plantations that transformed island ecologies Settlers introduced new methods of farming and displaced indigenous peoples Colonial cities many of which became great conurbations fundamentally changed relationships between people and nature Consumer cultures the internal combustion engine and pollution are now ubiquitous Environmental history deals with the reciprocal interaction between people and other elements in the natural world and this book illustrates the diverse environmental themes in the history of empire Initially concentrating on the material factors that shaped empire and environmental change Environment and Empire discusses the way in which British consumers and manufacturers sucked in resources that were gathered hunted fished mined and farmed Yet it is also clear that British settler and colonial states sought to regulate the use of natural resources as well as commodify them Conservation aimed to preserve resources by exclusion as in wildlife parks and forests and to guarantee efficient use of soil and water Exploring these linked themes of exploitation and conservation this study concludes with a focus on political reassertions by colonised peoples over natural resources In a post imperial age they have found a new voice reformulating ideas about nature landscape and heritage and challenging at a local and global level views of who has the right to regulate nature African History through Sources: Volume 1, Colonial Contexts and Everyday Experiences, c.1850-1946 Nancy J. Jacobs,2014-06-16 African History through Sources recounts the history of colonial Africa through more than 100 primary sources produced by a variety of actors ordinary men and women the educated elite and colonial officials Including official documents as well as interviews memoirs lyrics and photographs the book balances coverage of the state and economy with attention to daily life family life and cultural change Entries are drawn from all around sub Saharan Africa and many have been translated into English for the first time Introductions to each source and chapter provide context and identify themes African History through Sources allows readers to analyze change understand perspectives and imagine everyday life during an extraordinary time Tanzania, Post Report ,1984 Environmental Infrastructure in African History Emmanuel Kreike,2013-05-13 Environmental Infrastructure in African History offers a new approach for analyzing and narrating environmental change Environmental change conventionally is understood as occurring in a linear fashion moving from a state of more nature to a state of less nature and more culture In this model non Western and pre modern societies live off natural resources whereas more modern societies rely on artifact or nature that is transformed and domesticated through science and technology into culture In contrast Emmanuel Kreike argues that both non Western and pre modern societies inhabit a dynamic middle ground between nature and culture He asserts that humans in collaboration with plants animals and other animate and inanimate forces create environmental infrastructure that constantly is remade and re imagined in the face of ongoing processes of change Wasting the Rain (Routledge Revivals) William M. Adams Adams,2014-05-01 First published in 1992 this title offers an experienced and constructive evaluation of the ways in which water resources have been developed in Africa Adams argues that the best hope of productive development lies in working and engaging with local people and using local knowledge of the environment effectively Modern large scale developments that have largely been ineffective are examined and emphasis is placed on the importance of using the skills and concerns of those affected such as small farmers to develop ingenious water projects an approach that can be applied worldwide This is an interesting and relevant title which will be of particular value to those with an interest in the developments in water resource conservation over the past two decades A History of Modern Africa Richard J. Reid,2012-01-17 Updated and revised to emphasise long term perspectives on current issues facing the continent the new 2nd Edition of A History of Modern Africa recounts the full breadth of Africa s political economic and social history over the past two centuries Adopts a long term approach to current issues stressing the importance of nineteenth century and deeper indigenous dynamics in explaining Africa s later twentieth century challenges Places a greater focus on African agency especially during the colonial encounter Includes more in depth coverage of non Anglophone Africa Offers expanded coverage of the post colonial era to take account of recent developments including the conflict in Darfur and the political unrest of 2011 in Egypt Tunisia and Libya Encyclopedia of Historians and Historical Writing Kelly Boyd,2019-10-09 The Encyclopedia of Historians and Historical Writing contains over 800 entries ranging from Lord Acton and Anna Comnena to Howard Zinn and from Herodotus to Simon Schama Over 300 contributors from around the world have composed critical assessments of historians from the beginning of historical writing to the present day including individuals from related disciplines like Jürgen Habermas and Clifford Geertz whose theoretical contributions have informed historical debate Additionally the Encyclopedia includes some 200 essays treating the development of national regional and topical historiographies from the Ancient Near East to the history of sexuality In addition to the Western tradition it includes substantial assessments of African Asian and Latin American historians and debates on gender and subaltern studies

Encyclopedia of Twentieth-Century African History Dickson Eyoh,Paul Tiyambe Zeleza,2005-10-24 With nearly two hundred and fifty individually signed entries the Encyclopedia of Twentieth Century African History explores the ways in which the peoples of Africa and their politics states societies economies environments cultures and arts were transformed during the course of that Janus faced century Overseen by a diverse and distinguished international team of consultant editors the Encyclopedia provides a thorough examination of the global and local forces that shaped the changes that the continent underwent Combining essential factual description with evaluation and analysis the entries tease out patterns from across the continent as a whole as well as within particular regions and countries it is the first work of its kind to present such a comprehensive overview of twentieth century African history With full indexes and a thematic entry list together with ample cross referencing and suggestions for further reading the Encyclopedia will be welcomed as an essential work of reference by both scholar and student of twentieth century African history Choice Outstanding Academic Title 2004

African Womanhood in Colonial Kenya, 1900-50 Tabitha M. Kanogo,2005 Within a broad analysis of colonial opportunities for physical social and educational mobility Kanogo shows how African and British male authorities tried with uncertain opinions and from different perspectives to control female initiatives and how to very varying degrees women managed to achieve increasing measures of control over their own lives North America Ohio U Press Kenya EAEP Rural Settlement Structure And African Development Marilyn Silberfein,2019-09-16 This volume is the result of a group of researchers applying their insights and experience to a common theme All the authors are concerned with rural development in Africa and all have focused on the connection between the development process and the arrangement of people and their built environment in rural space Both anthropologists and geographers have contributed to the dialogue on this subject and representatives of the two disciplines are included in this volume The members of this group have never all been in the same place at the same time and so have utilized various electronic modes of communication to link their locations around the world Two conferences were organized however among a subset of the whole in order to generate a group discussion One of these meetings was a symposium on African rural development held at Temple University while a second was organized at the African Studies Association Meetings in Toronto Both opportunities helped raise issues that found their way into individual chapters The audience in each case further stimulated our thinking

World Histories from Below Antoinette Burton, Tony Ballantyne, 2022-02-10 History has traditionally privileged elites and their accomplishments World Histories from Below provides an antidote placing ordinary people and subordinated subjects at the heart of the themes it explores Arguing that disruption and dissent are overlooked agents of historical change it takes a global view of topics including political revolution religious conversion labour struggles and body politics This 2nd edition includes two additional chapters on indigenous peoples migration and environmental histories from below With an updated preface this enhanced text also includes additional images and case studies to grapple with themes that have more recently come to the fore such as populism and the environment Offering a study of these themes from 1750 to the present day World Histories from Below refocuses our entire approach to teaching world history

Water Brings No Harm Matthew V. Bender, 2019-04-09 In Water Brings No Harm Matthew V Bender explores the history of community water management on Mount Kilimanjaro in Tanzania Kilimanjaro's Chagga speaking peoples have long managed water by employing diverse knowledge hydrological technological social cultural and political Since the 1850s they have encountered groups from beyond the mountain colonial officials missionaries settlers the independent Tanzanian state development agencies and climate scientists who have understood water differently Drawing on the concept of waterscapes a term that describes how people see water and how physical water resources intersect with their own beliefs needs and expectations Bender argues that water conflicts should be understood as struggles between competing forms of knowledge Water Brings No Harm encourages readers to think about the origins and interpretation of knowledge and development in Africa and the global south It also speaks to the current global water crisis proposing a new model for approaching sustainable water development worldwide

Sub-Saharan Africa Gregory H. Maddox, 2006-03-24 A wealth of information and analysis on the environmental forces that have helped shaped the cultures of the African continent A scholarly reference work that will also appeal to the general reader Sub Saharan Africa sets the story of the African environment within the context of geological time and shows how the continent's often harsh conditions prompted humans to develop unique skills in agriculture animal husbandry and environmental management Part of ABC CLIO's Nature and Human Societies series this book enables readers to better grasp the extent of humanity's effect on our world Of particular interest are the book's sections dealing with the impact of the Biafran famine of the 1960s the Sahelian drought of the 1970s population growth and the ongoing challenges of war and HIV AIDS Crucially the book also shows how despite their relative poverty many African states have coped admirably with rapid urbanization and have developed world class conservation and sustainability programs in order to protect and harness some of the most endangered species in the world and the Environment Stephen M. Sloan, Mark Cave, 2022 As uncontrolled development forces crises in the natural world deeply ingrained human connections with the earth are changing Oral history's proven ability to explore issues of race ethnicity class gender and sexuality make it a uniquely effective methodology for bringing in new perspectives to our understanding of environments This book brings together interviews with a global range of activists farmers water system managers victims of catastrophe tribal trustees wilderness rangers reindeer herders and foresters among others whose life experience gives them special insights into human environmental interaction and adaption Commentary by oral historians examines how these stories can be used to better understand our relationship with the natural world Oral History and the Environment takes what could seem broad and impersonal forces such as climate change and environmentalism and crystalizes their meaning through personal stories It overturns narrow historical frameworks bounded artificially by national borders and instead portrays the issues facing our common ecosystems

Oral History
