Good Practice In Working With Victims Of Violence:

Good Practice in Working with Victims of Violence Hazel Kemshall, Jacki Pritchard, 2000 Drawing on the experiences of practitioners from a range of backgrounds this study of real or threatened physical violence and its consequences is based upon personal accounts of people who have been subjected to violence

Victims of Crime and Community Justice Brian Williams, 2005-05-15 Dr Brian Williams lays bare the assumptions about victims and offenders that currently restrict efficient policy making He evaluates proposed solutions including restorative justice and informal community justice and draws on evidence and experiences from the UK and around the world to investigate which measures have proved effective

The Handbook of Dealing with Workplace Bullying Anne-Marie Quigg, 2016-03-03 The topic of workplace bullying and abuse gained considerable public and media attention during 2013 when the scandal of events at the BBC was unveiled following an enquiry led by Dinah Rose QC The Handbook of Dealing with Workplace Bullying edited by Dr Anne Marie Quigg presents the collective wisdom and knowledge of a number of lawyers management experts and academics from around the world The key themes include understanding the law in each country represented and the responsibilities of individuals as well as management teams and governors in organizations New case studies are supplied by people working with and within HR teams who have professional experience of dealing with the issue as well as practical suggestions that are of use to managers to people accused of bullying and also to people who find they are targets of bullying Dr Quigg summarizes the range and scope of the contributions by the individual contributors commenting on the research findings and professional experience that informs them The book thus reflects the variety of options for dealing with bullying that are relevant in different parts of the world and focuses on advice that is pertinent in real life rather than presenting a collection of academic theories

Women who Offend Gill McIvor, 2004 Presenting research that will underpin effective practice with women who offend this unique and thought provoking text aims to help professionals meet the needs of this group as well as providing a theoretical resource for policy makers and academics The authors coming from a variety of professional and research perspectives discuss important issues concerning women in the criminal justice system including the increase in custodial sentences for women black women in prison patterns of female offending drug use and the criminal justice system the needs of women on release from prison Calling into question the relevance to female offenders of research conducted with men who commit crime the contributors provide a comprehensive knowledge base on women and crime for professionals who work in this area With a broad range of contributions this book will be helpful to probation officers social workers policy makers and others who work with female offenders

Victims, Crime and Society Pamela Davies, Peter Francis, Chris Greer, 2007-11-18 Focusing on key issues themes and concepts within victimology this edited collection provides an accessible and comprehensive critical analysis of crucial areas within victimisation The main theories are related to and integrated with empirical research in an engaging style Dr Anette Ballinger Keele University This book achieves the rare feat of helping its readers without patronising them The aids to the reader tables boxes glossaries questions and suggestions for further reading will prove genuinely helpful to students and their teachers but they appear within a text that is theoretically informed as well as comprehensive and up to date in its coverage It deserves to be widely read and used in the teaching of criminology victimology and criminal justice Professor David Smith University of Lancaster UK Organized around the intersecting social divisions of class race age and gender the book provides an engaging and authoritative overview of the nature of victimisation in society In addition to a review of the major theoretical developments in relation to understanding aspects of victimization in society individual chapters explore the political and social context of victimisation and the historical comparative and contemporary research and scholarly work on it Each chapter includes the following Background and glossary Theory research and policy review Thinking critically about sections Reflections and future research directions Summary and conclusions Annotated bibliography Victims Crime and Society is the essential text on victims for students of criminology criminal justice community safety youth justice and related areas

Rights for Victims of Crime Irvin Waller, 2010-12-16 When the victims of injustice lose faith in their justice system the crime they've endured cuts only deeper adding insult to injury The time has come to face the truth that most victims of crime will not have their needs met and often won't experience our systems of justice as just This short book makes its readers experts in advocating rights for victims of crime It empowers taxpayers voters and potential victims of crime to make the case to rebalance justice and support victims Written for the millions of victims of crime and their friends and families it helps to transform an antiquated system of criminal and civil justice into a modern system that is just and fair shifting from neglect to respect and support While some laws in the USA and elsewhere do support victims by providing assistance compensation and protection from the accused this book also sheds a harsh light upon their inadequate implementation Police services must catch crooks but make victims their client Courts must balance rights for defendants and victims Services for women children and elderly victims must be adequately funded Restitution from offenders must be ordered and collected not overlooked Fair compensation from the state must change from a secret to a given The prevention of victimization must be the budget priority not mass incarceration Despite the speeches and the United Nations norms governments still leave most victims of crime without basic information support and assistance let alone respect and remedies in courts If you are not yet one of those victims of crime social responsibility requires you to ensure that your country's systems of justice are fair to those who are and for them this book provides an answer 'Hate crime' and the city Paul Iganski,2008-07-09 The impression often conveyed by the media about hate crime offenders is that they are hate fuelled individuals who in acting out their extremely bigoted views target their victims in premeditated violent attacks Scholarly research on the perpetrators of hate crime has begun to provide a more nuanced picture But the preoccupation of researchers with convicted offenders neglects the vast majority of hate crime offenders that do not come into contact with the criminal justice system This book from a leading author in the field widens understanding of hate crime by demonstrating that many offenders are ordinary people who offend in the context of their everyday lives Written in a lively and accessible style the book takes a victim centred approach to explore and analyse hate crime as a social problem providing an empirically informed and scholarly perspective Aimed at academics and students of criminology sociology and socio legal studies the book draws out the connections between the individual agency of offenders and the background structural context for their actions It adds a new dimension to the debate about criminalising hate in light of concerns about the rise of punitive and expressive justice scrutinizing the balance struck by hate crime laws between the rights of offenders and the rights of victims

Roberts, David W. Springer, 2007 In this completely revised and updated classic Professors Roberts and Springer along with 51 justice oriented and forensic experts have set the standard of care for mental health treatment and the delivery of social services to crime victims juvenile and adult offenders and their families The second edition of Social Work in Juvenile and Criminal Justice Settings was published almost ten years ago in 1997 and was also translated to Chinese Now Dr Roberts Dr Springer and their team of 51 prominent chapter authors have done such a thorough job of updating and finding new authors that the end result is a comprehensive new book. In this third edition 16 of the 31 chapters are new and specially written for this book. A growing number of mental health professionals are recognizing the need to examine current evidence based program developments, assessment and treatment practices with crime victims and offenders. This book focuses on the multiple roles and practices of justice social workers, also known as forensic social workers and crisis counselors. Many professional social workers, counselors and field placement students work in corrections and probation, forensic mental health, addictions treatment, juvenile justice, victim assistance and police social work settings. In the words of Dean Barbara W. White, former President, Council on Social Work Education and NASW, in her laudatory Foreword to this edition: "This groundbreaking book provides the necessary blueprints and guidelines for best practices with crime victims as well as juvenile and adult offenders in institutional, community based diversion and aftercare programs. This is the first all inclusive, authoritative, exceptionally well written volume on social policies and social work practices in both juvenile justice and criminal justice settings. This book is a landmark achievement. An increasing number of offenders and victims have been found to be..."

SOCIAL WORK IN JUVENILE AND CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEMS (4th Ed.) David W. Springer, Albert R. Roberts, 2017-05-16

Social Work in Juvenile and Criminal Justice Systems sets the standard of care for mental health treatment and the delivery of social services to crime victims, juvenile and adult offenders and their families. The chapters, all authored by experts in the field and all committed to the mission of social justice, are written with the clear understanding that we cannot study criminal justice in a vacuum. Therefore, a major focus of the book is on the renewed, growing sense of the profession's obligation to social justice. Each chapter interconnects with the various components of juvenile and criminal justice. Another prominent aspect of the book is that it is strength based. It views those involved in the criminal and juvenile justice systems as individuals rather than inmates or criminals, each with unique positive talents and abilities. The book is divided into four sections. The first section discusses forensic social work, including crime and delinquency theories, trends and ethical issues. The second section prepares social workers for practice in correctional institutions and explores crisis intervention with victims of violence, reentry of adult offenders in society and aging in prison. The third section covers assessment and intervention in child sexual abuse, mental health and substance abuse, interpersonal violence and prevention, child welfare and juvenile justice. The final section presents an overview on social work in the twenty first century, which includes restorative justice and the justice system, new ways of delivering justice, domestic violence, neighborhood revitalization, race and ethnicity and social work practice with LGBTQ offenders. This book will be the best single source on social work in criminal justice settings and will prove to be an invaluable resource for the many professionals who have responsibility for formulating and carrying out the mandates of the criminal justice system.

Crime, Victims and Policy D. Wilson, S. Ross, 2015-06-25

This book provides a critical examination of how recent international developments in victims theory and policy are experienced within specific local contexts The chapters approach key criminological issues including the experience of criminal justice agencies policy formulation the construction of victim identities and the discovery of new victims
