Fifth Inning Official Linda Fausnet, 2023-11-27. I just got traded from Atlanta to the Baltimore Bay Birds. I cannot stress enough how much I hate Baltimore. I grew up in New York and the Bay Birds are my mortal enemy. Now I have to prove my worth as a pitcher if I can ever hope to play for the New York Kings someday. The sooner I get the hell out of this city the better. I'm still not over my broken engagement, so being the maid of honor for my best friend is tough. At least I get to sing at the wedding, which reminds me that my Broadway dreams are more important than any stupid man. Besides, I'm happy to support my dearest friend even if she has her Prince Charming and I don't. Prince Charming? That's what the gorgeous maid of honor said she was looking for and that is definitely not me. And yet I haven't been able to stop thinking about her since I heard her sing at the wedding. I wanted to get out of Baltimore ASAP, but this woman somehow has me wanting to stay.

Pop Cinema Glyn Davis, Tom Day. Pop Cinema is the first book devoted to moving image works which engage with the central thematic and aesthetics of Pop Art. The essays in the collection focus in on the core concerns of Pop as a widespread and ideologically complex art movement and examine the ways in which artists in various global locations have used forms of film practice outside of the mainstream to explore those preoccupations. The book's contributors also identify the ways in which dominant Pop aesthetics—flat planes of bold colour, mechanical forms of repetition, appropriation of materials from popular culture sources—were adopted, reworked, or abandoned by such filmmakers. At root, the book asks three basic questions: what shapes might a Pop form of cinema take? what materials would it engage with? and what might it have to say?
