Harp Seal Pups Downs Matthews, 1997 The Arctic is a land of ice and snow a harsh world that seems ill suited to young animals Yet it is here that harp seal pups are raised They must quickly learn how to fend for themselves for in less than two weeks after birth they are weaned from their mothers and are forced to live on their own Matthews and Guravich trace the life cycle of these fascinating animals who are true Arctic survivors Full color photos The Cultural Landscapes of Port au Choix M. A. P. Renouf, 2011-03-28 Newfoundland lies at the intersection of arctic and more temperate regions and commensurate with this geography populations of two Amerindian and two Paleoeskimo cultural traditions occupied Port au Choix in northern Newfoundland Canada for centuries and millennia Over the past two decades The Port au Choix Archaeology Project has sought a comparative understanding of how these different cultures each with their particular origin and historical trajectory adapted to the changing physical and social environments impacted their physical surroundings and created cultural landscapes This volume brings together the research of Renouf her colleagues and her students who together employ multiple perspectives and methods to provide a detailed reconstruction and understanding of the long term history of Port au Choix Although geographically focussed on a northern coastal area this volume has wider implications for understanding archaeological landscapes human environment interactions and hunter gatherer societies Coastal Landscapes of the Mesolithic Almut Schülke, 2020-03-06 Coastal Landscapes of the Mesolithic Human Engagement with the Coast from the Atlantic to the Baltic Sea explores the character and significance of coastal landscapes in the Mesolithic on different scales and with various theoretical perspectives and methodological approaches Mesolithic people were strongly connected to the sea with coastal areas vital for subsistence and communication across the water This anthology includes case studies from Scandinavia western Europe and the Baltic area presented by key international researchers Topics addressed include large scale analyses of the archaeological and geological development of coastal areas the exploration of coastal environments with interdisciplinary methods the discussion of the character of coastal settlements and of their possible networks social and economic practices along the coast as well as perceptions and cosmological aspects of coastal areas Together these topics and approaches contribute in an innovative way to the understanding of the complexity of topographically changing coastal areas as both border zones between land and sea and as connecting landscapes Providing novel insights into the study of the Mesolithic as well as coastal areas and landscapes in general the book is an important resource for researchers of the Mesolithic and coastal archaeology U.S. Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico Marine Mammal Stock Assessments--2002 ,2002 Encyclopedia of Marine Mammals Bernd Würsig,J.G.M. Thewissen,Kit M. Kovacs,2017-11-27 The Encyclopedia of Marine Mammals Third Edition covers the ecology behavior conservation evolution form and function of whales dolphins seals sea lions manatees dugongs otters and polar bears This edition provides new content on anthropogenic concerns latest information on emerging threats such as ocean noise and impacts of climate change With authors and editors who are world experts this new edition is a critical resource for all who are interested in marine mammals especially upper level undergraduate and graduate students researchers and managers and is a top reference for those in related fields from oceanographers to environmental scientists Significant content and topic updates as well as the addition of new topics in such areas as anthropogenic disturbance Visual maps of the oceans and seas mentioned in contributions helping to place the geographical features described in the text with clear consistent species illustrations Written to help users learn new information or brush up on a topic quickly with the references at the end of each entry to help guide readers into more specialist literature Seals and Society ,2008 Coasts Under Stress Rosemary E. Ommer,2007-08-08 Rosemary Ommer and her project team combine formal scientific natural and social and humanist analysis with an examination of the lived experience of coastal people They analyze community erosion created by economic decline and the ecosystem damage caused by unrelenting industrial pressure on natural resources and look at the history of coastal communities their resource bases their economies and the way the lives of people are embedded in their environments
