Health Economics And Policy Softcover Edition 2e:

Health Economics and Policy (Softcover Edition) 2e Henderson, 2004-01-01 Health Economics Worldwide Peter Zweifel, H. E. Frech, 2012-12-06 This volume reflects both the main issues confronting health economics and the state of the art in health economics a decade before the end of the twentieth century It contains a selection from almost 150 papers presented at the Second World Congress on Health Economics held at the University of Zurich Switzerland 10-14 September 1990 This is ten years after the last Congress held in Leiden The Netherlands and more than 17 years after the Tokyo meeting organized by the International Economic Association which might be called the First World Congress were it not for its small size and symposium like character Out of the 16 papers appearing in this book only four were invited and they were refereed like all the others The remaining contributions are survivors of stiff competition However in spite of the large sample of papers we were able to draw from certain gaps of coverage persist In particular environmental impacts on health were designated as a field of priority interest in the call for papers to this Congress Yet not even half a dozen contributions were submitted which is remarkable in view of the intense interest of the public in the health effects of environmental degradation ranging from noise level to ozone concentration Another specially designed field was the political economy of health dealing with the behavior of policy makers when deciding about changes in the health care systems It did not attract as many contributions as we had hoped for or expected The Other Invisible Hand Julian Le Grand, 2009-01-10 How can we ensure high quality public services such as health care and education Governments spend huge amounts of public money on public services such as health education and social care and yet the services that are actually delivered are often low quality inefficiently run unresponsive to their users and inequitable in their distribution In this book Julian Le Grand argues that the best solution is to offer choice to users and to encourage competition among providers Le Grand has just completed a period as policy advisor working within the British government at the highest levels and from this he has gained evidence to support his earlier theoretical work and has experienced the political reality of putting public policy theory into practice He examines four ways of delivering public services trust targets and performance management voice and choice and competition He argues that although all of these have their merits in most situations policies that rely on extending choice and competition among providers have the most potential for delivering high quality efficient responsive and equitable services But it is important that the relevant policies be appropriately designed and this book provides a detailed discussion of the principal features that these policies should have in the context of health care and education It concludes with a discussion of the politics of choice The Publishers' Trade List Annual, 1980 Environmental Health Perspectives, 1993 The Machine at the Bedside Stanley Joel Reiser, Michael Anbar, 1984-11-30 A comprehensive examination of concepts and strategies for humane and effective usage of health care technology The authors provide a multidisciplinary framework for practitioners educators policy makers and the public to utilize in health care decision making Health, the Medical Profession, and Regulation Peter Zweifel, 2012-12-06 Health The Medical Profession and Regulation presents new evidence concerning health and the environment inequality of health in many countries and the compatibility of different quality of life measurements along with new solutions to problems of health policy The book is grouped into three sections Section I comprising six papers looks into the determinants of people's health Section II consists of three papers and deals with the supply side of the market for health care services Finally Section III contains three contributions devoted to health regulation The intended market for this volume includes but is not limited to health economists policy makers insurers and governmental advisors who need to stay abreast of the latest developments in health services research worldwide

Ageing with Smartphones in Ireland Pauline Garvey, Daniel Miller, 2021-05-06 There are not many books about how people get younger It doesn't happen very often But Ageing with Smartphones in Ireland documents a radical change in the experience of ageing Based on two ethnographies one within Dublin and the other from the Dublin region the book shows that people rather than seeing themselves as old focus on crafting a new life in retirement Our research participants apply new ideals of sustainability both to themselves and to their environment They go for long walks play bridge do yoga and keep as healthy as possible As part of Ireland's mainstream middle class they may have more time than the young to embrace green ideals and more money to move to energy efficient homes throw out household detritus and protect their environment The smartphone has become integral to this new trajectory For some it is an intimidating burden linked to being on the wrong side of a new digital divide But for most however it has brought back the extended family and old friends and helped resolve intergenerational conflicts though facilitating new forms of grandparenting It has also become central to health issues whether by Googling information or looking after frail parents The smartphone enables this sense of getting younger as people download the music of their youth and develop new interests This is a book about acknowledging late middle age in contemporary Ireland How do older people in Ireland experience life today Praise for Ageing with Smartphones in Ireland An innovative and thorough description and analysis of how one small piece of technology has changed the way Irish people live their lives Tom Inglis Professor Emeritus of Sociology in University College Dublin The Publishers Weekly, 1972 Using Ethnographic Data Jean J.
