Shaw,Kevin E. Lawson,2015-10-30 Theological education is a vital aspect of Christian mission The training of evangelical doctoral students in theological subject areas is therefore an important part of the mission of God This handbook presents doctoral supervision as a task involving both academic and spiritual formation Designed to be practical and relevant and to encourage self reflection at both individual and institutional levels it combines theological foundations with educational theory accompanied by questions exercises and case studies to develop doctoral level skills Central to the theme of this handbook is the promotion of excellence in academic training combined with a strong focus on the spiritual and pastoral dynamics of supervision a combination that evangelical students desperately need from their supervisors Enhancing the Doctoral Experience Steve Hutchinson,Helen Lawrence,2017-03-02 One of the major intangible benefits associated with the postgraduate research experience is precisely that the experience And more specifically for an increasing number of international research students the British doctoral experience This experience is often largely defined and shaped by their relationship with and support from their supervisor Enhancing the Doctoral Experience brings together the authors experience and research frameworks and models as well as pragmatic feedback and understanding This synthesis of scholarly theory and pragmatic sampling has produced a book that provides a scaffold for students and supervisors to have conversations about their expectations to discuss what supervision is to articulate clearly what both parties need in order for a successful relationship to occur and to build a mutually beneficial endeavour In many cases these conversations can be complicated by cultural and linguistic differences so the text explicitly addresses these and other sources of misunderstanding Against a challenging background of growing numbers of students but also increasing pressures on time and costs Enhancing the Doctoral Experience offers an approach to improve the effectiveness of the doctoral student and increase the professionalization of research supervision It does so by providing both with an awareness of and a toolkit to approach student diversity Feedback Dialogues in Intercultural Doctoral Supervision Linlin Xu, 2025-09-30 This book provides an in depth understanding of doctoral students feedback engagement an essential component of feedback dialogues co constructed with their supervisors in intercultural supervision Drawing on Bakhtin s theory of dialogism this mixed methods study explores from cognitive affective behavioural and socio cultural perspectives the perceptions and experiences of Chinese international doctoral students engagement with their non Chinese supervisors written feedback In particular it investigates how students engage in both external and internal feedback dialogues and through which they re construct their academic voices as emerging scholars This book adds to our knowledge of the complex nature of feedback engagement in intercultural doctoral supervision It offers valuable implications for supervisors mentors academic advisors and academic writing teachers in terms of fostering collaborative enabling emancipatory and culturally reflexive relationships with doctoral students It also illustrates the tensions and contradictions that doctoral students especially international doctoral students may encounter in their studies making overt the underlying reasons for the tensions and showcasing how their counterparts navigate these tensions These insights help supervisors and doctoral students reflect on their perceptions and practices and how to make such tensions productive

All You Need to Know Before Commencing Higher Education Elizabeth Paradiso Urassa, 2023-03-31 How do we ensure that people undertake higher education HE only when they have adequate information Why are there higher numbers of people enrolling into HE studies than ever before Why are there so many students dropping out of so many institutions How do we balance learning in HE with our private life What skills are acquired in HE What are the challenges associated with learning in HE These are among the questions the book will attempt to respond to Indeed several people begin HE with little or no information about the structure changes and practices in HE Some are not even aware of the skills they desire to acquire and that will be required of them in the job market People commence HE blindly partly due to external pressure and partly due to the availability of financial support through scholarships among other things This unawareness of what it takes to be a student and the current complexity of HE learning environment have become a stumbling block for many students This book is designed to provide HE stakeholders parents students institutions supervisors teachers governments and donor agencies with information on HE that is otherwise missing It will help people to make better decisions on whether they need a degree in the first place and if they do what kind of skills they will require The book consists of information that no institution counsellor academic supervisor or scholarly literature will provide to you This is the main reason which motivated the author to write this book The author has collected useful data from diverse sources and from people who are responsible for implementing the required practices in HE Moreover she was able to capture testimony from students who dropped out of higher education Their experiences will educate and inform readers about situations that may lead to failure or success in higher education learning It is important to have the right information at the right time and from a reliable source such as this book and the information in this book will surely benefit the readers to make better decisions before engaging in high demand HE business as well as supporting those who decide to join HE to be more conscious about what they need and what is expected of them Similarly by reading this book some may find that they probably do not need the degree they are about to embark on Information is power Doctoral Research Supervision, Pedagogy and the PhD Bill Green, Catherine

Manathunga, Alison Lee, 2023-06-30 The book brings together for the first time a range of integrated essays produced out of a programme of research and scholarship designed to better understand advanced level research supervision as pedagogy Doctoral Research Supervision Pedagogy and the PhD questions the traditions of how doctoral work is accomplished in the context of the changing role of research and universities in contemporary societies Focused on research supervision and the pedagogies of doctoral work the book brings together for the first time a range of integrated essays produced out of a programme of research and scholarship designed to better understand advanced level research supervision as pedagogy Those original ground breaking chapters are framed by new work extending the overall argument reflecting on the emergence and development of doctoral education research and evaluating the state of the field today This book is of interest to scholars and postgraduate researchers in higher education postgraduate and doctoral education supervision and the philosophy and theory of higher education Reimagining Graduate Supervision in Developing Contexts Danielle

Threshold Concepts and Transformational Learning ,2010-01-01 Over the last decade the notion of threshold concepts has proved influential around the world as a powerful means of exploring and discussing the key points of transformation that students experience in their higher education courses and the troublesome knowledge that these often present Threshold concepts provoke in the learner a state of liminality in which transformation takes place requiring the integration of new understanding and the letting go of previous learning stances Insights gained by learners as they cross thresholds can be exhilarating but might also be unsettling requiring an uncomfortable shift in identity or paradoxically a sense of loss The liminal space can be a suspended state of partial understanding or stuck place in which understanding approximates to a kind of mimicry Threshold Concepts and Transformational Learning substantially increases the empirical evidence for threshold concepts across a large number of disciplinary contexts and from the higher education sectors of many countries This new volume develops further theoretical perspectives and provides fresh pedagogical directions It will be of interest to teachers practitioners and managers in all disciplines as well as to educational researchers
