FARRAND, 2018      The Framing of the Constitution of the United States Max Farrand, 2017-06-17 Max Farrand March 29 1869 June 17 1945 was an American historian who taught at several universities and was the first director of the Huntington Library. Farrand taught at Wesleyan University then after several years at Stanford University and a year at Cornell University he became a professor of history at Yale University 1908 1925. His particular area of interest and expertise was the Founding Fathers, the organization of the United States after the American Revolutionary War. Farrand was also director of the Commonwealth Fund founded in 1918 by Anna M. Harkness, widow of Stephen V. Harkness, investor in Standard Oil who wanted to do something for the welfare of mankind. Max Farrand also assisted philanthropist Henry E. Huntington to establish the Huntington Library which is located on the historic Rancho Huerta de Cuati in San Marino near Pasadena, California. After Huntington's death, Farrand became the library's first director serving until 1941.      The Framing of the Constitution of the United States, 1913      The Framing of the Constitution of the United States (Classic Reprint) Max Farrand, 2015-07-09 Excerpt from The Framing of the Constitution of the United States. For over ten years the writer has been engaged in collecting and editing the material available upon the work of the convention that framed the constitution of the United States. Collating of texts is a wearisome and often merely a mechanical task, but in the process the editor becomes more or less familiar with the content of the documents. In the present instance the form in which the work finally shaped itself required a knowledge of the proceedings of the convention not merely as a whole but from day to day and it necessitated a familiarity with the thought and expressions of the individual members. When to this was added an acquaintance with the personalities of the more important delegates a mental picture of the convention was formed which developed into a conviction as to what the delegates were trying to do and what they actually accomplished It is with no idea of attempting the final history of the formation of the constitution that the present book is written About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
