Fragments of Memory Hanna Mina,2024-03-05 An autobiographical novel set in the early 20th century about the life of a boy born to a poor family in northern Syria Fragments of Memory offers a picture of reality that is simple direct and quite emotional an image of Syrian society in the thirties and forties through the struggle of an impoverished family of an origin that is neither rural nor urban which moves from the city to the countryside only to be forced back unwillingly groping for survival Khaldoun Shamaa s Fragments of Memory is an autobiographical novel about the life of a boy born to a poor family in northern Syria Mina sets these personal events against a richly detailed description of events in the history of early 20th century Syria as the silkworm industry gave way to modern foreign technology The mode of life described is one of a bygone era Fragments of Memory Ḥannā Mīnah,2004 Fragments of Memory is an autobiographical novel about the life of a boy born to a poor family in northern Syria Mina sets these personal events against a richly detailed description of events in the history of early 20th century Syria as the silkworm industry gave way to modern foreign technology Naguib Mahfouz , The Female Suffering Body Abir Hamdar,2014-12-17

Although there is a history of rich complex and variegated representations of female illness in Western literature over the last two centuries the sick female body has traditionally remained outside the Arab literary imagination Hamdar takes on this historical absence in The Female Suffering Body by exploring how both literary and cultural perspectives on female physical illness and disability in the Arab world have transformed in the modern period In doing so she examines a range of both canonical and hitherto marginalized Arab writers including Mahmoud Taymur Yusuf al Sibai Ghassan Kanafani Naguib Mahfouz Ziyad Qassim Colette Khoury Hanan al Shaykh Alia Mamdouh Salwa Bakr Hassan Daoud and Betool Khedair Hamdar finds that over the course of sixty years female physical illness and disability has moved from the margins of Arabic literature where it was largely the subject of shame disgust or revulsion to the center as a new wave of female writers have sought to give voice to the female suffering body

Arab Family Studies Suad Joseph,2018-07-10 Family remains the most powerful social idiom and one of the most powerful social structures throughout the Arab world To engender love of nation among its citizens national movements portray the nation as a family To motivate loyalty political leaders frame themselves as fathers mothers brothers or sisters to their clients parties or the citizenry To stimulate production economic actors evoke the sense of duty and mutual commitment of family obligation To sanctify their edicts clerics wrap religion in the moralities of family and family in the moralities of religion Social and political movements from the most secular to the most religious pull on the tender strings of family love to recruit and bind their members to each other To call someone family is to offer them almost the highest possible intimacy loyalty rights reciprocities and dignity In recognizing the significance of the concept of family this state of the art literature review captures the major theories methods and case studies carried out on Arab families over the past century The book offers a country by country critical assessment of the available scholarship on Arab families Sixteen chapters focus on specific countries or groups of countries seven chapters offer examinations of the literature on key topical issues Joseph s volume provides an indispensable resource to researchers and students and advances Arab family studies as a critical independent field of scholarship Autobiographical Identities in Contemporary Arab Culture Valerie Anishchenkova,2014-07-16 Over the last 40 years autobiography in Arab societies has moved away from exemplary life narratives and toward more unorthodox techniques such as erotic memoir writing postmodernist self fragmentation cinematographic self projection and blogging Valerie Anishchenkova argues that the Arabic autobiographical genre has evolved into a mobile unrestricted category arming authors with narrative tools to articulate their selfhood Reading works from Arab nations such as Egypt Iraq Morocco Syria and Lebanon Anishchenkova connects the century s rapid political and ideological developments to increasing autobiographical experimentation in Arabic works The immense scope of her study also forces consideration of film and online forms of self representation and offers a novel theoretical framework to these various modes of autobiographical cultural production Syria in World War I M. Talha Çiçek,2015-12-14 The First World War quickly escalated from a European war into a global conflict that would cause fundamental changes in the Middle East Africa Asia and the Americas Its end signalled the dissolution of the Ottoman Empire which had controlled most of the Arab Middle East Over the wartime period millions of people across the Empire died as a result of warfare epidemics famines and massacres However for the Ottoman leaders their entry into the war was not just a response to a life or death struggle but rather presented them with an opportunity to transform the empire into a new type of state Syria in World War I brings together leading scholars working with original Turkish Arabic Armenian and German sources to present a comprehensive examination of this key period in Syria s history Together the chapters demonstrate how the war represented a radical break from the past for the Syrian lands which underwent crucial political economic social and cultural transformations It contextualises various facets of the then Unionist ruler of Syria Djemal Pasha as well as exploring the impact of the Ottoman leaders divergent policies on the Syrian lands and people which would undergo a series of political economic and ecological catastrophes whose traces are still evident in the region s collective memory Introducing a significant body of new information and considerably expanding the parameters of current debates Syria in World War I is of key interest to students and scholars of Middle East History as well as History of the Late Ottoman Empire and World War I History Arabic Disclosures Muhsin J. al-Musawi,2022-06-15 Arabic Disclosures presents readers with a comparative analysis of Arabic postcolonial autobiographical writing In Arabic Disclosures Muhsin J al Musawi investigates the genre of autobiography within the modern tradition of Arabic literary writing from the early 1920s to the present Al Musawi notes in the introduction that the purpose of this work is not to survey the entirety of autobiographical writing in modern Arabic but rather to apply a rigorously identified set of characteristics and approaches culled from a variety of theoretical studies of the genre to a particular set of autobiographical works in Arabic selected for their different methodologies varying historical contexts within which they were conceived and written and the equally varied lives experienced by the authors involved The book begins in the larger context of autobiographical space where the theories of Bourdieu Bachelard Bakhtin and Lefebvre are laid out and then considers the multiple ways in which a postcolonial awareness of space has impacted the writings of many of the authors whose works are examined Organized chronologically al Musawi begins with the earliest modern example of autobiographical work in h usayn s book translated into English as The Stream of Days Al Musawi studies some of the major pioneers in the development of modern Arabic thought and literary expression Jurj Zayd n M k l Nu aymah A mad Am n Sal mah M s Sayyid Qu b and untranslated works by the prominent critic and scholar amm d amm d the novelist liah Mamd and others He also examines the autobiographies of a number of women including Naw l al Sa d w and Fadw q n and fiction writers The book draws a map of Arab thought and culture in its multiple engagements with other cultures and will be useful for scholars and students of comparative literature Arabic studies and Middle Eastern studies intellectual thought and history

A New Old Damascus Christa Salamandra, 2004-12-10 Filled with rare encounters with Syria s oldest most elite families Critics of anthropology s taste for exoticism and marginality will savor this study of upper class Damascus a world that is urbane and cosmopolitan yet in many ways as remote as the settings in which the best ethnography has traditionally been done Written with a nuanced appreciation of the cultural forms in question and how Damascenes themselves think talk about and create them Andrew Shryock In contemporary urban Syria debates about the representation preservation and restoration of the Old City of Damascus have become part of status competition and identity construction among the city s elite In theme restaurants and nightclubs that play on images of Syrian tradition in television programs nostalgic literature and visual art and in the rhetoric of historic preservation groups the idea of the Old City has become a commodity for the consumption of tourists and most important of new and old segments of the Syrian upper class In this lively ethnographic study Christa Salamandra argues that in deploying and debating such representations Syrians dispute the past and criticize the present Indiana Series in Middle East Studies Mark Tessler general editor
