An Economic History of Ghana from the Earliest Times Francis Agbodeka,1992

Historical Dictionary of Ghana

Edmund Abaka,David Owusu-Ansah,2024-02-27 Ghana the former British West African colony of the Gold Coast is known for its rich agricultural mineral and petroleum resources Ghana has made tremendous strides in all areas of life and has become the gateway to West Africa if not all of Africa Observers now cite the country s achievement of economic recovery political stability and democratized governance as an example worthy of emulation by other African countries Historical Dictionary of Ghana Fifth Edition contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has more than 900 cross referenced entries on important personalities as well as aspects of the country s politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Ghana

Historical Dictionary of Ghana David Owusu-Ansah,2014-02-27 Ghana the former British colony of the Gold Coast is historically known for being the first country to the south of the Sahara to attain political independence from colonial rule It is known for its exports of cocoa and a variety of minerals especially gold and it is now an oil exporting country But Ghana s importance to the African continent is not only seen in its natural resources or its potential to expand its agricultural output Rather the nation s political history of nationalism the history of military engagement in politics record of economic depression and the ability to rise from the ashes of political and economic decay is the most unique character of the country This fourth edition of Historical Dictionary of Ghana covers its history through a chronology an introductory essay appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 900 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Ghana

Routledge Handbook of Global Economic History

Francesco Boldizzoni,Pat Hudson,2015-12-22 The Routledge Handbook of Global Economic History documents and interprets the development of economic history as a global discipline from the later nineteenth century to the present day Exploring the normative and relativistic nature of different schools and traditions of thought this handbook not only examines current paradigmatic western approaches but also those conceived in less open societies and in varied economic political and cultural contexts In doing so this book clears the way for greater critical understanding and a more genuinely global approach to economic history This handbook brings together leading international contributors in order to systematically address cultural and intellectual traditions around the globe Many of these are exposed for consideration for the first time in English The chapters explore dominant ideas and historiographical trends and open them up to critical transnational perspectives This volume is essential reading for both academics and students in economic and social history As this field of study is very much a bridge between the social sciences and humanities the issues examined in the book will also have relevance for those seeking to understand the evolution of other academic disciplines under the pressures of varied economic political and cultural circumstances on both national and global scales

Commerce and Economic Change in West Africa Martin Lynn, 2002-05-02 An authoritative and comprehensive study of the palm oil trade Routledge Handbook of Critical African Heritage Studies Ashton Sinamai, John D. Giblin, Shadreck Chirikure, Ishanlosen Odiaua, 2024-09-06 This handbook is a foundational reference point for critical heritage research about Africa and its diaspora. Foregrounding the diversity of knowledge systems needed to examine heritage issues in such a diverse continent, the contributors to this volume argue for an understanding of heritage that is at once both natural and cultural, tangible and intangible, political and dissonant, going beyond the physical and objective to include subjective narratives, performances, rituals, memories, and emotions. It examines the pre-coloniality, coloniality, post-coloniality, and decoloniality of current African heritage discourses and their consequences; analyses how heritage legislation derived from colonial law is compatible or otherwise with how heritage is perceived, identified, and remembered in African communities; discusses questions of repatriation, restitution, and reparations in relation to the return of artefacts from Western countries; illuminates the importance of difficult heritage within Africa and its diaspora; considers the role of heritage for development in Africa. Making a crucial contribution to our understanding of African conceptions and practices of heritage, this book is an important read for scholars of African Studies, heritage, and museum studies, archaeology, anthropology, and history.

Economies after Colonialism Lindsay Whitfield, 2018-06-21 Despite Ghana's strong democratic track record in recent decades, the economy remains underdeveloped. Industrial policies are necessary to transform the colonial trading economy that Ghana inherited at independence, but successive governments have been unwilling or unable to implement them. In this highly original interpretation, supported by new empirical material, Lindsay Whitfield exposes the reasons for why the Ghanaian economy remains underdeveloped and sets her theory in the wider African context. She offers a new way of thinking about the political economy of Africa that charts a clear path away from defining Africa in terms of neopatrimonial politics and that provides new conceptual tools for addressing what kind of business-state relations are necessary to drive economic development. As a study of Ghana that addresses both the economy and politics from early colonialism to the present day, this is a must-read for any student or scholar interested in the political economy of development in Africa.

The King of Drinks Dmitri Van Den Bersselaar, 2007 Using a focus on the trajectory of commoditisation of gin in West Africa, this book investigates how imported goods acquire specific local meanings. It shows that local consumers, not foreign advertisers, produced the importance of schnapps gin for African ritual.

Private Enterprise-Led Economic Development in Sub-Saharan Africa John Kuada, 2015-10-05 Private Enterprise-Led Development in Sub-Saharan Africa provides a novel theoretical and conceptual model to guide research into Africa's economic development. It endorses the view that private enterprise-led growth will help reduce poverty since it strengthens individuals' capacity to care for themselves and their families.

The Asante World Edmund Abaka, Kwame Osei Kwarteng, 2021-05-30 The Asante World provides fresh perspectives on the Asante, the largest Akan group in Southern Ghana, and what new scholars are thinking and writing about the world the Asante made By employing a thematic approach the volume interrogates several dimensions of Asante history including state formation Asante Ahafo and Bassari Dagomba relations in the context of Asante northward expansion and the expansion to the south It examines the role of Islam which although extremely intense for just a short time had important ramifications Together the essays excavate key aspects of Asante political economy and culture exemplified in kola nut production the kente adinkra cloth types and their associated symbols proverbs and drum language The Asante World explores the Asante origins of Jamaican maroons Asante secular government contemporary politics of progress governance through the institution of Ahemaa or Queenmothers epidemiology and disease and education in the twentieth and twenty first centuries Featuring innovative and insightful contributions from leading historians of the Asante world this volume is essential reading for advanced undergraduates postgraduates and scholars concerned with African Studies African diaspora history the history of Ghana and the Gold Coast the history of Islam in Africa and Asante history

The Palgrave Handbook of Blue Heritage Rosabelle Boswell, David O'Kane, Jeremy Hills, 2022-06-15 This handbook is unique in its consideration of social and cultural contributions to sustainable oceans management It is also unique in its deconstruction of the hegemonic value attached to the oceans and in its analysis of discourses regarding what national governments in the Global South should prioritise in their oceans management strategy Offering a historical perspective from the start the handbook reflects on the confluence of western scientific discourse and colonialism and the impact of this on indigenous conceptions of the oceans and on social identity With regard to the latter the authors are mindful of the nationalisation of island territories worldwide and the impact of this process on regional collaboration cultural exchange and the valuation of the oceans Focusing on global examples the handbook offers a nuanced region relevant contemporary conceptualisation of blue heritage discussing what will be required to achieve an inclusive oceans economy by 2063 the end goal date of the African Union's Agenda 2063 The analysis will be useful to established academics in the field of ocean studies policymakers and practitioners engaged in research on the ocean economy as well as graduate scholars in the ocean sciences

African Food Systems Emmanuel Ndhlovu, 2025-07-26 This book explores the evolving nature of food systems in Africa which are at crisis point The authors present case studies from across the continent to propose innovative and contextually relevant approaches to food systems resilience and food systems sustainable transformation They investigate the contemporary challenges to food systems in Africa including climate change pandemics energy challenges and war and conflict inside and outside Africa This book demonstrates how approaches to food can shift away from production consumption and value chains toward safety networks and complexity This book brings new insight to the challenges in food systems from many disciplines from agriculture tourism health climate science AI and digital science political science and economics Trust, Institutions and Managing Entrepreneurial Relationships in Africa Isaac

Oduro Amoako,2018-11-27 This book highlights the importance of understanding how trust and indigenous African cultural institutions enhance the development of entrepreneurial networks and relationships in Africa Drawing on institutional theories the author re examines the way that entrepreneurial behaviour can be shaped with a focus on trust networks and the development of relationships Analysing a combination of existing literature and empirical data from 50 internationally trading SMEs in Africa this book reflects the growing interests of entrepreneurs investors and corporate executives to develop trust and relationships with customers in order to invest and grow By addressing the need for a greater understanding of how social and cultural institutions in Africa affect the continent s economy this book not only offers theoretical frameworks but also future implications for practice and policy and will provide essential reading for those studying emerging markets and globalisation African business and entrepreneurship more generally Intergenerational

Support and Old Age in Africa Isabella Aboderin,2017-09-08 In most societies of the world including in Africa responsibility for the material support of older people unable to sustain themselves through work or investments has originally resided with their younger generational family members especially their adult children Aboderin explores this topic specifically for Africa In the wake of social or economic change societies experience shifts in the degree in which families support their elders Questions about the proper balance of family and state responsibilities however persist especially in the light of socio demographic trends and constraints in public expenditure In most of sub Saharan Africa in contrast to other world regions economic security policies for older people have not yet been formulated despite declines in material family support along with rising poverty to which a growing elderly population is particularly exposed In part this betrays the crucial lack of understanding about how and why these shifts in support have occurred in African societies and thus a profound uncertainty about what balance of individual family and state responsibilities will be culturally appropriate and effective in ensuring economic security for older Africans both now and in the future Abdorein aims to address these gaps in understanding She provides an empirical and theoretical analysis of the micro and macro level processes that have underpinned recent declines in old age family support in African societies and likely parameters of future familial support She also addresses more fundamental theoretical questions about how we should think about the relationships between intergenerational support norms and values and societal change Intergenerational Support in Africa should be of interest to anyone interested in the subjects of African studies economic policy and theory concerning elder care as well as those interested in sociology and social welfare development Ghana Jeffrey Ahlman,2023-10-05 Few African countries have attracted the international attention that Ghana has. In the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries the then colonial Gold Coast emerged as a key political and intellectual hub for British West Africa. Half a century later when Ghana became the first sub-Saharan state to emerge from European colonial rule it became a key site for a burgeoning transnational African anticolonial politics that drew activists, freedom fighters and intellectuals from around the world. As the twentieth century came to a close, Ghana also became an international symbol of the putative successes of post-Cold War African liberalization and democratization projects. Here Jeffrey Ahlman narrates this rich political history stretching from the beginnings of the very idea of the Gold Coast to the country's 1992 democratization which paved the way for the Fourth Republic. At the same time he offers a rich social history stretching that examines the sometimes overlapping, sometimes divergent nature of what it means to be Ghanaian through discussions of marriage, ethnicity and migration of cocoa as a cultural system of the multiple meanings of chieftaincy and of other contemporary markers of identity. Throughout it all Ahlman distills decades of work by other scholars while also drawing on a wide array of archival, oral, journalistic and governmental sources in order to provide his own fresh insights. For its clear comprehensive coverage not only of Ghanaian history but also of the major debates shaping nineteenth and twentieth century African politics and society more broadly, Ghana: A Political and Social History is a must-read for students and scholars of African Studies.

Nima-Maamobi in Ghana's Postcolonial Development Charles Prempeh, 2022-07-15. This book provides a deep insight into the socio-economic reality and complexity of two of Ghana's largest slums, Nima and Maamobi, located in the capital city Accra. It identifies and analyses the socio-religious, cultural and political contexts of the two communities. These are ethnically and religiously diverse populations with a common history of migration and integration. The book shows that the causes of economic stagnation and underdevelopment in the two slums are deeply contextualised, complex and nuanced. Through a biographical examination of the political activism of Agnes Amoah, a foremost local leader, the book brings to bear how Mrs Amoah also brought socio-economic transformation to the communities by breaking cultural, religious and gender barriers in the interest of conviviality. In context, the book sheds important insight on the urban, political and the local and translocal histories that have shaped the social transformations of Nima and Maamobi.
