Adapting Translation for the Stage Geraldine Brodie, Emma Cole, 2017-07-06 Translating for performance is a difficult and hotly contested activity Adapting Translation for the Stage presents a sustained dialogue between scholars actors directors writers and those working across these boundaries exploring common themes and issues encountered when writing staging and researching translated works It is organised into four parts each reflecting on a theatrical genre where translation is regularly practised The Role of Translation in Rewriting Naturalist Theatre Adapting Classical Drama at the Turn of the Twenty First Century Translocating Political Activism in Contemporary Theatre Modernist Narratives of Translation in Performance A range of case studies from the National Theatre s Medea to The Gate Theatre s Dances of Death and Emily Mann s The House of Bernarda Alba shed new light on the creative processes inherent in translating for the theatre destabilising the literal performable binary to suggest that adaptation and translation can and do coexist on stage Chronicling the many possible intersections between translation theory and practice Adapting Translation for the Stage offers a unique exploration of the processes of translating adapting and relocating work for the theatre

Women Classical Scholars Rosie Wyles, Edith Hall, 2016-10-27 Women Classical Scholars Unsealing the Fountain from the Renaissance to Jacqueline de Romilly is the first written history of the pioneering women born between the Renaissance and 1913 who played significant roles in the history of classical scholarship Facing seemingly insurmountable obstacles from patriarchal social systems and educational institutions from learning Latin and Greek as a marginalized minority to being excluded from institutional support denigrated for being lightweight or over ambitious and working in the shadows of husbands fathers and brothers they nevertheless continued to teach edit translate analyse and elucidate the texts left to us by the ancient Greeks and Romans In this volume twenty essays by international leaders in the field chronicle the lives of women from around the globe who have shaped the discipline over more than five hundred years Arranged in broadly chronological order from the Italian Iberian and Portuguese Renaissance through to the Stalinist Soviet Union and occupied France they synthesize illuminating overviews of the evolution of classical scholarship with incisive case studies into often overlooked key figures some like Madame Anne Dacier were already famous in their home countries but have been neglected in previous male centred accounts while others have been almost completely lost to the mainstream cultural memory This book identifies and celebrates them their frustrations achievements and lasting records in so doing it provides the classical scholars of today regardless of gender with the female intellectual ancestors they did not know they had
