Aspects of Independent Romania's Economic History with Particular Reference to Transition for EU Accession David

Turnock, 2016-04-15 After fifteen years of transition in the former communist states of Central and Eastern Europe it has become clear that for a substantial number the objective of reform and restructuring process is a market system in line with membership of the EU In this study the long term economic transformation of Romania is studied offering a detailed narrative and thematic account of events from the nineteenth to the twenty first centuries From the first steps towards large scale industrialisation begun prior to the First World War through the accelerated pace set by the communist regime after 1945 and the uncertainty following its subsequent collapse in 1989 the book addresses a wide range of pertinent issues that have shaped Romania's economic development The study also offers an interpretation of a distinctive phase in the modernisation of post communist Romania supported by economic historical surveys of the proceeding century as a context for recent restructuring on the eve of EU accession This is linked with trends in the region as a whole so that a broad perspective is maintained throughout the book By highlighting Romania's position as one of more backward accession states and considering in what ways its experience during transition differs from the more developed states of the region this study offers a valuable insight into both the history of Romania and its future prospects Furthermore it provides a valuable case study that can be compared and contrasted with other countries who are likewise still grappling with the legacy of a centralised economy and in the process of adopting a more market orientated approach in order to gain EU membership As such this study will be of interest not only to historians and economists but anyone with an interest in the expansion of the European Union

A New Europe, 1918-1923 Bartosz Dziewanowski-Stefańczyk, Jay Winter, 2022-03-03 This set of essays introduces readers to new historical research on the creation of the new order in East Central Europe in the period immediately following 1918 The book offers insights into the political diplomatic military economic and cultural conditions out of which the New Europe was born Experts from various countries take into account three perspectives They give equal attention to both the Western and Eastern fronts they recognise that on 11 November 1918 the War ended only on the Western front and violence continued in multiple forms over the next five years and they show how state building after 1918 in Central and Eastern Europe was marked by a mixture of innovation and instability Thus the volume focuses on three kinds of narratives those related to conflicts and violence those related to the recasting of civil life in new structures and institutions and those related to remembrance and representations of these years in the public sphere Taking a step towards writing a fully European history of the Great War and its aftermath the volume offers an original approach to this decisive period in 20th century European history
