Adult Crying Ad J.J.M. Vingerhoets,Randolph R. Cornelius,2012-12-06 Crying is a typical human expression of emotion Surprisingly until now little scientific attention has been devoted to this phenomenon Many textbooks on emotion fail to pay attention to it and in scientific journals there are hardly any contributions focusing on this behavior In contrast there is much interest from the lay public allowing pseudo scientists to formulate theories that have little or no scientific basis Is there any evidence in support of statements that crying is healthy or that not crying may result in toxification How do people react to the crying of others Is crying important for the diagnosis of depression and if so how This book aims to fill this gap in scientific literature Crying is discussed from several perspectives and specific attention is given to methodological issues and assessment Each chapter provides a review and a summary of the relevant scientific literature Perfect Flaws Tim Segrest,2006-11-02 I have given much thought into what this book is about but have failed to come up with a answer that I personally find fitting Poetry in itself is an expression of how people feel or see a related topic or thought which is usually never exactly like how another might view the same situation I started these poems when I was going through a hard time in my life both within the military and persoanlly The orders I was forced to carry out in the service didn t help either So there are other than just war poems in this book I guess this book is about something and nothing at the same time Its about all of us and how we see different phases in out lives I merely have chosen to write about them hoping I could help others along the way in some manner After all it did help me Tim Segrest Chicago Haunted Handbook Jeff Morris,Vince

Canada's Residential Schools: The History, Part 2, 1939 to 2000 Commission de vérité et réconciliation du Canada,2016-01-01 Between 1867 and 2000 the Canadian government sent over 150 000 Aboriginal children to residential schools across the country Government officials and missionaries agreed that in order to civilize and Christianize Aboriginal children it was necessary to separate them from their parents and their home communities For children life in these schools was lonely and alien Discipline was harsh and daily life was highly regimented Aboriginal languages and cultures were denigrated and suppressed Education and technical training too often gave way to the drudgery of doing the chores necessary to make the schools self sustaining Child neglect was institutionalized and the lack of supervision created situations where students were prey to sexual and physical abusers Legal action by the schools former students led to the creation of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada in 2008 The product of over six years of research the Commission s final report outlines the history and legacy of the schools and charts a pathway towards reconciliation Canada s Residential Schools The History Part 2 1939 to 2000 carries the story of the residential school system from the end of the Great Depression to the closing of the last remaining schools in the late 1990s It demonstrates that the underfunding and unsafe living conditions that characterized the early history of the schools continued into an era of unprecedented growth and prosperity for most Canadians A miserly funding formula meant that into the late 1950s school meals fell short of the Canada Food Rules Overcrowding poor sanitation and a failure to adhere to fire safety rules were common problems throughout this period While government officials had come to view the schools as costly and inefficient the churches were reluctant to countenance their closure It was not until the late 1960s that the federal government finally wrested control of the system away from the churches Government plans to turn First Nations education over to the provinces met with opposition from Aboriginal organizations that were seeking Indian Control of Indian Education Following parent led occupation of a school in Alberta many of the remaining schools came under Aboriginal administration The closing of the schools coincided with a growing number of convictions of former staff members on charges of sexually abusing students These trials revealed the degree to which sexual abuse at the schools had been covered up in the past Former students who came to refer to themselves as Survivors established regional and national organizations and provided much of the leadership for the campaign that led to the federal government issuing in 2008 an apology to the former students and their families Historic Sites and Memorial United States.
