Reflections from the Frontline Sabin P. Duncan,2009-10-19 Ask any educator about their experiences in the classroom and amid their joys and concerns they will liken the experience to a battlefield On that battlefield we have to balance passion with expectations ambitions with reality and patience with educational benchmarks Each day we enter our schools we are on the frontlines for the future of our children and our communities The education of our children is an on going battle One of which despite our most diligent preparations requires encouragement and direction Reflections From The Frontline aims to be timeless encouragement direction and food for thought for progressive educators everywhere Because it takes someone who has been in the trenches who has served on the frontlines of education to understand convey and empower another soldier in our quest for quality education for all So for educators past current and future we share these Reflections From The Frontline

But You Look So Normal Claudia Marseille,2025-07-30 By age four Claudia Marseille had hardly uttered a word When her parents finally had her hearing tested and learned she had a severe hearing loss they chose to mainstream her hoping this would offer her the most normal childhood possible With the help of a primitive hearing aid Claudia worked hard to learn to hear lipread and speak even as she tried to hide her disability in order to fit in As a result she was often misunderstood lonely and isolated fitting into neither the hearing world nor the Deaf culture This memoir explores Claudia s relationships with her German refugee parents a disturbed psychoanalyst father obsessed over various harebrained projects and moneymaking schemes and a Jewish mother who had survived the Holocaust in Munich and with her own identity Claudia shares how she emerged from loneliness and social isolation explored her Jewish identity struggled to find a career compatible with hearing loss and eventually opened herself to a life of creativity and love But You Look So Normal is the inspiring story of a life affected but not defined by an invisible disability It is a journey through family loss shame identity love and healing as Claudia finally joyfully finds her place in the world

Audiology services Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Health Committee,2007-05-16 One in seven people in England suffer from hearing loss of some kind and the advent of digital hearing aids proved of great benefit to many patients The Modernising Hearing Aid Services MHAS programme to improve audiology services introduced in 2000 aimed to provide NHS patients with digital hearing aids But the demand from people upgrading from older models was not predicted and this led to very long waiting lists and times The Committee regards the Government's new framework for audiology Improving access to audiology services in England Dept of Health March 2007 <http://www.18weeks.nhs.uk/public/default.aspx?main=true&load=ArticleViewer&ArticleId=570> as primarily reiterating previous announcements A main concern is that audiology is kept outside the 18 week referral to treatment target that applies to consultant led services which compounds the waiting time problem There is a need to increase capacity and the Department of Health should undertake an examination of the medium and long term demand for digital hearing aids The Committee notes the variation in practice in NHS audiology departments and believes many could operate more efficiently They should examine the skill mix and levels of training or experience necessary and look at more flexible approaches to service provision The report also comments on the involvement of the private sector to provide additional capacity and the entry into the market of others such as opticians The private services need to be monitored and the quality of care assessed on the same basis as that used for the NHS

Retrieving the Crip Outsider Someshwar Sati, 2024-03-30 Why are abnormal figures at the heart of literary canon and what do they tell us about the society that writes and circulates these stories This book studies the constitution of disability and discusses concepts of corporeal difference that are socio historically rooted in the Indian cultural milieu The volume aims at looking at the central issue of the various aspects of disability representation the impact of these representations on the materially embodied experience of disablement the political imperatives shaping the narratives of corporeal difference and the influences of highly particularised local cultural context on the constitution of epistemic and discursive notions of corporeality The volume follows three routes of inquiry How do we find disability in texts or what are disability texts How do we read concepts historically using literary and cultural texts and what would a similar study of the Indian context reveal How do we study culturally distinct ways of narrating bodyminds These questions will be answered through a discussion of representation histories of the abnormal informed by histories of disease conditions and its representations with the aim of developing ways of thinking and talking about concepts of corporeal difference that are socio culturally and socio historically located away from the western context and to explore the intersections between gender caste religion sexuality class and disability

Falling Through the Cracks Joan Berzoff, 2012 Psychodynamic theory and practice are often misunderstood as appropriate only for the worried well or for those whose problems are minimal or routine Nothing could be further from the truth This book shows how psychodynamically informed clinically based social care is essential to working with individuals whose problems are both psychological and social Each chapter addresses populations struggling with structural inequities such as racism classism and discrimination based on immigrant status language differences disability and sexual orientation The authors explain how to provide psychodynamically informed assessment and practice when working with those suffering from mental illness addiction homelessness and cognitive visual or auditory impairments as well as people in prisons in orphanages and on child welfare The volume supports the idea that becoming aware of ourselves helps us understand ourselves a key approach for helping clients contain and name their feelings deal with desire and conflict achieve self regulation and self esteem and alter attachment styles toward greater agency and empowerment Yet autonomy and empowerment are not birthrights they are capacities that must be fostered under optimal clinical conditions This collection uses concepts derived from drive theory ego psychology object relations trauma theory attachment theory self psychology relational theories and intersubjectivity in clinical work with vulnerable and oppressed populations Contributors are experienced practitioners whose work with vulnerable populations has enabled them to elicit and find common humanity with their clients The authors consistently convey respect for the considerable strength and resilience of the populations with whom they work Emphasizing both the inner and social structural lives of client and clinician and their interacting social identities this anthology uniquely realizes the complexity of clinical practice with diverse populations

How Seniors Are Saving the World Thelma Reese,BJ Kittredge,2020-06-10 Articles appear frequently about individuals whose age is noted as a feature of their activism but the activism of seniors as a growing and influential part of the population is often otherwise overlooked The speed of change the expansion of the senior demographic the growth of citizen participation and the constant visual images reminding us of these factors tell us that it is time to look to seniors who are putting their time and energies into helping others and helping the world Whatever one s political view there is consensus in recognizing that we are living in a time of tremendous change when traditionally trusted institutions and cultural mores are questioned and seriously challenged It is a time when more and more individuals feel a need to do something something about issues that concern them something that makes them aware of the need for a sense of control in a world in chaos something that makes them aware of their own strength power and the value of the wisdom that comes with age In a time when social media make shallow clicktivists of so many the people profiled here are true activists Their dedication crosses all societal lines ethnic political religious and socio economic Some have always considered themselves activists Some find that this stage of life brings a new perspective that results in the need to do more than say They tell us in their own words the what why and meaning of their specific activism and show others how to do it Their stories are inspiring for people of all ages
