Heath Basic Writer:

Research in Basic Writing Martin Jacobi, Michael G. Moran, 1990-02-15 This reference handbook surveys research on the central issue associated with the teaching of unprepared writers Though basic writing has only been recognized as a distinct area of teaching and research since 1975 the existing bibliographic texts already seem limited due to their age or lack of annotation This volume provides current and extensive bibliographic essays and will help to define this new field of study for teachers and researchers Following an introduction that summarizes the origins and significant texts in basic writing the book is divided into three sections Social Science Perspectives Linguistic Perspectives and Pedagogical Perspectives The first section which contains three essays views the field through the lens of social psychological and political issues The second section also containing three essays examines contributions made from studies of grammar dialects and second language acquisition The third section in its four essays focuses on the design development administration and evaluation of basic writing courses the use of computers in basic writing classrooms the role of the writing lab and the preparation of basic writing teachers An appendix that reviews current textbooks for basic writing courses is also included as well as an index This book will be a valuable resource for teachers of basic writing in education courses and workshops that train teachers and tutors and in fields such as linguistics technical writing and Teaching English as a Second Language It will also be an important addition to public and university libraries and many education programs     Mainstreaming Basic Writers Gerri McNenny, Sallyanne H. Fitzgerald, 2001-06 Explores the many facets of the mainstreaming movement in college level basic writing that are currently being debated Examines the theoretical political pedagogical concerns that arise as pressures push colleges to eliminate basic writing programs     Concepts in Composition Irene L. Clark, 2011-09 A textbook for composition pedagogy courses It focuses on scholarship in rhetoric and composition that has influenced classroom teaching in order to foster reflection on how theory impacts practice     Creative Writing Pedagogies for the Twenty-First Century Alexandria Peary, Tom C Hunley, 2015-06-25 The creative writing workshop beloved by some dreaded by others and ubiquitous in writing programs across the nation For decades the workshop has been entrenched as the primary pedagogy of creative writing While the field of creative writing studies has sometimes myopically focused on this single method the related discipline of composition studies has made use of numerous pedagogical models In Creative Writing Pedagogies for the Twenty First Century editors Alexandria Peary and Tom C Hunley gather experts from both creative writing and composition studies to offer innovative alternatives to the traditional creative writing workshop Drawing primarily from the field of composition studies a discipline rich with a wide range of established pedagogies the contributors in this volume build on previous models to present fresh and inventive methods for the teaching of creative writing Each chapter offers both a theoretical and a historical background for its respective pedagogical ideas as well as practical applications for use in the classroom This myriad of methods can be used either as a supplement to the customary workshop model or as stand alone roadmaps to engage and reinvigorate the creative process for both students and teachers alike A fresh and inspiring collection of teaching methods Creative Writing Pedagogies for the Twenty First Century combines both conventional and cutting edge techniques to expand the pedagogical possibilities in creative writing studies Writing and Editing for Digital Media Brian Carroll,2017-06-26 Writing and Editing for Digital Media teaches students how to write effectively for digital spaces whether writing for an app crafting a story for a website blogging or using social media to expand the conversation The lessons and exercises in each chapter help students build a solid understanding of the ways that digital communication has introduced opportunities for dynamic storytelling and multi directional communication With this accessible guide and accompanying website students learn not only to create content but also to become careful creative managers of that content Updated with contemporary examples and pedagogy including examples from the 2016 presidential election and an expanded look at using social media the third edition broadens its scope helping digital writers and editors in all fields including public relations marketing and social media management Based on Brian Carroll s extensive experience teaching a course of the same name this revised and updated edition pays particular attention to opportunities presented by the growth of social media and mobile media Chapters aim to Assist digital communicators in understanding the socially networked increasingly mobile always on geomapped personalized media ecosystems Teach communicators to approach storytelling from a multimedia multi modal interactive perspective Provide the basic skill sets of the digital writer and editor skill sets that transfer across all media and most communication and media industries and to do so in specifically journalistic and public relations contexts Help communicators to put their audiences first by focusing attention on user experience user behavior and engagement with their user bases Teach best practices in the areas of social media strategy management and use Student Writing Theresa M. Lillis,2002-01-04 Student Writing presents an accessible and thought provoking study of academic writing practices Informed by composition research from the US and academic literacies studies from the UK the book challenges current official discourse on writing as a skill Lillis argues for an approach which sees student writing as social practice The book draws extensively on a three year study with ten non traditional students in higher education and their experience of academic writing Using case study material including literacy history interviews extended discussions with students about their writing of discipline specific essays and extracts from essays Lillis identifies the following as three significant dimensions to academic writing Access to higher education and to its language and literacy representational resources Regulation of meaning making in academic writing Desire for participation in higher education and for choices over ways of meaning in academic writing Student Writing access regulation desire raises questions about why academics write as they do who benefits from such writing which meanings are valued and how on what terms outsiders get to be insiders and at what costs Expository Writing Maurice Garland Fulton,1912 Catalog of Copyright Entries. College Writer Howard Tinberg, Jean-Paul Nadeau, 2010-02-18 While there have been several studies of writing programs at larger baccalaureate institutions the community college classroom has often been overlooked Authors Howard Tinberg and Jean Paul Nadeau fill this gap with The Community College Writer a systematic and unique case study of first semester writing students at a community college Drawing on surveys interviews and samples of classroom assignments Tinberg and Nadeau use their research at one community college to reach out to instructors throughout the nation fostering communication between community college faculty members in the effort to establish full fledged writing programs geared toward student success At the heart of the book are the voices of the students themselves as they discuss both their teachers expectations and their own Through a series of case studies the authors reveal the challenges students face as budding writers and their firsthand experiences with writing programs at the community college level With this informative study Tinberg and Nadeau seek not only to encourage dialogue between student and teacher or community college instructors but to expand the conversation about program improvement to include both two and four year colleges bringing composition faculty together in an effort to improve writing programs in all schools Included in the volume are seven appendices including surveys and interviews with faculty and students making The Community College Writer a comprehensive and practical guide to tackling the issues facing writing programs and instructors      The Simple 6: A Writing Rubric for Kids originality of what has been written about him Barclay s study comes out of meticulous research on a huge range of newly discovered primary sources transforming our understanding of the life and career of Oliver Cromwell during the period from his birth in 1599 until 1642      The Writer and Religion William H. Gass, Lorin Cuoco, 2000 Every significant religious system
