Health Sector In Eritrea:

The Health Sector in Eritrea, 2004-01-01 In March 2001 the government of Eritrea launched a process to prepare a long term health sector policy and strategic plan HSPSP with a focus on assuring equitable quality and sustainable health care This publication sets out the World Bank s review of the Eritrean health sector as the first part of a three step process to develop the HSPSP The study forms the preliminary basis for further rounds of discussion among stakeholders and incorporates comments received from the Ministry of Health s central agencies Zoba regional health teams and external partners working in Eritrea The Health Sector in Eritrea, 2004 In March 2001 the Ministry of Health of the Government of Eritrea launched a process to prepare a long term health sector policy and strategic plan HSPSP with a focus on assuring equitable quality and sustainable health care The Ministry outlined an open participatory three step process for developing the HSPSP with active participation from all partners in the health sector This study serves as the preliminary basis for further rounds of discussions and analysis among stakeholders to arrive at a strategic vision for the Eritrea health sector It incorporates comments received from the Ministry of Health s central agencies Zoba regional health teams external partners working in Eritrea and the World Bank Eritrea Country Team R sum de l diteur Historical Dictionary of Eritrea Dan

Connell, Tom Killion, 2010-10-14 The history of Eritrea is told in this reference through a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography and over 500 cross referenced dictionary entries on significant persons events places organizations and other aspects of Eritrea s history from the earliest times to the present This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Eritrea Eritrea's Quest for Freedom Russom Teklay, Its journey to independence etched in the annals of the 20th century reflects the aspirations of a people who dared to dream of sovereignty and freedom This exploration begins by tracing the roots of Eritrea s identity delving into the historical echoes that resonated with calls for Journey to Justice Eritrea's Fight for Democracy Russom Teklay, Nestled along the Red Sea coast Eritrea s history is one of resilience resistance and resilience once more It is a story that threads through centuries of foreign domination from ancient empires to European colonialism Yet at the dawn of the 21st century it was a different kind of domination that gripped Eritrea a grip not forged by foreign powers but by internal forces From Conflict to Recovery

2006 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Foreign Operations, Export Financing, and Related Programs, 2005 Eritrea Weltbank, 2013 This Health Sector Note is the result of the first phase of an open participatory three step process for developing the Health Sector Policy and Strategic Plan HSPSP and serves as the preliminary basis for further rounds of discussions and analyses among stakeholders to arrive at a strategic vision for the national health sector The socioeconomic situation is reviewed stipulating Eritrea remains one of the poorest countries in the world where lack of sustained economic growth does not hold much promise for a reduction in poverty in the short to medium term This will constrain growth in personal income and government revenue and in turn growth in domestic resources for investment in and recurrent cost support to the health sector The note identifies the strengths and challenges of the health sector as well as the state of the human resources and infrastructure of the sector discussing briefly the role of the private sector Adequate resources need to be mobilized and available to health care services as well as to other related sectors such as water and sanitation However given competing demands on the country's limited resources actions in all sectors need to be prioritized Recommended actions include for the short term the establishment of a baseline information system so as to evaluate the performance and cost effectiveness of specific health programs Likewise there is the need to estimate the National Health Accounts to better assess the sector's sources and uses of funds and to evaluate alternative sources of revenues including user charges and public and private insurance options Medium term priorities suggest undertaking unit costing studies to evaluate the public system's technical efficiency to then provide a framework for a comprehensive health sector development while long term priorities include among others the development of financing options for universal coverage including public private insurance mechanisms
