Economic Growth with Social Justice Khadija Haq, 2018-02-16. Considered the most articulate and persuasive spokesman for the developing world in the twentieth century, renowned economist Mahbub ul Haq (1934-1998) made a major impact on development philosophy and lending policies of the World Bank. Following the trajectory of four decades from the 1960s to the 1990s, tracking an ideological transition from growth only to growth with distribution, Economic Growth with Social Justice distinctly portrays Haq's contribution to the larger international development debate. His work is contextualized, explaining its significance in shaping development theory, policy and practice as a result, emphasizing its on-going influence and relevance in contemporary times.

Globalization, Social Justice, and the Helping Professions William Roth, Katharine Briar-Lawson, 2011-04-28. This landmark book brings together the reality of globalization and the imperative for social justice for helping professionals and students. Helping professions such as social work, counseling and community building in non-profit agencies, NGOs and government and the people and needs they serve can no longer be understood outside a global framework. While the very notion of helping professions entails a social justice perspective, the relationship between the effects of globalization and the requirements of social justice have been missing from the literature, education and practice of these fields. This book provides an understanding of the economic and social dimensions of globalization, how globalization increases the interdependence of nations, the particular risks and opportunities it presents and how some aspects of globalization can exacerbate oppression and marginalization. There are particular explorations of the challenges globalization presents in Africa and South America and a consideration of the special needs of children and families in the global context. This is a necessary volume. Its distinguished contributors have various perspectives on globalization but all write to inform and assist the work of those whose vocation is to help others.

State Structure, Policy Formation, and Economic Development in Southeast Asia Antoinette R. Raquiza, 2013-06-17. Why do some small developing countries industrialize and others don't? What factors account for different economic performance among states that are vulnerable to external shocks, crony capitalism and political instability? This book argues that the answer lies in the structuring of state power, specifically the way different sets of governing elites, political leaders and economic technocrats are embedded in political organisations and state institutions and the way these elites relate to each other in the economic development policy process. Conducting a comparative historical analysis of Thailand and the Philippines, the book argues that the institutional settings of governing elites influence economic outcomes. In Thailand, political power traditionally connects to state institutions in ways that has limited the impact of political turnovers and global downturns conducive to long term industrial activities In contrast Philippine state power derives from family networks that merge social and political power suited to fast moving short term commercial interests In focusing on this political and institutional story the author analyses the current development dilemmas of countries weighed down by historical legacies of unstable regimes dependency and social conflict and how they are likely to develop in the future Poverty Alleviation and Rural Poor Meeta Krishna,2003 This Book Provides A Holistic View Of The Issues Related To Poverty Allieviation And Rural Poor With The Qualities Of Ground Realities That Could Be Observed In The Analysis Of The Book It Will Serve As A Sound Basis To Initiate Remedial Measures The Arab Spring Five Years Later Hafez Ghanem,2016-03-01 This two volume set explores in depth the economic origins and repercussions of the Arab Spring revolts Volume 1 of The Arab Spring Five Years Later is based on extensive research conducted by scholars from a variety of backgrounds including many associated with the Japan International Cooperation Agency JICA The original research papers are gathered in volume 2 and are available for readers who wish to go even further in understanding the economic background of the Arab Spring Papers examine women s issues and agricultural practices in Morocco urban transportation small enterprises governance and inclusive planning in Egypt reconstruction in Iraq youth employment in Tunisia education in Yemen and more In addition to Hafez Ghanem contributors include Mongi Boughzala University of Tunis ElManar Tunisia Mohamed Tlili Hamdi University of Sfax Tunisia Yuriko Kameyama JICA Hideki Matsunaga JICA Mayada Magdy JICA Yuko Morikawa JICA Akira Murata JICA Kei Sakamoto JICA Seiki Tanaka JICA Masanori Yoshikawa JICA and Takako Yuki JICA Globalisation, Environment and Social Justice Manish Verma,2018-07-06 This volume provides a comprehensive account of the connections between globalisation environment and social justice It examines varied dimensions of environmental sustainability the adverse impact of globalisation on environment and its consequences for poverty unemployment and displacement the impacts on marginalised sections such as scheduled castes and tribes and women and policy frameworks for ensuring environmental sustainability and social justice The chapters build on detailed case studies from different parts of the world and deal with critical environmental issues such as global emissions climate change sustainable development green politics species protection water governance waste management food production and governance besides education inclusivity and human rights Presenting a range of topics alongside new perspectives and discourses this interdisciplinary book will be useful to students and researchers of political studies sociology and environmental studies as well as policymakers and those working in the government and civil society organisations
