Hap Arnold: Architect of American Air Power Flint O. DuPre, 1972 The story of General Henry Harley Arnold who was instrumental in the development of the United States Air Force      Architects of American Air Supremacy Dik A. Daso, 1997 The United States Air Force is the most technologically advanced service in the world Stealth precision global range and space systems are only a few of the hallmarks of USAF technology Airborne laser weapons super accurate sensors and hypersonic aircraft are already in the early stages of development Creations such as these are not the product of stagnant minds or idle hands It was in 1944 that General of the Army Henry H Hap Arnold established the Army Air Forces AAF Scientific Advisory Group SAG under the direction of Dr Theodore von Karman The SAG meticulously created the first science and technology forecast ever accomplished in military history The study predicted many of the developments in aviation technology which today most Americans take for granted Some of the more outstanding of these are supersonic flight precision weaponry accurate radar and the development of intercontinental ballistic missiles ICBM In Architects of American Air Supremacy Dik Daso tells the story of the founding of the scientific and technological base of today's USAF But this work is much more than simply a history of technology The SAG was a culminating point reached only after many years of building interpersonal relationships developing industrial bonds and tapping the wisdom of America's most influential scientists In large measure this book reflects the symbiotic nature of the military and the society which it serves This book is an introduction to the very nature of the USAF a service founded in aviation science and technology and built by great commanders innovators and dedicated men and women in the service of their nation      Hap Arnold and the Evolution of American Airpower Dik Daso, 2022-09-20 Taught to fly by the Wright Brothers appointed the first and only five star general of the Air Force and remembered as the man who won World War II's air war Henry Harley Hap Arnold is one of the most significant figures in American aviation history Despite his legacy as an air pioneer little has been written about him In the thoroughly detailed Hap Arnold and the Evolution of American Airpower reprinted to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the United States Air Force biographer and former military officer Dik Alan Daso draws on primary sources like Arnold's personal papers and formerly declassified military documents to sketch out his incredible life and career Daso describes important technology institutions and individuals who influenced Arnold's decisions as a general and reveals how the peacetime experiences of World War II's foremost military airman shaped the evolution of American military aviation This biography captures the adventurous career dynamic personality and bold vision of the father of the Air Force      American Airpower Comes of Age: General Henry H. "Hap" Arnold's World War II Diaries, Volume 1 ,      Architect of Air Power Brian D. Laslie, 2017-10-06 A biography of the pioneering four star general chronicling his influence on the United States Air Force At age 36 Laurence S Kuter 1905 1979 became the youngest general officer since William T Sherman He served as deputy commander of allied tactical air forces in North Africa during World War II and helped devise the American bombing strategy in Europe Although his combat contributions were less notable than other commanders in the Eighth Air Force few officers saw as many theaters of operation as he did or were as highly sought after After World War II he led the Military Air Transport Service Air University Far East Air Forces and served as commander in chief of the North American Air Defense Command NORAD Despite these accomplishments and others however Kuter remains widely underappreciated In Architect of Air Power Brian D Laslie offers the first biography of this important but unsung pioneer whose influence can be found in every stage of the development of an independent US Air Force From his early years at West Point to his days at the Air Corps Tactical School to his leadership role at NORAD Kuter made his mark with quiet efficiency He was an early advocate of strategic bombardment rather than pursuit or fighter aviation fundamentally changing the way air power was used and later helped implement the Berlin airlift in 1948 In what would become a significant moment in military history he wrote Field Manual 100-20 which is considered the Air Force's declaration of independence from the Army Drawing on diaries letters and scrapbooks Laslie offers a complete portrait of this influential soldier Architect of Air Power illuminates Kuter's pivotal contributions and offers new insights into critical military policy and decision making during the Second World War and the Cold War Praise for Architect of Air Power Laslie expertly brings into focus perhaps the least known of the major Air Force personalities of World War II and the early Cold War Kuter was the indispensable man behind the scenes in those years and this book fills a similarly indispensable gap in our understanding of the people and ideas that propelled the nation's air arm to independence and prominence Thomas Alexander Hughes author of Over Lord General Pete Quesada and the Triumph of Tactical Air Power in World War II Laslie's outstanding work on Laurence Kuter is the first full and highly effective look at this exceptionally important airman It gives the reader ample evidence of Kuter's central role in making America the quintessential airpower nation during the course of the twentieth century This will be the book on Kuter for many years to come Robert S Ehlers Jr author of The Mediterranean Air War Airpower and Allied Victory in World War II

Daso,U. S. Air Force (USAF),2017-10-31 This study highlights elements of technology with which Henry H Arnold and Theodore von Karman were directly involved The biographical approach emphasizing scientific and technological elements in Arnold s and Karman s lives is essential because the interaction of personalities as well as their institutions is inexorably linked to the development of American airpower The importance of the personalities involved precludes a purely technological history of the airplane or the Air Force as a system within itself For in the end it was two men using their broad experience and innovative ideas who created the blueprint with which American air supremacy has been built A major theme of this study is how people influence each other Consequently decisions affecting institutions are molded not just by experience but also by personal influences This is a history of ideas It is an examination of how the Air Force has come to believe itself a military service with its base firmly anchored in advanced technology and how those beliefs originated Additionally it is the story of how airpower technologies evolved through World War II Scientists had a hand in technological development but not the only hand Government officials directed and funded scientific and technological research University professors a large part of the scientific community accomplished much of the essential research This posed an interesting problem for Karman because traditionally American science had revolved around utilitarian values rather than theoretical understanding of both practical and scientific problems 1 Industry provided the brawn required to mount the massive buildup of World War II military forces But interaction of all of these shaped by perceptions vision and interpersonal experiences directed the actual evolution of airpower 2 Underlying the major themes in this study is the realization that an integral part of this technological evolution was frequently the result not of superior planning or wisdom but of good fortune or dumb luck and happenstance Contents Preface 1 Genesis 2 Educating An Airpower Architect 3 Conceptualizing The Future Air Force 4 The European Influence Theodore Von Karman 5 The Blueprint 6 Airpower Under Construction 7 Conclusion Appendix A The Military Career Of Henry Harley Arnold Cadet No 4596 Appendix B Where We Stand Appendix C Science The Key To Air Supremacy Glossary Bibliography

Hap Arnold Bill Yenne,2013-10-14 General Henry Harley Hap Arnold is widely considered the father of the United States Air Force But his long list of accomplishments doesn t begin or end there He was also the first and only five star general of the US Air Force one of the first US military aviators the first American to carry air mail and the architect of the war winning air strategy of World War II Marshal of the Royal Air Force Sir Charles Portal Richard Michael Milburn,2025-08-05 Charles Frederick Algernon Portal was born in Hungerford England in 1893 One of seven brothers Portal developed a fierce competitive streak and a steely determination from an early age Known by all who knew him as Peter Portal enlisted in the Army at the outbreak of the First World War as a dispatch rider being mentioned in General French s very first dispatch Portal s abilities were quickly recognized and he gained a commission in short order It was in the air that Portal saw his future and he subsequently transferred to the Royal Flying Corps initially as an observer before training as a pilot In this latter role Portal proved a courageous and instinctive leader garnering the rare accolade of a

DSO and Bar for his wartime service His meteoric rise continued in the inter war period and when Hitler's forces invaded Poland Portal had already ascended to the Air Force Board He then took the RAF's top command post at Bomber Command during the battles of France and Britain before replacing Cyril Newall as Chief of Air Staff aged just 47 in October 1940 Charles Portal was in General Eisenhower's words Britain's greatest wartime leader including Churchill Portal was a strategist a diplomat and an outstanding leader of the RAF in the Second World War He built productive and enduring relationships with the most powerful Allied leaders some of which including Churchill Bomber Harris and Hap Arnold are explored here Portal helped direct the UK's strategy from the darkest days of 1940 through to Allied victory in 1945 He never lost his calm even under the most extreme pressure and approached the war with a cool logic that defied the chaos of the day Despite his enormous achievements and being showered with post war accolades Portal is little known today His historical anonymity is a reflection of his disinterest in his own legacy He neither kept wartime diaries nor penned an egotistical autobiography to cash in on his post war fame He retired as he had served with dignity and humility traits that made him particularly influential with American allies As Wing Commander Rich Milburn reveals in this long overdue second biography Charles Portal was a hero in every sense a heroic battlefield leader in one global conflict and one of the men most directly responsible for Allied victory in a second

Airmen and air theory a review of the sources Phillip S. Meilinger, 2001 This part of the book reviews the state of American airpower biography and autobiography I have set certain parameters to define the boundaries of my discussion I discuss biographies and autobiographies anthologies and oral histories of military officers who served in senior positions Thus although the stories of great aviators like Eddie Rickenbacker Charles Lindbergh and Chuck Yeager are important those men did not command large forces either in combat or in peace they had only a temporary effect on the development of strategy and doctrine Similarly excluded are civilian political leaders and industrialists like Stuart Symington and Donald Douglas even though they played key roles In their own spheres What follows are the stories some published some not of America's greatest military airmen some told by themselves others by biographers The order of presentation is roughly chronological according to the time during which these men served The fact that a surprising number of air luminaries do not appear here means that much work remains to be done

Air Power and Warfare Elwood L. White, 2002 This highly selective bibliography supplements the original bibliography developed in 1978 by Ms Betsy C Kysely to support the Eighth Military History Symposium While this bibliography focuses primarily on materials published since the earlier bibliography was developed it does include some significant materials that were published prior to 1978 but that were omitted from that edition Emphasis in this supplement is on scholarly analysis of air power itself and scholarly depictions of its history Like most editions of the United State Air Force Academy Directorate of Libraries publication Special Bibliography Series this compilation is limited to current holdings of the Academic Library at the Academy It includes books reports government documents and journal articles Excluded are pictorial works newspaper articles works of fiction studies of the technology of aircraft and associated weaponry and items focused on the general history of aviation Readers wanting information on the history of aviation certainly prior to the Wright Brothers are encouraged to consult the U S Air Force Academy Friends of the Library publication The Genesis of Flight The Aeronautical History Collection of Colonel Richard Gimbel Aviation in the U.S. Army, 1919-1939 , Aviation in the U.S. Army, 1919-1939 Maurer Maurer,1987

Infantry ,2000 US Presidents and the Militarization of Space, 1946-1967 Sean N. Kalic,2012-05-02 In the clash of ideologies represented by the Cold War even the heavens were not immune to militarization Satellites and space programs became critical elements among the national security objectives of both the United States and the Soviet Union According to US Presidents and the Militarization of Space 1946 1967 three American presidents in succession shared a fundamental objective of preserving space as a weapons free frontier for the benefit of all humanity Between 1953 and 1967 Presidents Eisenhower Kennedy and Johnson all saw nonaggressive military satellite development as well as the civilian space program as means to favorably shape the international community s opinion of the scientific technological and military capabilities of the United States Sean N Kalic s reinterpretation of the development of US space policy based on documents declassified in the past decade demonstrates that a single vision for the appropriate uses of space characterized American strategies across parties and administrations during this period Significantly Kalic s findings contradict the popular opinion that the United States sought to weaponize space and calls into question the traditional interpretation of the space race as a simple action reaction paradigm Indeed beyond serving as a symbol and ambassador of US technological capability its satellite program provided the United States with advanced nonaggressive military intelligence gathering platforms that proved critical in assessing the strategic nuclear balance between the United States and the Soviet Union It also aided the three administrations in countering the Soviet Union s increasing international prestige after its series of space firsts beginning with the launch of Sputnik in 1957

N THE TWENTIETH CENTURY THE IMPACT OF FLIGHT REACHED INTO EVERY CORNER OF American society However nowhere has its impact been more dramatic than in the realm of military affairs Over the past one hundred years the evolution of military aviation technology has altered the way Americans have looked at national security The development of military aviation has had an enormous impact upon the battlefield which in turn has transformed international politics and the crafting of national security policy The question of how best to protect the United States against external military threats has come to involve the projection of military power abroad With the passage of time and accelerated advancement of military aviation technology the organization and development of air forces have assumed greater urgency and significance In 1934 James H Jimmy Doolittle noted that the future security of our nation is dependent upon an adequate air force AND this will become increasingly important as the science of aviation advances I
