Regional Disaster Response Coordination to Support Health Outcomes Institute of Medicine, Board on Health Sciences Policy, Forum on Medical and Public Health Preparedness for Catastrophic Events, 2015-08-11 When disaster strikes it rarely impacts just one jurisdiction Many catastrophic disaster plans include support from neighboring jurisdictions that likely will not be available in a regional disaster Bringing multiple stakeholders together from sectors that do not routinely work with each other can augment a response to a disaster but can also be extremely difficult because of the multi disciplinary communication and coordination needed to ensure effective medical and public health response As many communities within a region will have similar vulnerabilities a logical step in planning is to establish responsibilities and capacities and be able to work toward common goals to address all hazards when the entire region is affected To explore these considerations the Institute of Medicine s Forum on Medical and Public Health Preparedness for Catastrophic Events organized a series of three regional workshops in 2014 to explore opportunities to strengthen the regional coordination required in response to a large scale multijurisdictional disaster The purpose of each regional workshop was to discuss ways to strengthen coordination among multiple jurisdictions in various regions to ensure fair and equitable treatment of communities from all impacted areas Regional Disaster Response Coordination to Support Health Outcomes summarizes the presentation and discussion of these workshops

The Future of Nursing Institute of Medicine,Committee on the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Initiative on the Future of Nursing, at the Institute of Medicine,2011-02-08 The Future of Nursing explores how nurses roles responsibilities and education should change significantly to meet the increased demand for care that will be created by health care reform and to advance improvements in America s increasingly complex health system At more than 3 million in number nurses make up the single largest segment of the health care work force They also spend the greatest amount of time in delivering patient care as a profession Nurses therefore have valuable insights and unique abilities to contribute as partners with other health care professionals in improving the quality and safety of care as envisioned in the Affordable Care Act ACA enacted this year Nurses should be fully engaged with other health professionals and assume leadership roles in redesigning care in the United States To ensure its members are well prepared the profession should institute residency training for nurses increase the percentage of nurses who attain a bachelor s degree to 80 percent by 2020 and double the number who pursue doctorates Furthermore regulatory and institutional obstacles including limits on nurses scope of practice should be removed so that the health system can reap the full benefit of nurses training skills and knowledge in patient care In this book the Institute of Medicine makes recommendations for an action oriented blueprint for the future of nursing

Redefining Health Care Michael E. Porter, Elizabeth Olmsted Teisberg, 2006 The U S health care system is in crisis At stake are the quality of care for millions of Americans and the financial well being of individuals and employers squeezed by skyrocketing premiums not to mention the stability of state and federal government budgets In Redefining Health Care internationally renowned strategy expert Michael Porter and innovation expert Elizabeth Teisberg reveal the underlying and largely overlooked causes of the problem and provide a powerful prescription for change The authors argue that participants in the health care system have competed to shift costs accumulate bargaining power and restrict services rather than create value for patients This zero sum competition takes place at the wrong level among health plans networks and hospitals rather than where it matters most in the diagnosis treatment and prevention of specific health conditions Redefining Health Care lays out a breakthrough framework for redefining health care competition based on patient value With specific recommendations for hospitals doctors health plans employers and policy makers this book shows how to move to a positive sum competition that will unleash stunning improvements in quality and efficiency
