Fragments--incompletion & Discontinuity Lawrence D. Kritzman, Jeanine Parisier Plottel, 1981      Destination Culture Barbara Kirshenblatt-Gimblett, 1998-09-05 With the question What does it mean to show the author explores the agency of display in museums and tourist attractions She looks at how objects are made to perform their meaning by being collected and how techniques of display not just the things shown convey a powerful message      Debussy and the Fragment Linda Cummins, 2006 Rather than solid frames some less than perfect aesthetic objects have permeable membranes which allow them to diffuse effortlessly into the everyday world In the parallel universes of music and literature Linda Cummins extols the poetry of such imperfection She places Debussy's work within a tradition thriving on anti Aristotelian principles motley collections crumbling ruins real or fake monstrous hybrids patchwork and palimpsest hasty sketches ellipses truncated beginnings and endings meandering arabesques irrelevant digressions auto quotations Sensitive to the intermittences of memory and experience and with a keen ear for ironic intrusion Cummins draws the reader into the Western cultural past in search of the surprisingly ubiquitous aesthetic of the unfinished negatively silhouetted against expectations of rational coherence Theories popularized by Schlegel and embraced by the French Symbolists are only the first waypoint on an elaborately illustrated tour reaching back to Petrarch Cummins meticulously applies the derived results to Debussy's scores and finds convincing correlations in this chiasmatic crossover      Unfinished Business Brian Gordon Kennelly, 1997 This is the first study systematically to appraise Splendid's Elle and Le Baigneur the three plays by Jean Genet published after his death both in the context of the dramatist's dramatic canon and with respect to one another After showing that their unusual publishing history necessarily sets these works apart from Haute surveillance Les Bonnes Le Balcon Les Nègres and Les Paravents it argues that from Splendid to Le Baigneur the question of incompletion is exteriorized moving from a purely thematic to an increasingly formal context and that the status of each posthumously published work differs Splendid is a completed play thematizing incompletion Elle with its seemingly incomplete form having thematic currency is a properly unfinished play and as the intentionally fragmentary purposefully suspended beginning of a play Le Baigneur is shaped by incompletion      The Fragment Camelia Elias, 2004 This monograph is an interdisciplinary study of the concept of fragment in literature and in critical and literary theory It discusses the fragment's performativity and function within a historical perspective stretching from Heraclitus via the German Romantics and European writers of the Modernist period to American postmodern manifestations of the fragment This is the first history of the fragment to appear in English and it is also the first attempt at producing a consistent taxonomy of literary and critical fragments The fragments are categorised according to function not author intention and the study addresses a number of questions What constitutes the fragment when the fragment can only be defined a posteriori Does the fragment begin on its own or is it begun by others writers and critics Does it acquire a name of its own or is it labelled by others All these questions revolve around issues of agency and they are best discussed in terms of performativity which means seeing fragments as acts acts of literature acts of reading acts of writing The book demonstrates how a poetics of the fragment as a performative genre can be created situating the fragment both as literature and as a phenomenon within postmodern criticism against the background of philosophy art history and theology

Musing the Mosaic Matthew Roberson, 2012-02-01 In Musing the Mosaic prominent critics of postmodern and contemporary fiction and culture discuss the fictional and theoretical works of Ronald Sukenick one of the most important American writers to emerge from the late 1960s Sukenick has been a prolific participant in reshaping the American literary tradition for two generations and played a pivotal role in the creation and growth of the Fiction Collective and FC2 publishing houses as well as the journals American Book Review and Black Ice Magazine In his work he argues that contemporary fiction can neither perform traditional functions nor rely on any conventions in an ever more dynamic world Staying true to Sukenick s own creative style one that takes the seams out of writing before re stitching it in ways that are truly novel the contributors examine how and why his writing comes closer to the dissolving fragmentary nature of reality and its lack of closure than perhaps anything written before it

The Fragmented Novel in Mexico Carol Clark D'Lugo, 2010-01-01 From Mariano Azuela s 1915 novel Los de abajo to Rosamar a Roffiel s Amora of 1989 fragmented narrative has been one of the defining features of innovative Mexican fiction in the twentieth century In this innovative study Carol Clark D Lugo examines fragmentation as a literary strategy that reflects the social and political fissures within modern Mexican society and introduces readers to a more participatory reading of texts D Lugo traces defining moments in the development of Mexican fiction and the role fragmentation plays in each Some of the topics she covers are nationalist literature of the 1930s and 1940s self referential novels of the 1950s that focus on the process of reading and writing the works of Carlos Fuentes novels of La Onda that came out of rebellious 1960s Mexican youth culture gay and lesbian fiction and recent women s writings With its sophisticated theoretical methodology that encompasses literature and society this book serves as an admirable survey of the twentieth century Mexican novel It will be important reading for students of Latin American culture and history as well as literature

Women and Contemporary World Literature Deborah Fillerup Weagel,2009 Many women in cultures throughout the world exhibit resilience and power in the face of obstacles and vicissitudes From colonial New Spain to postcolonial Africa and India Women and Contemporary World Literature examines ways in which women in literature function within their specific culture and circumstances to confront the challenges they encounter In spite of fragmentation in their lives much like quiltmakers they piece together the scraps of their existence to form an integrated and complete whole With its focus on power fragmentation and metaphor and a strong interdisciplinary approach this book offers a unique perspective to scholars teachers and students of comparative literature contemporary world literature colonial and postcolonial literature women s studies interdisciplinary studies and literature and cultural studies

The Modern Satiric Grotesque and Its Traditions John R. Clark,2021-05-11 Thomas Mann predicted that no manner or mode in literature would be so typical or so pervasive in the twentieth century as the grotesque Assuredly he was correct The subjects and methods of our comic literature and much of our other literature are regularly disturbing and often repulsive no laughing matter In this ambitious study John R Clark seeks to elucidate the major tactics and topics deployed in modern literary dark humor In Part I he explores the satiric strategies of authors of the grotesque strategies that undercut conventional usage and form the de basement of heroes the denigration of language and style the disruption of normative narrative technique and even the debunking of authors themselves Part II surveys major recurrent themes of grotesquerie tedium scatology cannibalism dystopia and Armageddon or the end of the world Clearly the literature of the grotesque is obtrusive and ugly its effect morbid and disquieting and deliberately meant to be so Grotesque literature may be unpleasant but it is patently insightful Indeed as Clark shows all of the strategies and topics employed by this literature stem from age old and spirited traditions Critics have complained about this grim satiric literature asserting that it is dank cheerless unsavory and negative But such an interpretation is far too simplistic On the contrary as Clark demonstrates such grotesque writing in its power and its prevalence in the past and present is in fact conventional controlled imaginative and vigorous no mean achievements for any body of art

Circling the Canon, Volume I Marjorie Perloff,2019-11-15 One of our most important contemporary critics Marjorie Perloff has been a widely published and influential reviewer especially of poetry and poetics for over fifty years Circling the Canon Volume I covers roughly the first half of Perloff's career beginning with her first ever review on Anthony Hecht's The Hard Hours. The reviews in this volume culled from a wide range of scholarly journals, literary reviews, and national magazines trace the evolution of poetry in the mid to late twentieth century as well as the evolution of Perloff as a critic. Many of the authors whose works are reviewed in this volume are major figures such as W. B. Yeats, Ezra Pound, Sylvia Plath, and Frank O'Hara. Others including Mona Van Duyn and Richard Hugo were widely praised in their day but are now all but forgotten. Still others, David Antin, Edward Dorn, or the Language poets, exemplify an avant-garde that was to come into its own.

Designing Dead Souls Susanne Fusso, 1993. This strikingly original work presents an integral and inclusive explanatory model for the elusive narrative strategies of Gogol's Dead Souls. In the process, it draws larger conclusions about Gogol's creative methods and aesthetic concerns. Throughout his career, Gogol manifests two seemingly contradictory urges: the urge toward order, system, clarity, and wholeness, and the urge toward disorder, disruption, obscurity, and fragmentation. The author seeks to make a system, an anatomy of Gogol's impulses toward disorder and disruption in Dead Souls in all their various and distinctive aspects. In anatomizing Gogolian disorder, she explores the mythology of creativity and lying in Gogol, his at least literary fear of the family, the relation between the uses of obscurity in Dead Souls and the poetry of Russian Sentimentalism, especially Zhukovskii's Dead Souls as parable, and the mutually subversive relation between fiction and non-fiction in Gogol.

Jacques Derrida (Routledge Revivals) William Schultz, Lewis L.B. Fried, 2016-06-17. First published in 1992, this book represents the first major attempt to compile a bibliography of Derrida's work and scholarship about his work. It attempts to be comprehensive rather than selective, listing primary and secondary works from the year of Derrida's Master's thesis in 1954 up until 1991 and is extensively annotated. It arranges, under article type, a huge number of works from scholars across numerous fields, reflecting the interdisciplinary and controversial nature of Deconstruction. The substantial introduction and annotations also make this bibliography in part a critical guide, and as such, will make a highly useful reference tool for those studying his philosophy.

Inchbald, Hawthorne and the Romantic Moral Romance Ben P. Robertson, 2015-10-06. Explores the connections between British and American Romanticism, focusing on the novels of Elizabeth Inchbald (1753-1821) and Nathaniel Hawthorne (1804-1864). This study argues that Inchbald and Hawthorne are representative of a larger British-American cultural confluence during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries.

Nietzsche and the Question of Interpretation Alan Schrift, 2014-02-25. The first attempt at assessing the references to interpretation theory in the Nietzschean text.

Laurence Sterne in Modernism and Postmodernism David Pierce, Peter de Voogd, 2023-04-17. Laurence Sterne's Tristram Shandy is the most wayward and in some respects the most powerful critique of Locke's theory of knowledge, while his interest in the gulf between biological and clock time makes him a contemporary of Proust and Bergson. In obscuring the fine line between autobiography and fiction, Sterne belongs to the generation of modern writers that includes Joyce and Nabokov. In his deliberate refusal to construct a go-ahead plot, Sterne commends himself to contemporary narratologists In his concern with personal identity he anticipates the Derridean stress on trace In his promiscuous borrowings from past authors he offers himself as a suitably perverse model for the school of postmodern theory In his attention to matters of typography and to a visual language he provides a running commentary on almost every aspect of the relationship between word and image Himself influenced by Rabelais Montaigne Cervantes and Burton Sterne has influenced writers as diverse as Cabrera Infante Kundera Marquez Rushdie and Beckett And James Joyce These influences are traced here by sixteen scholars from Europe and the USA proof if any were needed that Laurence Sterne today is as rewardingly puzzling as he was in his own century      The Burdens of Intimacy Christopher Lane, 1999 Why does passion bewilder and torment so many Victorian protagonists And why do so many literary characters experience moments of ecstasy before their deaths In this original study Christopher Lane shows why Victorian fiction conveys both the pleasure and anguish of intimacy Examining works by Bulwer Lytton Swinburne Schreiner Hardy James Santayana and Forster he argues that these writers struggled with aspects of psychology that were undermining the utilitarian ethos of the Victorian age Lane discredits the conservative notion that Victorian literature expresses only a demand for repression and moral restraint But he also refutes historicist and Foucauldian approaches arguing that they dismiss the very idea of repression and end up denouncing psychoanalysis as complicit in various kinds of oppression These approaches Lane argues reduce Victorian literature to a drama about politics power and the ego Striving instead to reinvigorate discussions of fantasy and the unconscious Lane offers a clear often startling account of writers who grapple with the genuine complexities of love desire and friendship
