The Iowa Review, 2009

Cartesian Sonata William H. Gass, 2013-08-07 From the award winning author of The Tunnel and Finding a Form four interrelated novellas that explore Mind Matter and God In the first novella Gass redefines Descartes philosophy God is a writer in a constant state of fumble Mind is represented by a housewife who is a modern day Cassandra And Matter is what and who else but the helpless and confused husband of Mind In the novella that follows the concept of salvation is explored through material possessions a collection of kitsch as a traveling businessman is slowly lost in the sheer surfeit of matter in a small Illinois town In another Gass explores the mind s ability to escape A young woman growing up in rural Iowa finds herself losing touch with the physical world as she loses herself in the poetry of Elizabeth Bishop And in The Master of Secret Revenges God appears in the form of Descartes evil demon Lucifer as Gass chronicles the life of a young man named Luther and his development from his devilish youth to his demonic adulthood A profound exploration of good and evil philosophy and action filled with the wit and style that have defined the work of William Gass

No Country Sonali Perera, 2014-01-28 Sonali Perera expands the discourse on working class fiction by considering a range of international noncanonical texts identifying textual political and historical linkages overlooked by Eurocentric scholarship Her readings connect the literary radicalism of the 1930s to the feminist recovery projects of the 1970s and the anticolonial and postcolonial fiction of the 1960s to today s counterglobalist struggles building a new portrait of the twentieth century s global economy and the experiences of the working class within it Perera considers novels by the Indian anticolonial writer Mulk Raj Anand the American proletarian writer Tillie Olsen Sri Lankan Tamil Black British writer and political journalist Ambalavaner Sivanandan Indian writer and bonded labor activist Mahasweta Devi South African born Botswanan Bessie Head and the fiction and poetry published under the collective signature Dabindu a group of free trade zone garment factory workers and feminist activists in contemporary Sri Lanka Upsetting the North South divide Perera creates a new genealogy of working class writing as world literature and transforms the ideological underpinnings casting literature as cultural practice

Deep River David Hamilton, 2014-03-21 Deep River uncovers the layers of history both personal and regional that have accumulated on a river bottom farm in west central Missouri This land was part of a late frontier passed over then developed through the middle of the last century as the author s father and uncle cleared a portion of it and established their farm Hamilton traces the generations of Native Americans frontiersmen settlers and farmers who lived on and alongside the bottomland over the past two centuries It was a region fought over by Union militia and Confederate bushwhackers as well as by their respective armies an area that invited speculation and the establishment of several small towns both before and after the Civil War land on which the Missouri Indians made their long last stand less as a military force than as a settlement and civilization land that attracted French explorers the first Europeans to encounter the Missouris and their relatives the Ioways Otoes and Osage a century before Lewis and Clark It is land with a long history of occupation and use extending millennia before the Missouris Most recently it was briefly and intensively receptive to farming before being restored in large part as state managed wetlands Deep River is composed of four sections each exploring aspects of the farm and its neighborhood While the family story remains central to each slavery and the Civil War in the nineteenth century and Native American history in the centuries before that become major themes as well The resulting portrait is both personal memoir and informal history brought up from layers of time the compound of which forms an emblematic American story Literary Magazine Review ,2002 Memory at These Speeds Jane Miller,1996 Contains 110 poems selected from 6 previously published works Directory of American Poetry Books ,1997 Short Story Index ,1999 Contemporary Authors New Revision Pamela Dear,2000-07 In response to the escalating need for up to date information on writers Contemporary Authors New Revision Series brings researchers the most recent data on the world s most popular authors These exciting and unique author profiles are essential to your holdings because sketches are entirely revised and up to date and completely replace the original Contemporary Authors entries For your convenience a soft cover cumulative index is sent biannually While Gale strives to replicate print content some content may not be available due to rights restrictions Call your Sales Rep for details Agricultural Science Review ,1971 A Reader on Race, Civil Rights, and American Law Timothy Davis, Kevin R.
