Hearts On Fire 1993 The Story Of The Maryknoll Sisters:

The Maryknoll Sisters in Hong Kong, 1921-1969 C. Chu, 2004-11-26 This book describes the adaptation of American women to cross cultural situations in Hong Kong from 1921 to 1969 The Maryknoll Sisters were first American Catholic community of women founded for overseas missionary work and were the first American sisters in Hong Kong Maryknollers were independent outgoing and joyful women who were highly educated and acted in professional capacities as teachers social workers and medical personnel The assertion of this book is that the mission provided Maryknollers what they had long desired equal employment opportunities which were only later emphasized in the women's liberation movement of the 1960s

Reagan's Gun-Toting Nuns Theresa Keeley, 2020-09-15 In Reagan's Gun Toting Nuns Theresa Keeley analyzes the role of intra Catholic conflict within the framework of U S foreign policy formulation and execution during the Reagan administration She challenges the preponderance of scholarship on the administration that stresses the influence of evangelical Protestants on foreign policy toward Latin America Especially in the case of U S engagement in El Salvador and Nicaragua Keeley argues the bitter debate between U S and Central American Catholics over the direction of the Catholic Church shaped President Reagan's foreign policy The flash point for these intra Catholic disputes was the December 1980 political murder of four American Catholic missionaries in El Salvador Liberal Catholics described nuns and priests in Central America who worked to combat structural inequality as human rights advocates living out the Gospel's spirit Conservative Catholics saw them as agents of class conflict who furthered the so called Gospel according to Karl Marx The debate was an old one among Catholics but as Reagan's Gun Toting Nuns contends it intensified as conservative anticommunist Catholics played instrumental roles in crafting U S policy to fund the Salvadoran government and the Nicaraguan Contras Reagan's Gun Toting Nuns describes the religious actors as human rights advocates and against prevailing understandings of the fundamentally secular activism related to human rights highlights religion inspired activism during the Cold War In charting the rightward development of American Catholicism Keeley provides a new chapter in the history of U S diplomacy and shows how domestic issues such as contraception and abortion joined with foreign policy matters to shift Catholic laity toward Republican principles at home and abroad

Called to Serve Margaret M. McGuinness, 2015-12 For many Americans nuns and sisters are the face of the Catholic Church Far more visible than priests

Catholic women religious teach at schools found hospitals offer food to the poor and minister to those in need Their work has shaped the American Catholic Church throughout its history McGuinness provides the reader with an overview of the history of Catholic women religious in American life from the colonial period to the present Liberation Theology and the Others Christian Büschges, Andrea Müller, Noah Oehri, 2021-09-28 Looking beyond prominent figures or major ecclesial events Liberation Theology and the Others offers a fresh historical perspective on Latin American liberation theology Thirteen case studies from Mexico to Uruguay depict a vivid picture of religious and lay activism that shaped the profile of the Latin American Catholic Church in the second half of the 20th century Stressing the transnational character of Catholic activism and its intersections with prevalent discourses of citizenship ethnicity or development scholars from Latin America the US and Europe analyze how pastoral renewal was debated and embraced in multiple local and culturally diverse contexts Contributors explore the connections between Latin American liberation theology and anthropology in Peru armed revolutionaries in highland Guatemala and the implementation of neoliberalism in Bolivia They identify conceptions of the popular church indigenous religiosity women's leadership and student activism that circulated among Latin American religious and lay activists between the 1960s and the 1980s By revisiting the multifaceted and oftentimes contingent nature of church reforms this edited volume provides fascinating new insights into one of the most controversial religious movements of the 20th century Motherhood as Metaphor Jeannine Hill Fletcher, 2013-08-09 Who is my neighbor As our world has increasingly become a single place this question posed in the gospel story is heard as an interreligious inquiry Yet studies of encounter across religious lines have largely been framed as the meeting of male leaders What difference does it make when women's voices and experiences are the primary data for thinking about interfaith engagement Motherhood as Metaphor draws on three historical encounters between women of different faiths first the archives of the Maryknoll Sisters working in China before World War II second the experiences of women in the feminist movement around the globe and third a contemporary interfaith dialogue group in Philadelphia These sites provide fresh ways of thinking about our being human in the relational dynamic messiness of our sacred human lives Each part features a chapter detailing the historical archival and ethnographic evidence of women's experience in interfaith contact through letters diaries speeches and interviews of women in interfaith settings A subsequent chapter considers the theological import of these experiences placing them in conversation with modern theological anthropology feminist theory and theology Women's experience of motherhood provides a guiding thread through the theological reflections recorded here This investigation thus offers not only a comparative theology based on believers experience rather than on texts alone but also new ways of conceptualizing our being human The result is an interreligious theology rooted in the Christian story but also learning across religious lines

Women in Mission Susan E. Smith, 2015-02-25 In matters of mission history most major works that treat the full sweep of the church's missional self understanding are less than helpful in understanding women's part of that narrative Smith tries to redress the balance with a comprehensive history of mission that highlights the critical contributions of women as well as the theological developments that influenced their role From publisher s description Martyrs of Hope Brett, Donna Whitson ,Brett, Edward T.,2018-10-18 Here is the riveting and troubling story of seven U S martyrs in Central America who laid down their lives for their neighbors Father Stanley Rother Brother James Miller Sisters Maura Clarke Ita Ford Dorothy Kazel and Carla Piette and lay missionary Jean Donovan Christian Mission Dana L. Robert,2011-09-09 CHRISTIAN MISSION Dana Robert distils a quarter of a century of her research into an erudite and accessible single volume account of how Christianity became the largest religious tradition in the world There is no better place for any reader to start becoming informed about this important subject David Hempton Harvard University Remarkable for the range and depth of the material Robert is able to pack into so short a book Reliable and readable it is especially valuable for its treatment of the relation between western and non western missionary activity David A Hollinger University of California Berkeley Dana Robert s richly textured book shows us that the history of Christian missions is far from being merely a European colonial story and will be immensely valuable to students and general readers who are concerned to uncover the historical roots of Christianity s current status as a truly global faith Brian Stanley University of Edinburgh The Gospels record that Christ commanded his disciples to go forth and teach all nations Thus began the history of Christian mission a phenomenon which brought about massive shifts in the nature and practice of Christianity and one that many say reflects the single most important movement of intercultural encounter over a sustained period of human history To understand Christianity as a global movement therefore it is essential to study the role of mission defined as the transmission of the Gospel across cultures Erudite and enlightening this brief book explores the 2 000 years of mission history covering topics such as the meaning of the missionary through history gender and missions and missions in culture and politics Given that in the twenty first century Christianity is now largely practiced outside the West Christian Mission is an inspirational and invaluable resource to broaden our understanding of the nature of Christianity as a truly multi cultural world religion Original Dwelling Place Robert Aitken,1997-06-01 In this collection of twenty three essays Robert Aitken retraces the origins of American Zen Buddhism and provides readings of influential texts Reflecting on death on marriage and on Zen practice Aitken always points out the path to pleasure in the everyday dewdrop world There is a fine art to presenting complex ideas with simplicity and insight in a manner that both shepherds and inspires Robert Aitken s Original Dwelling Place Zen Buddhist Essays succeeds in doing just this offering twenty three essays from Americas senior Zen roshi and author of the bestselling groundbreaking primer Taking the Path of Zen Just as Taking the Path of Zen is the definitive handbook for Zen practice the essays gathered in Original Dwelling Place are essential for the light they shed on Aitken Roshi s own journey and the effect he has had on American Zen Buddhism Gathered here are essays about the Zen texts Aitken has studied with avidity and close attention throughout the years texts that were early and lasting influences American Women in Mission Dana Lee Robert,1996 The stereotype of the woman missionary has

ranged from that of the longsuffering wife characterized by the epitaph Died given over to hospitality to that of the spinster in her unstylish dress and wire rimmed glasses alone somewhere for thirty years teaching heathen children Like all caricatures those of the exhausted wife and frustrated old maid carry some truth the underlying message of the stereotypes is that missionary women were perceived as marginal to the central tasks of mission Rather than being remembered for preaching the gospel the quintessential male task missionary women were noted for meeting human needs and helping others sacrificing themselves without plan or reason all for the sake of bringing the world to Jesus Christ Historical evidence however gives lie to the truism that women missionaries were and are doers but not thinkers reactive secondary figures rather than proactive primary ones The first American women to serve as foreign missionaries in 1812 were among the best educated women of their time Although barred from obtaining the college education or ministerial credentials of their husbands the early missionary wives had read their Jonathan Edwards and Samuel Hopkins Not only did they go abroad with particular theologies to share but their identities as women caused them to develop gender based mission theories Early nineteenth century women seldom wrote theologies of mission but they wrote letters and kept journals that reveal a thought world and set of assumptions about women s roles in the missionary task The activities of missionary wives were not random they were part of a mission strategy that gave women a particular role in the advancement of the reign of God By moving from mission field to mission field in chronological order of missionary presence Robert charts missiological developments as they took place in dialogue with the urgent context of the day Each case study marks the beginning of the mission theory Baptist women in Burma for example are only considered in their first decades there and are not traced into the present Robert believes that at this early stage of research into women s mission theory integrity and analysis lies more in a succession of contextualized case studies than in gross generalizations

Clark, 2014-12-01 One of the most violent episodes of China's Boxer Uprising was the Taiyuan Massacre of 1900 in which rebels killed foreign missionaries and thousands of Chinese Christians This first sustained scholarly account of the uprising to focus on Shanxi Province illuminates the religious and cultural beliefs on both sides of the conflict and shows how they came to clash Although Franciscans were the first Catholics to settle in China their stories have rarely been explored in accounts of Chinese Christianity Anthony Clark remedies that exclusion and highlights the roles of Franciscan nuns and their counterparts among the Boxers the Red Lantern girls to argue that women's involvement was integral on both sides of the conflict Drawing on rich archival records and intertwining religious history with political cultural and environmental factors Clark provides a fresh perspective on a pivotal encounter between China and the West understanding of their identity and how this changed over time the contribution of Asian and Asian American women to the scholarship work that they do and their hopes for the future of their fields of study The volume is multireligious and intergenerational and is divided into four parts identities and intellectual journeys expanding knowledge integrating knowledge and practice and dialogue across generations People's Peace Yasmin Saikia, Chad Haines, 2019-11-15 People's Peace lays a solid foundation for the argument that global peace is possible because ordinary people are its architects Saikia and Haines offer a unique and imaginative perspective on people's daily lives across the world as they struggle to create peace despite escalating political violence The volume's focus on local and ordinary efforts highlights peace as a lived experience that goes beyond national and international peace efforts In addition the contributors' emphasis on the role of religion as a catalyst for peace moves away from the usual depiction of religion as a source of divisiveness and conflict Spanning a range of humanities disciplines the essays in this volume provide case studies of individuals defying authority or overcoming cultural stigmas to create peaceful relations in their communities From investigating how ancient Jews established communal justice to exploring how black and white citizens in Ferguson Missouri are working to achieve racial harmony the contributors find that people are acting independently of governments and institutions to identify everyday methods of coexisting with others In putting these various approaches in dialogue with each other this volume produces a theoretical intervention that shifts the study of peace away from national and international organizations and institutions toward locating successful peaceful efforts in the everyday lives of individuals
