Give Back First Nations Perspectives On Cultural Practice:

Give Back Maria Campbell, 1992 A collection of essays by native women writers in which they argue for a radical re-visioning of culture and the functional relationship between the artist and the community Cultural Safety in Trauma-Informed Practice from a First Nations Perspective Nicole Tujague, Kelleigh Ryan, 2023-03-12 This book provides an accessible resource for conducting culturally safe and trauma informed practice with First Nations peoples in Australia Designed by and for Australian Indigenous peoples it explores psychological trauma and healing and the clinical and cultural implications of the impacts of colonization through an Indigenous lens It is a companion for anyone who works or will work with our families and communities The authors recognise trauma at the heart of all Indigenous disadvantage and explore types of trauma in the context of Indigenous collective cultures The chapters take an Indigenous Yarning approach to sharing knowledge and encourage readers to challenge their unconscious long held beliefs and worldviews Nicole Tujague and Kelleigh Ryan identify the differences between mainstream systems and more holistic Indigenous understandings of social and emotional health and wellbeing and outline a meaningful practice framework for practitioners They analyse types of complex trauma including intergenerational institutional collective and historical trauma and discuss the impacts of racism and the concept of cultural load They also address vicarious or compassion trauma experienced by front line workers and carers and offer insights into their experience of working with collective healing programs This book is essential reading for Indigenous practitioners and service providers to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people It is also a valuable resource for students likely to work with First Nations peoples within a broad range of health and social science disciplines

Sustaining the West Liza Piper, Lisa Szabo-Jones, 2015-04-06 Western Canada's natural environment faces intensifying threats from industrialization in agriculture and resource development social and cultural complicity in these destructive practices and most recently the negative effects of global climate change The complex nature of the problems being addressed calls for productive interdisciplinary solutions In this book arts and humanities scholars and literary and visual artists tackle these pressing environmental issues in provocative and transformative ways Their commitment to environmental causes emerges through the fields of environmental history environmental and ecocriticism ecofeminism ecoart ecopoetry and environmental journalism This indispensable and timely resource constitutes a sustained cross-pollinating conversation across the environmental humanities about forms of representation and activism that enable ecological knowledge and ethical action on behalf of Western Canadian environments yet have global reach Among the developments in the contributors' construction of environmental knowledge are a focus on the power of sentiment in linking people to the fate of nature and the need to decolonize social and environmental relations and assumptions in the West

When the Other is Me Emma LaRocque, 2011-03-10 In this long-awaited book from one of the most recognized and respected scholars in Native Studies today Emma LaRocque presents a powerful interdisciplinary study of the Native literary response to racist writing in the Canadian historical and literary record from 1850 to 1990 In When the Other is Me LaRocque brings a metacritical approach to Native writing situating it as resistance literature within and outside the postcolonial intellectual context She outlines the overwhelming evidence of dehumanization in Canadian historical and literary writing its effects on both popular culture and Canadian intellectual development and Native and non Native intellectual responses to it in light of the interlayered mix of romanticism exaggeration of Native difference and the continuing problem of internalization that challenges our understanding of the colonizer colonized relationship American Indian Literature Kimberly Wieser-Weryackwe, 2025-07-10 Discover the essential people works movements and themes in American Indian literature American Indian literature is a varied and vibrant collection of Indigenous artistic expression American Indian novelists poets essayists and critics have over the last four centuries asserted powerful forms of intellectual and artistic sovereignty writing in English while building on discrete tribal oral traditions and forms of storytelling This encyclopedia introduces readers to the key historical and contemporary figures in American Indian literature and their defining works From the fiery sermons of Methodist minister William Apsess to the Pulitzer Prize winning novel House Made of Dawn by N Scott Momaday to the critically acclaimed and commercially successful novels of Louise Erdrich this book illustrates the indelible and influential imprint American Indians have on the landscape of American letters Readers are also introduced to the key themes and context of American Indian literature exploring how it is inextricable from American literary history the American literary canon and the narrative of American history not on the fringes of the American experience but central to it Homemaking Catherine Wiley, Fiona R. Barnes, 2021-11-18 First published in 1996 The present volume Homemaking Women Writers and the Politics and Poetics of Home enters the critical discourse on gender by way of two of its most pressing issues the politics of women's locations at the end of the twentieth century and the division of experience into public and private That the emergence of systematic feminist thought in the west coincided with the invention of private life should not surprise us Feminist thinkers from Mary Wollstonecraft to the present were quick to realize that the designation of the public and the private male and female was key to the subordination of women Indigenous Storywork Jo-Ann Archibald, 2008-06-01 Indigenous oral narratives are an important source for and component of Coast Salish knowledge systems Stories are not only to be recounted and passed down they are also intended as tools for teaching Jo-Ann Archibald worked closely with Elders and storytellers who shared both traditional and personal life experience stories in order to develop ways of bringing storytelling into educational contexts Indigenous Storywork is the result of this research and it demonstrates how stories have the power to educate and heal the heart mind body and spirit It builds on the seven principles of respect responsibility reciprocity reverence holism interrelatedness and synergy that form a framework for understanding the characteristics of stories appreciating the process of storytelling establishing a receptive learning context and engaging in holistic meaning making Storied Voices in Native American Texts Blanca Schorcht, 2003 Table of contents Tropes and Territories Marta Dvorak, W.H. New, 2007-10-26 Tropes and Territories demonstrates how current debates in postcolonial criticism bear on the reading writing and status of short fiction These debates which hinge on competing definitions of trope motif vs rhetorical turn and territory political or aesthetic lead to studies of space place influence and writing and reading practices across cultural divides The essays also explore the character of diasporic writing the cultural significance of oral tale telling and interconnections between socio political issues and strategies of style The Cambridge Companion to Canadian Literature Eva-Marie Kröller, 2017-06-08 A fully revised second edition of this multi author account of Canadian literature from Aboriginal writing to Margaret Atwood Digital Storytelling in Indigenous Education Yvonne Poitras Pratt, 2019-07-25 Exploring the relationship between the role of education and Indigenous survival Digital Storytelling in Indigenous Education is an ethnographic exploration of how digital storytelling can be part of a broader project of decolonization of individuals their families and communities By recounting how a remote Indigenous M tis community were able to collectively imagine plan and produce numerous unique digital stories representing counter narratives to the dominant version of Canadian history Poitras Pratt provides frameworks approaches and strategies for the use of digital media and arts for the purpose of cultural memory community empowerment and mobilization The volume provides a valuable example of how a community based educational project can create and restore intergenerational exchanges through modern media and covers topics such as Introducing the M tis and their community decolonizing education through a M tis approach to research the ethnographic journey and translating the work of decolonizing to education Digital Storytelling in Indigenous Education is the perfect resource for researchers academics and postgraduate students in the fields of Indigenous education comparative education and technology education or those looking to explore the role of modern media in facilitating healing and decolonization in a marginalized community Contemporary Literary and Cultural Theory Michael Groden, Martin Kreiswirth, Imre Szeman, 2012-10-05 Contemporary Literary and Cultural Theory The Johns Hopkins Guide is a clear accessible and detailed overview of the most important thinkers and topics in the field Written by specialists from across disciplines its entries cover contemporary theory from Adorno to i ek providing an informative and reliable introduction to a vast challenging area of inquiry Materials include newly commissioned articles along with essays drawn from The Johns Hopkins Guide to Literary Theory and Criticism known as the definitive resource for students and scholars of literary theory and for philosophical reflection on literature and culture Introduction to Indigenous Literary Criticism in Canada Heather Macfarlane, Armand Garnet Ruffo, 2015-12-18 Introduction to Indigenous Literary Criticism in Canada collects 26 seminal critical essays indispensable to our understanding of the rapidly growing field of Indigenous literatures The texts gathered in this collection selected after extensive consultation with experts in the field trace the development of Indigenous literatures while highlighting major trends and themes including appropriation stereotyping language land spirituality orality colonialism residential schools reconciliation gender resistance
