Dictionary of Chicano Slang Harry Polkinhorn, Alfredo Velasco, Malcolm Eugene Lambert, 1986      El libro de Caló Harry Polkinhorn, Alfredo Velasco, Mal Lambert, 1983      Racial Formation in the Twenty-First Century Daniel HoSang, Oneka LaBennett, Laura Pulido, 2012-09 This collection of essays marking the twenty fifth anniversary of the publication of Michael Omi and Howard Winant's Racial Formation in the United States demonstrates the importance and influence of the concept of racial formation The range of disciplines discourses ideas and ideologies makes for fascinating reading demonstrating the utility and applicability of racial formation theory to diverse contexts while at the same time presenting persuasively original extensions and elaborations of it This is an important book one that sums up analyzes and builds on some of the most important work in racial studies during the past three decades George Lipsitz author of How Racism Takes Place Racial Formation in the Twenty First Century is truly a state of the field anthology fully worthy of the classic volume it honors timely committed sophisticated accessible engaging The collection will be a boon to anyone wishing to understand the workings of race in the contemporary United States Matthew Frye Jacobson Professor of American Studies Yale University This stimulating and lively collection demonstrates the wide ranging influence and generative power of Omi and Winant's racial formation framework The contributors are leading scholars in fields ranging from the humanities and social sciences to legal and policy studies They extend the framework into new terrain including non U S settings gender and sexual relations and the contemporary warfare state While acknowledging the pathbreaking nature of Omi and Winant's intervention the contributors do not hesitate to critique what they see as limitations and omissions This is a must read for anyone striving to make sense of tensions and contradictions in racial politics in the U S and transnationally Evelyn Nakano Glenn editor of Shades of Difference Why Skin Color Matters      La Pinta B. V. Olguín, 2010-01-15 In this groundbreaking study based on archival research about Chicana and Chicano prisoners known as Pintas and Pintos as well as fresh interpretations of works by renowned Pinta and Pinto authors and activists B V Olguín provides crucial insights into the central roles that incarceration and the incarcerated have played in the evolution of Chicana o history cultural paradigms and oppositional political praxis This is the first text on prisoners in general and Chicana o and Latina o prisoners in particular that provides a range of case studies from the nineteenth century to the present Olguín places multiple approaches in dialogue through the pairing of representational figures in the history of Chicana o incarceration with specific themes and topics Case studies on the first nineteenth century Chicana prisoner in San Quentin State Prison Modesta Avila renowned late twentieth century Chicano poets Ra l Salinas Ricardo S nchez and Jimmy Santiago Baca lesser known Chicana pinta and author Judy Lucero and infamous Chicano drug baron and social bandit Fred G mez Carrasco are aligned with themes from popular culture such as prisoner tattoo art and handkerchief art Hollywood Chicana o gangxploitation and the prisoner film American Me and prisoner education projects Olguín provides a refreshing critical interrogation of Chicana o subaltern agency which too often is celebrated as unambiguously resistant and oppositional As such this study challenges long held presumptions about Chicana o cultures of resistance and proposes important explorations of the complex and contradictory relationship between Chicana o agency and ideology

Language Variation and Multimodality in Audiovisual Translation Dora Renna,2021-09-21 Society is characterized by a constant flow of multimodal products which increasingly blur the lines between screen and reality and audiovisual translation allows overcoming geographical and linguistic frontiers between small realities across the planet However research has long struggled to adapt its methodologies to effectively analyze such phenomena and even more to scale its results through larger corpus analyses Dora Renna proposes a pioneering framework informed by the latest trends in audiovisual translation and multimodality and fit to achieve the complex task of operatively including multimodality in a rigorous corpus analysis of source and target versions of films characterized by language variation as a key element of character design While language is at the core of her analysis its role in the broader audiovisual context is explored thanks to a solid network of relations that shed light on linguistic and translational choices as well as on their implications Framework and methodology are explained in detail and thoroughly applied to the case study to show how this perspective contributes to move a step forward in corpus based audiovisual translation studies The results obtained are unexpected and urge readers to overcome old attitudes towards audiovisual translation and multimodal corpora

What They Don't Learn in School Jabari Mahiri,2004 Contributors to this book have illuminated the practices of literacy and learning in the lives of urban youth Their descriptions and assessments of these practices are anchored in perspectives of New Literacy Studies The ten studies explore a number of urban scenes in order to engage understand and present multiple youth identities attitudes activities representations and stories connected to a range of situated adaptive and voluntary uses of literacy The authors use a variety of conceptual and methodological approaches to explicate the various skills the distinct methods of production or composition the subjective and collective meanings the mutable and variegated texts and the dynamic contexts that urban youth utilize for expression affirmation and pleasure There is a response to each chapter by a major scholar in its area of focus Together these studies and responses contribute to a more comprehensive understanding of the pedagogies politics and possibilities of literacy and learning in and out of school
