Culler, 1988 Culler English and comparative literature Cornell begins with an historical overview of the relationship between criticism and the academy and explores what has come to characterize contemporary theory Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR     Shelley Michael O'Neill, 2014-09-19 Attacked by T S Eliot and F R Leavis Shelley's poetry has over the last few decades enjoyed a revival of critical interest His radical politics and arrestingly original poetic strategies have been studied from a variety of perspectives formalist deconstructionist new historicist feminist and others Of all the Romantics Shelly has benefited most from the so called theoretical revolution as is borne out by the wide range of recent critical work represented in this volume The 134 essays selected analyse many of Shelley's finest poems including Alastor Julian and Maddalo Prometheus Unbound Adonais and The Triumph of Life Michael O'Neill's informed Introduction explores the contours of this debate Detailed headnotes to the individual essays explanations of difficult terms and a further reading section provide invaluable guides to the reader This collection illuminates the enduring and contemporary significance of the work of a major poet     Adventure Journalism in the Gilded Age Katrina J. Quinn, Mary M. Cronin, Lee Jolliffe, 2021-07-13 These new essays tell the stories of daring reporters male and female sent out by their publishers not to capture the news but to make the news indeed to achieve star billing and to capitalize on the Gilded Age public's craze for real life adventures into the exotic and unknown They examine the adventure journalism genre through the work of iconic writers such as Mark Twain and Nellie Bly as well as lesser known journalistic masters such as Thomas Knox and Eliza Scidmore who took to the rivers and oceans mineshafts and mountains rails and trails of the late nineteenth century shaping Americans' perceptions of the world and of themselves     Social Justice Susan Magarey, 1998 Egg heads in an ivory tower Dreary boffins carrying out useless research at the tax payer's expense Computer nerds Do such figures make you think of people working in humanities and social sciences in universities This book shows just how wrong such representations are     Italy's Sea Valerie McGuire, 2020-11-30 For much of the twentieth century the Mediterranean was a colonized sea Italy's Sea Empire and Nation in the Mediterranean 1895-1945 reintegrates Italy one of the least studied imperial states into the history of European colonialism It takes a critical approach to the concept of the Mediterranean in the period of Italian expansion and examines how within and through the Mediterranean Italians navigated issues of race nation and migration troubling them at home as well as transnational questions about sovereignty identity and national belonging created by the decline and collapse of the Ottoman empire in North Africa the Balkans and the eastern Mediterranean or Levant While most studies of Italian colonialism center on the encounter in Africa Italy's Sea describes another set of colonial identities that accrued in and around the Aegean region of the Mediterranean ones linked not to resettlement projects or to the rhetoric of reclaiming Roman empire but to cosmopolitan imaginaries of Magna Graecia the medieval Christian crusades the Venetian and Genoese maritime empires and finally of religious diversity and transnational

Levantine Jewish communities that could help render cultural and political connections between the Italian nation at home and the overseas empire in the Mediterranean Using postcolonial critique to interpret local archival and oral sources as well as Italian colonial literature film architecture and urban planning the book brings to life a history of mediterraneit or Mediterraneanness in Italian culture one with both liberal and fascist associations and enriches our understanding of how contemporary Italy as well as Greece may imagine their relationships to Europe and the Mediterranean today The Blackwell Guide to Aesthetics Peter Kivy, 2009-02-09 The Blackwell Guide to Aesthetics is the most authoritative survey of the central issues in contemporary aesthetics available The volume features eighteen newly commissioned papers on the evaluation of art the interpretation of art and many other forms of art such as literature movies and music Provides a guide to the central traditional and cutting edge issues in aesthetics today Written by a distinguished cast of contributors including Peter Kivy George Dickie No 1 Carroll Paul Guyer Ted Cohen Marcia Eaton Joseph Margolis Berys Gaut Nicholas Wolterstorff Susan Feagin Peter Lamarque Stein Olsen Francis Sparshott Alan Goldman Jenefer Robinson Mary Mothersill Donald Crawford Philip Alperson Laurent Stern and Amie Thomasson Functions as the ideal text for undergraduate and graduate courses in aesthetics art theory and philosophy of art Age of Fracture Daniel T. Rodgers, 2012-09-03 In the last quarter of the twentieth century the ideas that most Americans lived by started to fragment Mid century concepts of national consensus managed markets gender and racial identities citizen obligation and historical memory became more fluid Flexible markets pushed aside Keynesian macroeconomic structures Racial and gender solidarity divided into multiple identities community responsibility shrank to smaller circles In this wide ranging narrative Daniel Rodgers shows how the collective purposes and meanings that had framed social debate became unhinged and uncertain Age of Fracture offers a powerful reinterpretation of the ways in which the decades surrounding the 1980s changed America Through a contagion of visions and metaphors on both the intellectual right and the intellectual left earlier notions of history and society that stressed solidity collective institutions and social circumstances gave way to a more individualized human nature that emphasized choice agency performance and desire On a broad canvas that includes Michel Foucault Ronald Reagan Judith Butler Charles Murray Jeffrey Sachs and many more Rodgers explains how structures of power came to seem less important than market choice and fluid selves Cutting across the social and political arenas of late twentieth century life and thought from economic theory and the culture wars to disputes over poverty color blindness and sisterhood Rodgers reveals how our categories of social reality have been fractured and destabilized As we survey the intellectual wreckage of this war of ideas we better understand the emergence of our present age of uncertainty Avant-garde Orientalism David Le Hardy Sweet, 2017-01-20 This study explores the work of Western avant garde writers who traveled to and wrote about Asia and North Africa Though exoticist in outlook many of these writers were also anti colonialist and thus avoided some of the pitfalls of academic orientalism by assuming an aesthetics of diversity while employing strategies of provocation and reciprocity As a survey of works on travel including essays novels poems and plays the book challenges or modifies many postcolonial assumptions about Western writers on the Orient from the French Surrealists to the American Beats and even transnational authors of the new millennium Through a synthesis of avant garde postcolonial and travel literature theories Avant garde Orientalism works in the best tradition of comparative literary study to identify and analyze a distinct category of world literature

Tribals, Empire and God Zhodi Angami, 2017-04-06 Tribal biblical interpretation is a developing area of study that is concerned with reading the Bible through the eyes of tribal people While many studies of reading the Bible from the reader's social cultural and historical location have been made in various parts of the world no thorough study that offers a coherent and substantive methodology for tribal biblical interpretation has been made This book is the first comprehensive work that offers a description of tribal biblical interpretation and shows its application by making a lucid reading of Matthew's infancy narrative from a tribal reader's perspective Using reader response criticism as his primary method Zhodi Angami brings his tribal context of North East India into conversation with Matthew's account of the birth of Jesus Since tribal people of North East India see themselves as living under colonial rule a tribal reader sees Matthew's text as a narrative that actively resists and subverts imperial rule Likewise the tribal experience of living at the margins inspires a tribal reader to look at the narrative from the underside from the perspective of those who are sidelined ignored belittled or forgotten Tribal biblical interpretation presented here follows a process of conversation between tribal worldview and Matthew's narrative Such a method animates the text for the tribal reader and makes the biblical narrative not only more intelligible to the tribal reader but allows the text to speak directly to the tribal context

Heidegger and Criticism William V. Spanos, 1993 In Heidegger and Criticism Retrieving the Cultural Politics of Destruction William Spanos examines the controversy both in Europe and the United States surrounding Heidegger and recent disclosures about his Nazi past Not intended as a defense or apology for Heidegger's thought Spanos instead affirms the importance of Heidegger's antihumanist interrogation of the modern age its globalization of technology and its neo imperialist politics The attack on Heidegger's antihumanistic discourse by liberal humanists who have imported the European debate into the United States aligns ideologically with the ongoing policing operations of William Bennett Allan Bloom E D Hirsch Roger Kimball Dinesh D Souza and others in the spheres of higher education and cultural production Throughout his arguments Spanos focuses not so much on Heidegger the historical subject as on the transformative cultural and political discourses and practices implicit in and enabled by Heidegger's interrogations of Being and Time that have led to the contemporary emergence of the multiplicity of resistant Others colonized by hegemonic discursive formations All the while he reminds us that Heidegger's philosophic interrogations eventually generate a diverse body of transgressive writing and an oppositional intellectual climate in the West Spanos is author of Repetitions the Postmodern Occasion in Literature and Culture 1987 and The End of Education Toward Posthumanism Minnesota 1992 and the editor of Martin Heidegger and the Question in Literature 1980 and the co editor of

Callahan, 2022-01-25 Art Archive provides an in depth analysis of the connection between art and the archive at the turn of the twenty first century The book examines how the archive emerged in art writing in the mid 1990s and how its subsequent ubiquity can be understood in light of wider social technological philosophical and art historical conditions and concerns Deftly combining writing on archives from different disciplines with artistic practices the book clarifies the function and meaning of one of the most persistent artworld buzzwords of recent years shedding light on the conceptual and historical implications of the so called archival turn in contemporary art      England in 1819 James Chandler, 1999-06-26 1819 was the annus mirabilis for many British Romantic writers and the annus terribilis for demonstrators protesting the state of parliamentary representation In 1819 Keats wrote what many consider his greatest poetry This was the year of Shelley's Prometheus Unbound The Cenci and Ode to the West Wind Wordsworth published his most widely reviewed work Peter Bell and the craze for Walter Scott's historical novels reached its zenith Many of these writings explicitly engaged with the politics of representation in 1819 especially the great movement for reform that was fueled by threats of mass emigration to America and came to a head that August with an unprovoked attack on unarmed men women and children in St Peter's Field Manchester a massacre that journalists dubbed Peterloo But the year of Peterloo in British history is notable for more than just the volume value and topicality of its literature Much of the writing from 1819 argues James Chandler was acutely aware not only of its place in history but also of its place as history a realization of a literary spirit of the age that resonates strongly with the current return to history in literary studies Chandler explores the ties between Romantic and contemporary historicism such as the shared tendency to seize a single dated event as both important on its own and as a case testing general principles To animate these issues Chandler offers a series of cases of his own built around key texts from 1819

Ideas to Live For Giles Gunn, 2015-09-22 Over the course of his distinguished interdisciplinary career Giles Gunn has sustained his focus on the continuing threats to our collective sense of the human that seem to result from the link between the collision of fundamental values and the increase of systemic violence He asks whether such threats can be at least mitigated even if not removed by understanding as opposed to force and what resources a more pragmatic cosmopolitanism might provide for doing so How in other words might our sense of the human be reconstructed not around suspicion or antipathy toward others but around an epistemological and moral need of them In this narrativized collection of his essays Gunn introduces each one with a set of comments designed to explain his goal when first writing them and what they mean to him now The variety of issues he addresses ranges from the theory of culture and cultural criticism particularly in America the philosophy of inter and cross disciplinary studies and the psychology and politics of pragmatism to the ethics of human solidarity the place of culture in the misshaping of international affairs and the quest of both religion and culture for a new basis for the normative Reading as Collective Action Nicholas Hengen Fox, 2017-10 Reading as Collective Action examines literature's power to reshape our world in very public and very active ways Whether through readers publicly posting poems of Shakespeare and Amiri Baraka to criticize the Bush administration forming a community reading program using Grapes of Wrath to organize support during the recent Great Recession or taking to public transit to talk with strangers about working class literature this book challenges dominant academic modes of reading For adherents of the civic turn it suggests how we can create more politically effective forms of service learning and community engagement grounded in commitment to tactical grassroots actions from back cover Photo Archives and the Place of Photography Geraldine A. Johnson, Deborah Schultz, 2025-02-07 This collection of chapters investigates the effects of mobility and place on a range of photographic archives and explores their potential for cross disciplinary dialogue The book explores photographic images used in the study of art as well as the implications of placing European images of non European cultures in an archive library or museum It also addresses questions of digital space which renders images more visually accessible but further complicates issues relating to location The contributors consider these issues through case studies based on a variety of archives institutions and disciplines Just as photographs are conceived as unstable objects so conventional borders between disciplines and locations are challenged and opened up with chapters drawing on a range of disciplinary theories and practices The focus of the individual chapters is global as seen in contributions not only on Euro American topics but also on Orientalizing approaches to photographing the Ancient Near East photographic archives of Bedouin subjects and digital photographic archives in an Iranian context This book will be of interest to scholars of art history visual and cultural studies anthropology and archaeology as well as those working on the history and theory of photography and histories and theories of the archive
