No End of Guilty Creatures David P. Simmons, 2011-05-16 THE TROUBLE BEGAN ON GRANITE LEDGE FARM WHEN NATE BREWSTER WAS FOUND DEAD face down on the ledge where the ladder fell from the barn roof with him on it His wife Patience contends it was nothing more than an unfortunate accident The authorities believe otherwise and charge her brother in law and her two nephews with murder The court convicts only one man But insurance investigator Benjamin B Beach is more tenacious and he refuses to believe the conclusions Beach is positive Nates fall was not an accident the real killer was not identified and Patience was covering up for her relatives in court So the arrogant man attacks the vulnerable woman fully expecting to extract the truth by grilling her for the facts Drawing support from Cleve an attentive neighbor whose wife has left him and Molly her devoted English setter and best friend Patience resists her latest aggressor and defends her dysfunctional clan Disguising shocking conflicts within the family wily Patience duels with Beach As the resilient woman skillfully manipulates her interrogator away from the truth she reconsiders the familys hidden secrets and choosing the high road she escapes from her life of oppression in a way she never expected Guilty Creatures Mikita the novelist and an exploration of the potential for adaptive performance of the novels themselves John Glavin conducts a historical inquiry into Dickens s relationship to the theatre and theatricality of his own time and uncovers a much more ambivalent often hostile relationship than has hitherto been noticed In this context Dickens s novels can be seen as a form of counter performance one which would allow the author to perform without being seen or scrutinized But Glavin also identifies a rich performative potential in Dickens s fiction and describes new ways to stage that fiction in emotionally powerful critically acute adaptations The book as a whole therefore offers a reading of Dickens through an unusual alliance between literary criticism and theatrical performance J.B. Priestley: Plays Three J. B. Priestley, 2012-09-03 Music at Night centres on a group of people attending a musical evening to hear a new work Each act follows a movement in the music which inspires the listeners to react each in their own way looking inside themselves for their true feelings and sometimes remembering significant moments from their past As often in Priestley's work the relations between the sexes play an important part a theme which recurs in the other two plays The Long Mirror recounts the meeting between a composer and a young woman who seems to have been telepathically connected to him for some time and has experienced much of his life before actually meeting him Her knowledge of his past can help his future as an artist and a husband It was based on a true incident Ever Since Paradise he described as A Discursive Entertainment chiefly referring to Love and Marriage in Three Acts Three couples are made up of The Musicians the Commentators and The Example and together they illustrate various aspects of relationships accompanied by appropriate music on two pianos The Connecticut evangelical magazine, 1804
