Handbook of Research on Records and Information Management Strategies for Enhanced Knowledge Coordination Chisita, Collence Takaingenhamo, Enakrire, Rexwhite Tega, Durodolu, Oluwale Olumide, Tsabedze, Vusi Wonderboy, Ngoaketsi, Joseph M., 2021-01-15. The convergence of technologies and emergence of interdisciplinary and transdisciplinary modes of knowledge production justify the need for research that explores the disinterestedness or interconnectivity of the information science disciplines. The quantum leap in knowledge production, increasing demand for information and knowledge changing information needs, information governance and proliferation of digital technologies in the era of ubiquitous digital technologies justify research that employs a holistic approach in x-raying the challenges of managing information in an increasingly knowledge and technology driven dispensation. The changing nature of knowledge production for sustainable development along with trends and theory for enhanced knowledge coordination deserve focus in current times. The Handbook of Research on Records and Information Management Strategies for Enhanced Knowledge Coordination draws input from experts involved in records management, information science, library science, memory and digital technology, creating a vanguard compendium of novel trends and praxis. While highlighting a vast array of topics under the scope of library science, information science, knowledge transfer, records management and more, this book is ideally designed for knowledge and information managers, library and information science schools, policymakers, practitioners, stakeholders, administrators, researchers, academicians and students interested in records and information management.

Strategies and Technologies for Healthcare Information Marion Ball, Judith V. Douglas, David E. Garets, 2012-10-21. Changes in health care are at a breakneck pace. Regardless of the many changes we have collectively experienced, delivering health care has been and will continue to be an enormously information-intensive process. Whether caring for a patient or a population, whether managing a clinic or a continuum, we are in a knowledge exchange business. A major task for our industry and the task for chief information officers (CIOs) is to find and apply improved strategies and technologies for managing healthcare information. In a fiercely competitive healthcare marketplace, the pressures to succeed in this undertaking and the rewards associated with success are enormous. While the task is still daunting, we can all be encouraged by progress being made in information management. There are documented successes throughout health care, and there is growing recognition by healthcare chief executive officers and boards that information strategies and their deployment are essential to organizational efficiency, quite possibly organizational survival.
