The End of Dissatisfaction? Todd McGowan, 2012-02-01 Winner of the 2004 Gary Olson Award for best book in cultural theory presented by JAC Exploring the emergence of a societal imperative to enjoy ourselves Todd McGowan builds on the work of such theorists as Jacques Lacan Slavoj Žižek Joan Copjec and Theresa Brennan to argue that we are in the midst of a large scale transformation a shift from a society oriented around prohibition i.e. the notion that one cannot just do as one pleases to one oriented around enjoyment McGowan identifies many of the social ills of American culture today as symptoms of this transformation the sense of disconnection the increase in aggression and violence widespread cynicism political apathy incivility and loss of meaning Discussing these various symptoms he examines various texts from film literature popular culture and everyday life including Toni Morrison's Paradise Tony Kushner's Angels in America and such films as Dead Poets Society and Trigger Effect Paradoxically The End of Dissatisfaction shows how the American cultural obsession with enjoying ourselves actually makes it more difficult to do so Conrad, Faulkner, and the Problem of NonSense Maurice Ebleeni, 2017-03-23 Investigates the major novels of Joseph Conrad and William Faulkner through psychoanalytic theory and in the context of the legacy of the Counter Enlightenment Routledge International Handbook of Contemporary Social and Political Theory Gerard Delanty, Stephen P. Brockelman,2011-11-03 i ek and Heidegger offers a radical new interpretation of the work of Slavoj i ek one of the world s leading contemporary thinkers through a study of his relationship with the work of Martin Heidegger Thomas Brockelman argues that i ek s oeuvre is largely a response to Heidegger s philosophy of finitude an immanent critique of it which pulls it in the direction of revolutionary praxis Brockelman also finds limitations in i ek s relationship with Heidegger specifically in his ambivalence about Heidegger s techno phobia Brockelman s critique of i ek departs from this ambivalence a fundamental tension in i ek s work between a historicist critical theory of techno capitalism and an anti historicist theory of revolutionary change In addition to clarifying what i ek has to say about our world and about the possibility of radical change in it i ek and Heidegger explores the various ways in which this split at the center of his thought appears within it in i ek s views on history or on the relationship between the revolutionary leader and the proletariat or between the analyst and the analysand

Adventures with the Theory of the Baroque and French Philosophy Nadir Lahiji,2016-09-22 Analysing the reception of contemporary French philosophy in architecture over the last four decades Adventures with the Theory of the Baroque and French Philosophy discusses the problematic nature of importing philosophical categories into architecture Focusing particularly on the philosophical notion of the Baroque in Gilles Deleuze this study examines traditional interpretations of the concept in contemporary architecture theory throwing up specific problems such as the aestheticization of building theory and practice Identifying these and other issues Nadir Lahiji constructs a concept of the baroque in contrast to the contemporary understanding in architecture discourse Challenging the contemporary dominance of the Neo Baroque as a phenomenon related to postmodernism and late capitalism he establishes the Baroque as a name for the paradoxical unity of kitsch and high art and argues that the digital turn has enhanced the return of the Baroque in contemporary culture and architectural practice that he brands a pseudo event in the term neobaroque Lahiji s original critique expands on the misadventure of architecture with French Philosophy and explains why the category of the Baroque if it is still useful to keep in architecture criticism must be tied to the notion of Post Rationalism Within this latter notion he draws on the work of Alain Badiou to theorize a new concept of the Baroque as Event Alongside close readings of Walter Benjamin Theodor Adorno and Michel Foucault related to the criticism of the Baroque and Modernity and discussions of the work of Frank Gehry in particular this study draws on Jacques Lacan s concept of the baroque and presents the first comprehensive treatment of the Deviant Leisure Thomas Raymen, Oliver Smith, 2019-09-28. This book brings together a collection of critical essays that challenge the existing dogma of leisure as an unmitigated social good in order to examine the commodification and marketisation of leisure across a number of key sites. Leisure and consumer culture have become symbolic of the individual freedoms of liberal society, ostensibly presenting individuals with the opportunity to display individual creativity, cultural competence, and taste. This book problematizes these assertions and considers the range of harms that emerge in a consumer society predicated upon intense individualism and symbolic competition. Approaching the field of commodified leisure through the lens of social harm, this collection of essays pushes far beyond criminology's traditional interest in deviant forms of leisure to consider the normalized social, interpersonal, and environmental harms that emerge at the intersection of leisure and consumer capitalism. Capturing the current vitality and interdisciplinary scope of recent work which is underpinned by the deviant leisure perspective, this collection uses case studies, original research, and other forms of empirical enquiry to scrutinise activities that range from alcohol consumption and gambling to charity tourism, CrossFit training, and cosmetic pharmaceuticals. Drawn from researchers across the UK, US, Europe, and Australia, Deviant Leisure: Criminological Perspectives on Leisure and Harm represents the first systematic attempt at a criminological consideration of the global harms of the leisure industry, firmly establishing leisure as a subject of serious criminological importance.

Enjoyment and Submission in Modern Fantasy Mihnea Panu, 2016-11-03. This book reveals the workings of the bourgeois passion for submission in a variety of contemporary contexts. By re-introducing the concept bourgeois as an analytical term and describing this contemporary subject as a psychic economy rather than just as a social class, Panu shows the intractability of contemporary forms of enjoyment and neoliberalism's periodic outbursts of aggressiveness to be connected by a recurrent circuit of trauma and anxiety originating in the bourgeois subject's difficult relationship with symbolic authority. So far, most anticapitalist and decolonial struggles in the West have been hesitant when engaging with the issue of bourgeois enjoyment as the main source of capitalism's resilience. This exciting new work draws on an extensive range of theorists such as Butler, Copjec, Žižek, and Župancić to emphasise the importance of psychological mechanisms irreducible to rationality or knowledge, such as desire, enjoyment, and the obscure nature of selfhood in the reiteration of the current capitalist reality.

Resisting Arrest Robert A. Rushing, 2021-04-28 A volume in the Cultural Studies Series edited by Samir Dayal An innovative and entertaining look at genre popular culture enjoyment and psychoanalysis Detective fiction a category that broadly defined runs the gamut from Oedipus Rex to The Purloined Letter continues to draw a range of fans and scholars and to play a pivotal role in popular entertainment contemporary literature and psychoanalytic theory But how do we derive pleasure from reading about or watching a detective's exploits Is our enjoyment in the vicarious experience of genius Or in witnessing the commission of a crime an equally vicarious experience of violence Resisting Arrest looks at the detective genre in its many different cultural manifestations from popular fiction Christie to high literature Eco from art films Antonioni to popular television series Monk In each case Rushing finds that detective stories have less to do with fulfilling our hidden desires as psychoanalytic explanations have traditionally asserted than with purposively thwarting them He argues that the genre is in fact constituted principally by the promises on which it fails to deliver including the vicarious experience of both genius readers expecting to play Sherlock Holmes are almost always cast as Watson and antisocial violence so that our pleasure is based on what Slavoj Zizek has called the endless circulation around the always missed object Organized around the key ideas that structure the detective genre Desire Repetition Violence Resisting Arrest offers a thoroughly new interpretation that will appeal to scholars interested in questions about genre and cinema studies popular culture and psychoanalysis Chances Are Valerie Rohy, 2019-10-11 This innovative work makes use of psychoanalytic queer and narrative theories to read nineteenth and twentieth century American literature and demonstrate how the concept of contingency whether chance accident luck or mutation enriches our understanding of how queer sexualities are articulated Perhaps love always carries an element of contingency our attraction to a particular person can be arbitrary and inexplicable and a sense of necessity we find that we cannot imagine life without them But contingency and chance mean something different for queer subjects In a heteronormative culture heterosexuality claims to be necessary it must be whereas homosexuality not only could be otherwise but perhaps it should be otherwise and probably it should not be at all This book outlines why and how issues of chance and contingency should matter to queer theory and queer literary studies Combining psychoanalytic queer and narrative theories Chances Are considers nineteenth and twentieth century American literary texts that formally or thematically involve contingencies of their own including narrative coincidences and accidents the role of luck in notions of race and class and efforts to imagine queer hermeneutic methods that make space for contingency Literary texts include Edgar Allan Poe's The Mystery of Marie Rogêt 1842 Horatio Alger's Ragged Dick novels 1868-69 Frank Norris's The Pit 1903 and Edith Wharton's The House of Mirth 1905 Frances E W Harper's Iola Leroy 1892 and Nella Larsen's Passing 1929 H D's Tribute to Freud 1956 and Alison Bechdel's Are You My Mother 2012 This dynamic and original text would be suitable for students and researchers in literary studies critical theory and women's and gender studies
