Welfare and Party Politics in Latin America

Jennifer Pribble, 2013-04-22 Systems of social protection can provide crucial assistance to the poorest and most vulnerable groups in society but not all systems are created equally In Latin America social policies have historically exhibited large gaps in coverage and high levels of inequality in benefit size Since the late 1990s countries in this region have begun to grapple with these challenges enacting a series of reforms to healthcare social assistance and education policy While some of these initiatives have moved in a universal direction others have maintained existing segmentation or moved in a regressive direction Welfare and Party Politics in Latin America explores this variation in Argentina Chile Uruguay and Venezuela finding that the design of previous policies the intensity of electoral competition and the character of political parties all influence the nature of contemporary social policy reform in Latin America

Equity and Healthcare Reform in Developing Economies Songül Çınaroğlu, 2020-10-29 Ensuring equity in healthcare is the main concern of health policymakers in order to provide a sustainable health system This concern is more prominent in developing countries due to the scarcity of resources This book provides a comprehensive analysis and discussion on the distributive pattern of out of pocket pharmaceutical expenditures under the health reforms in Turkey and makes comparisons with pharmerging countries Turkey's health reforms began in 2003 to address shortcomings related to financial protection and to improve health outcomes and the quality of healthcare services The primary motivation was to ensure equity in the distribution of health resources and this transformation process led to profound changes in how these resources were used and in health financing in general However there is a lack of knowledge regarding the long term effect of health reforms on the distribution patterns of health expenditures and health service use This book offers a thorough equity analysis of the health financing system affected by this health transformation program Index and curve approaches are used in the equity analysis of pharmaceutical expenditures The book examines the long term effects of health system regulations on the health

Globalization in the 1990s provided both opportunities and challenges for developing and transition economies Though for some it offered the chance to achieve economic growth through active involvement in the integrated and liberalized world economy it also increased their vulnerability to external shocks and volatility As a consequence stakeholders at every level of the development and transition process international organizations national governments and the private sector had to review their strategies in order to adjust to the new world economic environment As the Mexican peso crisis of 1994 1995 and the Asian financial crisis of 1997 1998 showed dramatically the cost of maladjustment was not only very high but it also affected many more stakeholders than before due to the contagious effects of crises This revealing book analyzes the different methods employed to manage globalization and development Bringing together an international team of contributors including Barbara Stallings Alicia Giron and J C Ferraz it will prove to be a valuable resource for those involved in the fields of development economics and political economy Gender in Latin America Sylvia H. Chant, Nikki Craske, 2003

current problems and improve pension and healthcare systems This is the first book to comprehensively study these influential reforms in Latin America's pension and health care systems and as such will be of importance to academics and researchers interested in social security and welfare policy pensions health care and public policy Social security pension and health care policy makers And social security pension and health care consultants and practitioners Published in association with PAHO

The Vietnamese Health Care System in Change

Kerstin Priwitzer, 2012 Within the last twenty years a large scale bottom up privatization has taken place in Vietnam changing and dismantling the public health care system This process has led to severe tensions inherent in the transitional society of Vietnam between equity and access to health care support especially for the poor elderly migrants and ethnic minorities on the one hand and its efficiency on the other hand The book traces the reform efforts to modernize the health care system by the Communist Party of Vietnam and the Vietnamese government The author bases her findings on little known primary literature and interviews with key stakeholders of the policy network involved in the reform of the health care system thereby painting an authentic atmospheric picture of the profound changes in the health care system in Vietnam
