Hearing by Jael Joyce Elbrecht, Lydia Fakundiny, 2005 In 1993 the narrator Jael B Juba treks south to revisit historic Tarragona Florida where her friend and mentor Elizabeth Harding Dumot had restored a decrepit mansion fifteen years earlier and released the wild energies of legend and contemporary social conflict before getting out of town her work done Juba s work is also one of restoration She must return a long hidden diary discovered by Harding in her work on the house to its original site a secret room about to be opened to the public for the first time Here the diarist Frances Boullet and her intimates once kept a vodun sanctuary for celebrating their multiracial heritage burying their dead resisting the terror of the conquest of the Americas and pondering the knowledge they draw from their variously Creolized past Through the sanctuary the diary and the novel flow tales of trading piracy colonization slave life at a plantation an Indian bride s miraculous legacy from the time of the Seminole Wars Haitian uprisings and inter American conflict and murders births and hauntings in Reconstruction times and after These tales framed by Juba s and Harding s stretch into a revisionary history that is joyously plural Epoch ,2006 Tulsa Studies in Women's Literature ,2006 Giovanna's 86 Circles Paola Corso,2007-01-26 These ten magical stories are primarily set in Pittsburgh area river towns where Italian American women and girls draw from their culture and folklore to bring life and a sense of wonder to a seemingly barren region of the Rust Belt Each story catapults the ordinary into something original and unpredictable A skeptical journalist scopes out the bar where the town mayor in seemingly perfect health is drinking with his buddies and celebrating what he claims is the last day of his life A woman donates her dead mother s clothes to a thrift shop but learns that their destiny is not what she expected A ten year old girl wrestles with the facts of life as she watches her neighbor struggle to get pregnant while her teenage sister finds it all too easy A high school girl hallucinates in a steamy hospital laundry room and discovers she can see her coworkers futures A developer s wrecking ball is no match for the legend of Giovanna s green thumb in the title story Giovanna s 86 Circles Quirky and profound Corso s magical leaps uncover the everyday poetry of these women s lives Finalist for the John Gardner Fiction Book Award Selected for Best Short Stories of 2005 in Montserrat Review Best Books for Regional Special Interests selected by the American Association of School Librarians and Best Books for General Audiences selected by the Public Library Association Sons of Italy National Book Club Selection Plum Wine Angela Davis-Gardner,2006-04-01 Barbara Jefferson a young American teaching in Tokyo in the 1960s is set on a life changing quest when her Japanese surrogate mother Michi dies leaving her a tansu of homemade plum wines wrapped in rice paper Within the papers Barbara discovers writings in Japanese calligraphy that comprise a startling personal narrative With the help of her translator Seiji Okada Barbara begins to unravel the mysteries of Michi s life a story that begins in the early twentieth century and continues through World War II and its aftermath As Barbara and Seiji translate the plum wine papers they form an intimate bond with Michi a ghostly third in what becomes an increasingly uneasy triangle Barbara is deeply affected by the revelation that Michi
