abstract Joseph Conrad a Pole by birth is a writer who has exercised a very potent influence on his generation but his impact has expanded well beyond He has inspired English American African and Polish novelists and poets One of his staunch admirers was the young English novelist Graham Greene 1904 1991 However if Conrad's integrity as a writer with a strong moral sense won the attention of both the reading public and many reviewers the positive response that welcomed Greene s first published novel The Man Within 1929 almost died out with the novels that came next The Name of Action 1930 and Rumour at Nightfall 1931 Greene himself attributed the failure of these novels to Conrad s too great and too disastrous influence Although Greene recaptured some of that praise by the remarkable craftsmanship of Stamboul Train 1932 many critics contested any claim to Greene being a leading writer of his generation hence excluded him from the literary arena for many years Critics were reluctant to recognize Greene's literary worth first because they believed that he was not exactly an original writer second because the inclusion of religious themes in his works while it arrested the attention of some Catholic writers disconcerted many others In this comparative study of Conrad s The Secret Agent and Greene s It s A Battlefield and Conrad s Heart of Darkness and Greene s A Burnt Out Case I shall attempt to investigate and elucidate what in Conrad exercised such power and fascination on Greene The focus of interest is to try and find answers to these questions has Greene's vow never again to read a novel by Conrad which he kept for more than a guarter of a century been successful Has Greene succeeded in writing off the ghost of Conrad If not do the borrowings from Conrad undermine Greene s writings in any way Such study should take into account what qualities have been absorbed what have been transmuted what rejected Such analysis is necessary for an understanding and evaluation of Greene's art not only within the English literary tradition but also within today s world literature Key Words Joseph Conrad Graham Greene Realism Modernism Civilisation Legacy Influence Intertextuality Human Nature Handbook of the English Novel of the Twentieth and Twenty-First Centuries Christoph Reinfandt, 2017-06-12 The Handbook systematically charts the trajectory of the English novel from its emergence as the foremost literary genre in the early twentieth century to its early twenty first century status of eccentric eminence in new media environments Systematic chapters address The English Novel as a Distinctly Modern Genre The Novel in the Economy Genres Gender performativity masculinities feminism queer and The Burden of Representation class and ethnicity Extended contextualized close readings of more than twenty key texts from Joseph Conrad's Heart of Darkness 1899 to Tom McCarthy's Satin Island 2015 supplement the systematic approach and encourage future research by providing Literature and Geography Emmanuelle Peraldo, 2016-01-14 In a overviews of reception and theoretical perspectives period marked by the Spatial Turn time is not the main category of analysis any longer Space is It is now considered as a central metaphor and topos in literature and literary criticism has seized space as a new tool Similarly literature turns out to be an ideal field for geography This book examines the cross fertilization of geography and literature as disciplines languages and methodologies In the past two decades several methods of analysis focusing on the relationship and interconnectedness between literature and geography have flourished Literary cartography literary geography and geocriticism Westphal 2007 and Tally 2011 have their specificities but they all agree upon the omnipresence of space place and mapping at the core of analysis Other approaches like ecocriticism Buell 2001 and Garrard 2004 geopoetics White 1994 geography of literature Moretti 2000 studies of the inserted map Ljunberg 2012 and Pristnall and Cooper 2011 and narrative cartography have likewise drawn attention to space Literature and Geography The Writing of Space Throughout History following an international conference in Lyon bringing together literary academics geographers cartographers and architects in order to discuss literature and geography as two practices of space shows that literature along with geography is perfectly valid to account for space Suggestions are offered here from all disciplines on how to take into account representations and discourses since texts including literary ones have become increasingly present in the analysis of geographers Joseph Conrad Harold Bloom, 2010 Joseph Conrad's novels and short stories explore the nature of narrative reality and competing notions of truth This new volume offers a new selection of contemporary critical commentary on the author of such classic works as Lord Jim Nostromo and Heart of Darkness This new edition also contains an introduction penned by literary scholar Harold Bloom a bibliography a chronology of the author's life and an index for reference Degeneration, Culture and the Novel William M.
