Fractured Karma:

Fractured Karma, 1990 Algorithmic Karma Chintan Bhagat, 2025-09-29 In a near future world gleaming with sterile efficiency society has surrendered its autonomy to KarmaNet an omnipresent predictive algorithm designed to eliminate crime before it happens Across the polished data saturated streets of Singapore the air hums with the low frequency drone of constant surveillance painting the world in the cool clinical blue light of civic control Here beat cop Rajiv Menon patrols a city where citizens are tagged with flickering probability scores his every action dictated by the system's cold mathematical certainty Half a world away in the gritty exhaust scented chill of Brooklyn Detective Lena Kowalski confronts the same digital judgment where the lives of ordinary people are upended by the unquestioned verdicts of a machine Algorithmic Karma chronicles the inevitable collision between this quest for perfect safety and the unquenchable human spirit of free will The story follows a small group of dissenters led by the very officers tasked with enforcing the system who begin to question the algorithm's infallibility when they witness its devastating human cost What begins as a whisper of doubt a flickering fault line in a digitally perfect world ignites a global rebellion that pits ordinary citizens against the tyrannical tides of their creation It is a journey through chaos and ethical dilemmas from the pungent spice scented markets of Little India to the tear gas choked streets of a city in revolt ultimately asking whether humanity can override its digital destiny and reclaim the essential messy and beautiful right to choose

Fractured Future Nicholas P. W. Coe, 2012-08-08 Historically evolution moves at a slow place with advances made by incremental steps Occasionally however when circumstances permit a massive leap catapults a species into a different future Now ten thousand years into such a future humanity has evolved into a barely recognizable form with the ability to manifest multiple personal entities each with a distinctly different physical identity The Exiger hegemony has exploited this evolutionary springboard giving it virtually irresistible military political and even social advantage as it seeks the utter subjugation of the galaxy Commander Solon Draco lost his parents at ten and that experience shaped his entire future As an adult he dedicates his life to the military For his own reasons he chooses to display only one personality a single minded drive that has propelled him through the ranks When Draco learns that the bearer of the genetic leap that founded his race and the Exiger Empire thousands of years ago has discovered a means to eliminate the change he is dispatched into the past leading an interstellar battle fleet from an even more distant future to foil this plan He knows that if this crucial change is eliminated he his whole race and the future they populate will vanish in an instant As adversaries who are millennia apart race against time on a mission that will carry them to the very end of time everything hangs in the balance What path will humanity tread into the unknown future

Edward Dorn Tom Clark, 2002 After initiating a critical involvement with new poetics in dialogue with his mentor Charles Olson at Black Mountain College in the 1950s Dorn wandered the trans mountain West following the variable winds of writing and casual employment until the mid 1960s when a time of trial and change resulted in the beginnings of the groundbreaking long poem Gunslinger This first biography by his longtime friend and fellow poet Tom Clark author of previous biographies of Jack Kerouac Ted Berrigan Charles Olson and Robert Creeley offers a record of Dorn's life and work drawing upon fresh testimony letters and unpublished manuscript material provided by surviving family members

Dashing to the End Eric Monder, 2025-05-15 Born Alfred Reginald John Truscott Jones Welsh American actor Ray Milland 1907-1986 appeared in more than 135 theatrical releases between 1929 and 1985 and on radio television and the stage while also becoming a film director Milland's extensive canon across such a period is remarkable especially considering his lack of formal training his belated start in show business in his late twenties and the fact he only lived to age seventy nine Perhaps best remembered for his Oscar winning performance as the tortured alcoholic in Billy Wilder's The Lost Weekend 1945 or his outstanding collaboration with Alfred Hitchcock in Dial M for Murder 1954 there is much more to

Milland's life and career than the few films that elevated him from star to icon. Despite his prolific and successful career, Dashing to the End: The Ray Milland Story is the first comprehensive biography of the star. Milland's personal and professional trajectory epitomize quintessential Hollywood lore: the British army soldier turned actor who went from unknown struggling bit player to Oscar-winning star to aging scandal haunted has-been to comeback character actor to present-day cult figure. Using interviews with Milland's costars and colleagues as well as research from several major archives, author Eric Monder brings into sharp relief both the positive and negative aspects of the Hollywood film and television industries and paints a well-rounded portrait of this complex man and artist. Karma's Spice L.A. Boruff, Lacey Carter, 2024-01-19

The cafe has been cursed. At least that was the only logical explanation for the strange happenings plaguing the cafe and its staff. For a while, Deva had simply thought she'd run into some bad luck, but karma's powers have proved otherwise. Now the ladies need to figure out who could be targeting the restaurant and why. They need to work quickly too, before this curse turns deadly. With all the supernatural creatures in Mystic Falls, Emma will need her friends and her sexy bear shifter if she has any chance of solving the mystery in time. Karma's a Killer Tracy Weber, 2016-01-08

When Seattle yoga teacher Kate Davidson agrees to teach dog yoga for dogs at a fundraiser for a local animal shelter, she believes the only damage will be to her reputation. But a few downward-facing dogs are the least of Kate's problems when an animal rights protest at the event leads to a suspicious fire and a drowning. The police arrest Dharma, a woman claiming to be Kate's estranged mother, and charge her with murder. To prove Dharma's innocence, Kate, her boyfriend Michael, and her German shepherd sidekick Bella dive deeply into the worlds of animal activism and organizational politics. As they investigate the dangerous obsessions that drive these groups, Kate and her sleuthing team discover that when it comes to murder, there's no place like home. Praise Weber's clever assemblage of suspects, is eliminated one by one in her entertaining novel. RT Book Reviews: Weber's characters are likeable and amusing; the background is interesting, and the story is ultimately satisfying. Ellery Queen Mystery Magazine: A wonderful story for dog lovers, with the other human characters being just as likeable. Suspense Magazine: Weber keeps readers guessing and populates the action with plenty of kooky characters. Mystery Scene: Karma's a Killer continues Tracy Weber's charming series. The Seattle Times: Crazy, quirky critters and their odd yet utterly relatable human counterparts make Karma's a Killer an appealing story. But when you add the keep-you-guessing mystery with both laugh-out-loud one-liners and touching moments of pure poignancy, the result is a truly great book. Laura Morrigan, national bestselling author of the Call of the Wilde mystery series: Tracy's Weber's Karma's a Killer delivers on all fronts: a likably feisty protagonist, a great supporting cast, a puzzler of a mystery, and best of all, lots of heart. Laura DiSilverio, national bestselling author of The Readaholics: Book Club Mysteries, two-time Lefty Finalist for Best Humorous Mystery, and Colorado Book Award finalist: Yogatta love this latest in the series when Kate exercises her brain cells trying to figure out who deactivated an animal rights activist. Mary Daheim, author of The Bed and Breakfast and Emma Lord Alpine Mysteries.

Dying Modern Diana Fuss, 2013-04-12 In Dying Modern one of our foremost literary critics inspires new ways to read write and talk about poetry Diana Fuss does so by identifying three distinct but largely unrecognized voices within the well studied genre of the elegy the dying voice the reviving voice and the surviving voice Through her deft readings of modern poetry Fuss unveils the dramatic within the elegiac the dying diva who relishes a great deathbed scene the speaking corpse who fancies a good haunting and the departing lover who delights in a dramatic exit Focusing primarily on American and British poetry written during the past two centuries Fuss maintains that poetry can still offer genuine ethical compensation even for the deep wounds and shocking banalities of modern death As dying loss and grief become ever more thoroughly obscured from public view the dead start chattering away in verse Through bold original interpretations of little known works as well as canonical poems by writers such as Emily Dickinson Randall Jarrell Elizabeth Bishop Richard Wright and Sylvia Plath Fuss explores modern poetry's fascination with pre and postmortem speech pondering the literary desire to make death speak in the face of its cultural silencing
