Hard Boiled Masculinities:

Hard-boiled Masculinities Christopher Breu, 2005 The persona of the American male in the period between the two world wars was characterized by physical strength emotional detachment aggressive behavior and an amoral worldview This ideal of a hard boiled masculinity can be seen in the pages and even more vividly on the covers of magazines such as Black Mask which shifted from Victorian influenced depictions of men in top hats and mustaches in the early 1920s to the portrayal of much more overtly violent and muscular men Looking closely at this transformation Christopher Breu offers a complex account of how and why hard boiled masculinity emerged during an unsettled time of increased urbanization and tenuous peace and traces the changes in its cultural conception as it moved back and forth across the divide between high and low culture as well as the color line that bifurcated American society Examining the work of Ernest Hemingway Dashiell Hammett Chester Himes and William Faulkner as well as many lesser known writers for the hypermasculine pulp magazines of the 1920s and 1930s Breu illustrates how the tough male was a product of cultural fantasy one that shored up gender and racial stereotypes as a way of lashing out at the destabilizing effects of capitalism and social transformation Christopher Breu is assistant professor of English at Illinois State University

Detoxing Masculinity in Anglophone Literature and Culture Sara Martín, M. Isabel Santaulària, 2023-03-07 This edited volume rethinks Masculinity Studies by breaking away from the notion of the perpetual crisis of masculinity It argues that not enough has been done to distinguish patriarchy from masculinity and proposes to detox masculinity by offering a collection of positive representations of men in fictional and non fictional texts The editors show how ideas of hegemonic and toxic masculinity have been too fixed on the exploration of dominance and subservience and too little on the men and the male characters in fiction who behave following other ethical personal and socially accepted patterns Bringing together research from different periods and genres this collection provides broad multidisciplinary insights into alternative representations of masculinity

Globalization and the State in Contemporary Crime Fiction Andrew Pepper, David Schmid, 2016-09-23 Why has crime fiction become a global genre How do writers use crime fiction to reflect upon the changing nature of crime and policing in our contemporary world This book argues that the globalization of crime fiction should not be celebrated uncritically Instead it looks at the new forms and techniques writers are using to examine the crimes and policing practices that define a rapidly changing world In doing so this collection of essays examines how the relationship between global crime capitalism and policing produces new configurations of violence in crime fiction and asks whether the genre can find ways of analyzing and even opposing such violence as part of its necessarily limited search for justice both within and beyond the state

Revolutionary Masculinity and Racial Inequality Bonnie A. Lucero, 2021-12-01 One of the most paradoxical aspects of Cuban history is the coexistence of national myths of racial harmony with lived experiences of racial inequality Here a historian addresses this issue by examining the ways soldiers and politicians coded their discussions of race in ideas of masculinity during Cuba's transition from colony to republic Cuban insurgents the author shows rarely mentioned race outright Instead they often expressed their attitudes toward racial hierarchy through distinctly gendered language revolutionary masculinity By examining the relationship between historical experiences of race and discourses of masculinity Lucero advances understandings about how racial exclusion functioned in a supposedly raceless society Revolutionary masculinity she shows outwardly reinforced the centrality of color blindness to Cuban ideals of manhood at the same time as it perpetuated exclusion of Cubans of African descent from positions of authority
