free from the looping thoughts that replay old pain as if it still belongs to you See the patterns Take the wisdom Leave the weight This isn't about pretending everything happened for a reason it's about choosing the reason now When you reflect with courage instead of judgment you change how the past lives inside you It no longer dictates It instructs And you become the author of what it means This is how you reclaim your timeline not by erasing the wounds but by allowing them to deepen your insight and strengthen your direction Let your story become your teacher Not your cage Reflections Phillip Michael Garner, 2019-11-01 Reflections is a theological guide for today's Christians seeking a fuller appreciation of religious faith than is represented in populist religion The seven categories and their chapters are designed to provide the reader with an intensive study on neglected but imperative concepts for faith Subjects of vital importance to both theology and humanity are explored with a flowing continuity of understanding God and the world Reflections begins with the concept of revelation and its relation to monotheism and conviction The chapters that follow are titled Religion Is Christianity Is and Intelligent Spirituality these set the foundation for the rest of the book The sense of moderns is that they are immune to the primitive concept of idolatry Under the category of Perennial Idols Garner dismantles the idolatry that plagues humanity in every generation Reality and its creation is a category of theological thought that is essential for Christian development and sorrowfully neglected in church education The other categories are Sex and Romantic Love Popular Myths Being Human Being Poor and Forgiveness Garner's conviction is that the root of humanity's dysfunction is our failure to learn how to live together as male and female Pain, Suffering and Healing Peter Wemyss-Gorman, Murray Wallace, 2018-04-19 As our understanding of the mechanisms of the brain and nervous system that underlie the conscious experience of pain has increased over the past 60 years so too has the field of pain management What began as almost exclusively the domain of anaesthetists has become multidisciplinary and now comprises many other specialisms including neurology psychology nursing occupational therapy and physiotherapy This spate of activity has been paralleled by a similar growth in research in neurophysiology psychology and pharmacology as well as clinical medicine Simultaneously the pharmaceutical industry has spent billions of pounds and dollars in the search for better drugs for relieving pain This ground breaking book is compiled by former contributors to The Special Interest Group for Philosophy and Ethics of the British Pain Society The issues discussed include satisfactory relief of chronic pain the inadequacy of scientific biomedicine in offering answers and ethical problems arising in pain medicine Suffering cannot be found in a laboratory test or imaging study it is only observable by communicating with the sufferer The eleven chapters in this book approach this conundrum from vastly different perspectives some highly personal and others broadly social Issues such as the interface between the physician and the pharmaceutical industry are also presented Each chapter describes a facet of the problems of suffering and some of the available paths to recovery John D Loeser in the Foreword Journey of Faith John Craghan, Elsie H.
