

A romantic couple is shown in a close embrace. The man, on the left, has short brown hair and is wearing a grey t-shirt. He is looking down with a gentle smile. The woman, on the right, has long blonde hair and is wearing a black top. She is looking towards the camera with a soft smile. Her hand is resting on the man's chest, and his hand is resting on her arm. The background is a softly blurred indoor setting.

Wright,2014-06-09 Eschewing the often romanticized Underground Railroad narrative that portrays southern Ontario as the welcoming destination of Blacks fleeing from slavery The Promised Land reveals the Chatham Kent area as a crucial settlement site for an early Black presence in Canada The contributors present the everyday lives and professional activities of individuals and families in these communities and highlight early cross border activism to end slavery in the United States and to promote civil rights in the United States and Canada Essays also reflect on the frequent intermingling of local Black White and First Nations people Using a cultural studies framework for their collective investigations the authors trace physical and intellectual trajectories of Blackness that have radiated from southern Ontario to other parts of Canada the United States the Caribbean and Africa The result is a collection that represents the presence and diffusion of Blackness and inventively challenges the grand narrative of history
